GIRL FATALLY HURT BY TRUCK AT NOON

Pearson Street Girl Is Killed By Auto Truck

Machine Backs Over Her Unbeknown To Truck Driver.

NO CHILDREN SEEN BEFORE ACCIDENT

Girl, Iolando Russo, 3 Years Of Age, Is Instantly Killed In Mishap.

Iolanda Russo, aged 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicola Russo, 512 Pearson street, was instantly killed at noon today when run over by a truck operated by Harold Shuler, rear 710 Chestnut street, employed as a driver for the W. F. Dufford company. The truck passed over the girl's head. So far as could be learned there were no witnesses to the unfortunate accident.

According to Shuler, he operated the furniture truck, south through Pearson street, as he had a rug to deliver to a Pearson street home. He parked the truck in front of a touring car, a short distance beyond the intersection of Pearson street and Blunston avenue.

Backs Truck

"I delivered the rug and came out of the house. I walked around the rear of my truck. I got into the truck and commenced backing slowly on account of the touring car being behind me. I intended to back so that I could make a turn into Blunston avenue.

"I backed about the length of the truck and I looked out and saw the little girl lying in the street. I carried the child to the sidewalk and summoned Mrs. Roberts, to whom I had delivered a rug."

Shuler says that when he came from the house and passed in the rear of the truck to get into it, he saw no children anywhere.

He was so nervous following the accident he was unable to drive his truck.

France Protests Actions Of Mob

Anti - French Demonstrations In Italy Cause Matter Of Official Protest.

(International News Service)
PARIS, Sept. 15.—France has made three energetic protests to Italy against anti-French demonstrations which have occurred in Italy since the attempt to assassinate Premier Mussolini, the foreign office announced today.

Following the announcement that Gino Lucetti, the would be assassin of Mussolini had been in exile in France. Crowds gathered before the French consulate at Livourne and Trieste and stoned the consulates and hissed the occupants, the foreign office stated.

These actions, together with the comment of the Italian press and the speech made by Premier Mussolini warning foreign nations against harboring anti-Fascists, have caused the French government to register repeated protests, Premier Poincare himself making protest to the Italian ambassador to France.

Award Contracts For Eight Room Addition To McGill School

Contracts for the erection of an eight room addition to the Arthur McGill School were let Tuesday evening when the New Castle School Board met.

The general contract was awarded to George W. Lusk at his bid of $76,100.00, the plumbing contract to the Stevenson Company at their bid of $4,568.00, and the electric wiring bid to the Marvin Electric Company at their bid of $2,600.00. Because of some changes which will have to be made, the contract for the heating and ventilating was not let, all bids being rejected. New bids will be asked.

All Local Firms

It is a rather pleasing thing to know that all the successful bidders are New Castle concerns. The successful bidder for the general contract, George W. Lusk, built the McGill school as it is today and it is rather a coincidence that he gets the contract to enlarge it to the splendid building it will be.

Other bids on the general contract were R. A. Eckles, $94,167.00; L. A. Haug, Jr., $83,206.00; A. A. Hoyland, $78,797.00; Nicholas Miller, $80,805.00; Smith and Bauman, $79,975.00 and Albert C. Lusk, $95,200.00.

The Bradford Plumbing Company was the only other bidder on the plumbing aside from the Stevenson Company. The Bradford bid was $5,780.00.

For the wiring, two other concerns besides the Marvin Company bid. The bids were, Bartley Electric Company, $2,987.00 and the Delmer Electric Company, $2,600.00.

On the heating there were four bids, the W. M. Clark Company being low at $15,438.00. Other bidders were Bradford Plumbing Company, $19,812.00; W. J. Scholl Company, $16,990.00 and The Stevenson Company, $17,607.00.

Board Purchases Site For Proposed New Junior High

Nine And Half Acres Near Euclid And Carlisle Streets Secured.

MEMBERS AUTHORIZE PURCHASE TUESDAY

Plans For Building Will Be Prepared--May Let Contract In Spring.

Definite steps towards the erection of a new junior high school building in New Castle, to replace the present North Street Junior High school were taken Tuesday evening, September 14 when the Board of School Directors authorized the purchase of several parcels of land lying between Mercer street on the west, Euclid avenue on the south, Carlysle street on the east and the property of the Stewart Thompson heirs on the north.

The price to be paid for the parcels totals $25,820.00, with two small pieces yet to be purchased. These are expected to increase the aggregate but little. In area the land is about 9½ acres, and will be one unbroken stretch running between Mercer and Carlysle streets.

Preliminary Steps Immediately

The secretary of the board, Hugh M. Marquis, was authorized to secure the services of an engineer to draw a contour map of the property, to aid the architect, A. L. Thayer in drawing plans for the new building.

The work on specifications will start immediately and it is expected that bids will be asked in the March meeting of 1927, and let in the April meeting. Assuming that no untoward delays are encountered, the new building will be ready for occupancy about September 1, 1928, according to Architect A. L. Thayer. With the building of this new junior high school, it is anticipated that the Martin Gantz school will be abandoned and the present North Street Junior High school taken over by the Martin Gantz pupils.

The land to be purchased is in four pieces. One piece belongs to

Plan Dismissal Of Dry Agents

MAY BE HELD FOR ALLEGED RAIDS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—Earl Farner and Amith Moore, dry agents stationed at Uniontown, Pa., will be discharged from the prohibition enforcement service, and may possibly be held for county authorities as the result of their alleged raids on three farms near Greensburg, Pa., without warrants John D. Pennington, enforcement director for western Pennsylvania said here today.

Pennington, who was highly incensed at reports that the two agents had handcuffed Earl Krobok, farmer, to his automobile, and raided his farm, indicated that he had received reports on the case from F. I. Williams, his investigator, the nature of which would justify discharge of the two agents.

"There is a possibility that the two men will be held to determine whether or not they violated any criminal statutes during their raid," Pennington said.

Governor Pinchot Appoints Martin Allegheny Judge

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today announced the appointment of Richard W. Martin of Pittsburgh, member of the state public service commission, as a judge in common pleas court of Allegheny county. He will succeed Mayor Charles H. Kline of Pittsburgh, who resigned the position last January when he became mayor.

With the appointment of Martin all judge vacancies in the state were filled, the governor recently having appointed a judge on the York county bench and another in Allegheny county.

Premier King Returns To Power In Canada

(International News Service)
OTTOWA, Ont., Sept. 15. — As an aftermath of the defeat of the Meighen ministry in the general elections yesterday, which will see Premier Mackenzie King returned to power, it was indicated today that King and his ministry when sworn in will immediately have a Royal commission investigation of smuggling between Canada and United States and will confer with General Andrews of the United States prohibition forces to halt the flow of liquor across the border.

Today the high lights of the landslide that ousted the Meighen ministry are:

King will have 118 liberal followers in the new parliament.

As a consequence, the balance of power in the new house will again be held by progressives, progressive-liberals, laborites and independents.

Meighen has been defeated in Portage La Prairie, his former constituency.

The present indications are that the conservative representation in the house will be 80.

Meighen is expected to summon a meeting of his cabinet at once to prepare for the government's resignation.

Defeat of the ministry and of the conservative high tariff has been fairly decisive. The premier himself has gone down with five of his ministers, his party failed to make a breach in the Quebec liberal citadel and in every province excepting Nova Scotia and British Columbia, conservatism rolled up before the onslaught of King and his auxiliaries.

Mexican Film Star Threatens Suit Over Charge She Aided Mex Rebel

Dolores Del Rio , beautiful society leader and a member of one of Mexico's "first families," who came to Hollywood a year ago to fulfill a movie contract, is threatening to bring a libel suit against a Mexican paper published in San Diego which carried a story saying she furnished a $20,000 bail bond for the release of General Enrique Estrada, leader of a rebel army recently captured with arms and ammunition as they were about to attack Lower California. Miss Del Rio demands a retraction and has cabled President Calles asking his aid.

McFATE TO HEAD CHEST

Elected As President Of Community Chest For Coming Year.

J. Lee McFate was elected president of the New Castle Community Chest at the organization meeting held by the board of directors.

Former president, Thomas H. Hartman was elected to the vice presidency and C. D. Parker was named secretary. The Safe Deposit and Trust company was continued as treasurer.

The 18 directors elected by the delegates from the various interested institutions a week ago took part in the election.

The meeting and election of the new directorate was held jointly with a regular meeting of the old board when the routine business of the Community Chest including periodical disbursements were made.

No date for the Community Chest campaign was set at the meeting but this matter is expected to be decided upon at a meeting in the near future. The meeting was held in the chest headquarters in the Safe Deposit and Trust company building on North Mercer street.

GREEN WINS IN MICHIGAN

Governor Groesbeck, Out For Fourth Term Is Far Behind In Eearly Returns.

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15.—Fred W. Green, mayor of Ionia, winner of the Republican nomination for governor in yesterday's primary election, continued today to pile up his lead over Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck, fourth term aspirant. Lieut. Gov. George W. Welsh, was battling with Luren D. Dickinson for second place on the ticket.

Green came into Wayne county, (in the past a Groesbeck stronghold) with a majority of 127,000 and was holding it as the vote was being tabulated slowly.

The vote:—2196 precincts out of 2935 for governor gives: Green 298,755. Groesbeck 171,310.

Lewis Returns From Convention

Sam Lewis of the Williams-Cleveland agency has returned from Chicago where he attended a convention of the Quarter Million Dollar club of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company.

The convention was held in the Edgewater Beach hotel and in addition to being the representative from Lawrence county Mr. Lewis was on the program of the convention.

Vermont Voters Nominate Weeks

(International News Service)
MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 15.—The Republican nomination for governor was won by Ex-Judge John E. Weeks of Middlebury, in a three-cornered contest, primary returns revealed today. The vote was:

Weeks, 23,230; former State Senator Max W. Powell, 14,487, and Lieut. Gov. Walter K. Farnsworth, 10,033.

In the only other hot contest—that for the Republican congressional nomination in the first district, the vote was Congressman Elbert S. Bingham, 10,213, and State Senator Martin S. Vilas, 5,225.

Withers Resigns Membership In School Board

Formal Resignation Is Presented And Accepted At Meeting Last Night.

BOARD TO NAME HIS SUCCESSOR

Resignation Comes As Surprise To Other Members Of Board.

At the meeting of the New Castle School Board held Tuesday evening, the resignation of Robert T. Withers, a member of the board was presented and accepted.

The resignation was unexpected and was received at the office of the secretary only a few hours before the meeting of the board convened. There was no discussion of the resignation, the board accepting it with one dissenting vote, that of Andrew Dietterle. The letter of resignation which is self explanatory, follows:

New Castle, Pa.,
September 14, 1926.

School District of the City of New Castle.

Mr. James K. Love, President,

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Board:

I herewith tender you my resignation as a member of the Board of School Directors of the School District of the City of New Castle, to take effect immediately.

I have not, neither could I expect in the near future, to be in harmony with the majority of the board and as harmony is essential for the best interest of the children and taxpayers, I take this action in the hope that harmony may be brought about.

ROBERT T. WITHERS.

The board has thirty days in which to appoint a successor to Mr. Withers and whoever this will be, will serve until a general municipal election can be held. This will be in the fall of 1927 so that the successor will serve about a year.

Mr. Withers was elected in November 1925 and took office shortly after.

Steamer Sinks During Storm

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The British freighter loyal citizen sank in a tropical storm off the Florida coast during the night and her crew of thirty are afloat in lifeboats or drowned, according to information received today by naval communications from the Dutch tanker Denbaag.

The tanker captain reported he answered the S. O. S. call from the sinking freighter but saw no sign of it when he reached her position given in the distress signal.

Weller Holds Slight Lead In Jersey Primary

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Senator O. E. Weller and Representative Philip Hill, his "wringing wet opponent", were running a neck-and-neck race today for the Republican senatorial nomination, as late returns drifted in from outlying districts.

At an early hour this morning Weller had a slight lead and claimed the nomination.

EAST BROOK FARMER DIES AS RESULT OF ATTACK NEAR HOME

Two New Castle Men And Woman In Custody, Charged With Crime.

ALTERCATION OCCURS IN LANE AT FARM

Joseph Richeal, 58, Victim Of Blow On Head—Three Arrested Deny Charge.

Charges of murder were made this morning before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton by County Detective George S. Kennedy against Clifford Johnson, Gilbert Blackford and Mrs. Minnie Clements. When the charges were read to the three defendants, they all pleaded not guilty and were remanded to the county jail without bail to await a hearing to be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the office of Alderman Hamilton. Coroner J. P. Caldwell will hold an inquest at the same time and place.

Joseph Richeal, aged 58, widely known farmer of the East Brook road district in Hickory township, east of the city, is dead, as a result of an evident murderous assault last night about eight o'clock Eastern Standard time, with an object, which has not as yet been fully determined.

He was struck on the head during an argument with three persons, two men and a woman, whom he found trespassing on his own and a neighbor's land, and whom he thought might be taking corn and other farm products. His two sons, William, aged 15, and David, aged 18, were with him at the time.

Hold Three in Jail.

At the county jail Sheriff H. M. Reynolds has in custody three persons, held for investigation of their alleged connection with the death of Mr. Richeal. They were arrested within approximately an hour after the occurrence.

They are Clifford E. Johnson, 924 Maryland avenue, owner and driver of the machine, whom the sons of the dead man allege struck the blow that killed their father; Gilbert Blackford, 138 Hillcrest avenue, and Mrs. Minnie Clements, 628 East Long avenue. The persons under arrest deny that any blows were struck by them.

The nature of the charges to be made against the two men will be determined following an investigation by County Detective George S.

Senator Caraway Urges President Act On War Debt

Arkansas Senator Returns From European Trip Bitter Toward France.

URGES COOLIDGE TO ISSUE ULTIMATUM

Will Propose Legislation To Have Bodies Of American Soldiers Brought Home.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A challenge to President Coolidge to demand from France payment in full or "complete repudiation" of her $4,000,000,000 war debt was voiced here today by Senator T. H. Caraway, (D., of Arkansas), just returned from an European tour.

Much incensed at the Anti-American sentiment in France, Caraway declared the present debt funding agreement, "cancelling half the debt" and giving the French people 62 years to "pay the remainder," should be abandoned. He called on the President to take this action and issue an ultimatum to France to "pay in full or repudiate in full" the money loaned her by the American people during the war. No other course, said Caraway, will restore American prestige abroad.

Caraway Incensed

Like a half dozen other members of the overseas delegation of the senate, Caraway returned from France filled with resentment against the French government and French people. He took offense not only at the French government's attitude on the debt question but toward the "contemptuous disregard" of the French people for the nation which helped them during the war.

"As every other American, it is unthinkable to suggest cancellation of the French debt," said Caraway. "I feel President Coolidge has an opportunity of a lifetime to

Three days till the whistle blows, and the pigskin sails in the air, three days more till the season starts, and brother I'm going to be there. Up in the stands with the rabid fans, who root for the team to win, up with the folks who are loyal and true, when the fotball tussle begins. Three more days till the game begins, the game that is mainly sport, and the three days wait will be anxious ones, days that I hope are short. And then for the whistle that sends them in, to scrimmage and grub and fight, on a field that dirties their uniforms, and leaves the players a sight. Three days till we're out there folks, rooting like me and you, for eleven men who will fight to win, the weather is eighty-two.

Make Special Charge To Grand Jury In Hall-Mills Murder

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 15.—State Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker, who recently ruled that a prima facie case had ben established against the three defendants in the Hall-Mills murder mystery, today made a special charge to the grand jury which will be asked to return indictments.

"For reasons satisfactory to the court", Justice Parker told the jurors, "you have been recalled here today for the special purpose of considering the evidence relating to the alleged murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, some four years ago, with a view of ascertaining whether one or more indictments ought to be found in this matter, and if so, who should be the parties indicted.

"Three persons up to this time have been arrested charged with the crime; the first is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the deceased clergyman, who is out on bail; the other two are her brother, Willie Stevens, and her cousin, Henry Carpender, who are held wihout bail."

Hope To Reach Entombed Miners Some Time Today

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Reports at noon today from rescue crews attempting to reach eight men imprisoned 300 feet below the bed of the Missouri river in a tunnel, indicated rescue of the men or recovery of them would not be accomplished before this afternoon, according to Charles S. Forman, general superintendent of the city water department. Drillers had encountered heavy falls of rock.

WIFE KILLS HUSBAND AND ENDS BEATINGS

MASONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 15.—After being knocked down by her husband, Michael Megansic, in their home at New Geneva, last night, Mrs. Princess Megansic fired two shots at him and inflicted wounds from which he died soon after.

Megansic and his wife quarreled earlier in the evening and Mrs. Megansic told police she was put into the street. She returned, and her husband knocked her to the floor. As she reached her feet, she said, he was about to strike her again when she opened fire. One bullet struck him on the right shoulder, the other entered his head.

Mrs. Megansic walked to the home of a neighbor where she remained several hours. She then said that she had shot her husband and he was found dead, on the porch. Mrs. Megansic said her husband had been beating her for 25 years. She is held pending the action of a coroner's jury.

Slight Accidents Reported To Police

William G. Gwin of R. D. No. 8 reported to the police Tuesday that he was driving north on Jefferson street hill at Wallace avenue, when a truck of the Keystone Transfer company turning south on Jefferson street from Wallace avenue, cut the corner and ran into and damaged his machine.

M. Levine of 1306 Highland avenue, reported Tuesday that while driving south on Croton avenue, that his machine was in a collision with a car bearing Pennsylvania license 481-888 and owned by C. C. Campbell going west on Washington street. Some damage was done.

Henry McNicholas 837 Beckford street, reported that he was driving east on North street at Rebecca Way Tuesday, when a wagon pulled out of Rebecca Way and the tongue hit and damaged the side of his machine.

RECKLESS DRIVER FINED BY ALDERMAN

OIL CITY, Pa., Sept. 15.—The Continental Refining company of this city is expending $150,000 on the remodeling, modernizing and enlarging of its refinery here.

FAITH IN NATURE GAVE HIM HEALTH

Joseph Hasulak, 17 West Terrace Ave., City, employed by the New Castle Works, owes the good health and the happiness he is now enjoying to the faith he had in some day finding the means of relieving the appendix trouble from which he suffered for years and refusing to give up his search for it.

"The All-wise Creator provided growing plants and weeds that cure all manner of other ills and I was certain that He had not failed to produce something in Nature that would relieve my appendicitis," he told Mr. Dyar.

"I had tried many things," continued Mr. Hasulak, "including a number of doctors, but in spite of all, I continued to suffer until I heard about World Medicine Company's search of the world for medicinal roots and herbs and the wonderful discoveries of their scientists. I always had great faith in natural medicines and so I bought a bottle of World's Tonic and began taking it.

"Within seven days all signs of my appendicitis had disappeared and I felt like a new man. Not only that but the bloating distress after eating, headaches and stomach misery from which I suffered as well, also disappeared. I gained in flesh, too, and am thankful that I found this great gift of Nature for the relief I have obtained from it is worth a thousand times the small amount it cost me. I earnestly advise every suffering person to try it."

Such stories as this come to Mr. Dyar every day from grateful people whom World's Tonic has relieved of some affliction, ill or misery, and he has literally thousands of letters like them in his files from people all over the country!

World's Tonic is sold at $1.00 a bottle at Smith's Drug Store on S. Mill street, also Paisley's and Eckerd's and all other good drug stores, also demonstrated every night at the big free minstrel show, corner of Court and Ray streets at 7:30 p. m.

The third is owned by Pearl White Lyons and will cost $1520.00, and the fourth is owned by Jay Crawford White and will cost $4560.00. Two small pieces are yet to be secured. The property will have a frontage on Euclid avenue of about 440 feet.

Minority Report Heard

The decision to purchase the land was not unanimous, Mrs. Rose M. Northdruft, a member of the building committee presenting a minority report. In it she said that in her opinion the property was too inaccessible to the patrons of the school. Lying as it does between Wilmington and Highland avenues, Mrs. Northdurft said that it was inconvenient for the West Side and Martin Gantz districts, and was inaccessible to many of the patrons of the North Hill.

She recommended the purchase of the I. N. Phillips property which fronts on the west side of Wilmington avenue, just north of the residences of Charles and Marlen Matthews. This is some 13 acres in size and Mrs. Nothdurft suggested that the school could be built on the elevated part of the property and the ravine below could be utilized for an athletic field.

Not Suited

Attorney Charles H. Young and Andrew Dietterle, Sr., replied to the minority report, saying that the I. N. Phillips property was not suitable for school purposes, first because of the contour of it, requiring much expensive grading, and second because of its location with reference to the hollow below, sometimes known as Snakes Rest.

Mrs. Northdurft agreed that the property on Euclid avenue was a splendid site, were it not for its inaccessibility, and suggested that if it were taken, that the I. N. Phillips property be bought for future school purposes.

After some little discussion, the Euclid avenue property was ordered purchased.

Kennedy. Mrs. Clements is being held as a material witness.

The whole countryside in the vicinity of the crime is aroused and numerous individuals of that district, which is in the immediate vicinity of the Moffatt school house, were outspoken in declaring that it was the outcome of the petting party activities in that section and from which they sought to obtain relief by taking affairs in their own hands on numerous occasions after failing to obtain relief from the authorities.

Find Petting Party.

This attitude was very much accentuated following the killing of Mr. Richeal, when as the coroner, J. P. Caldwell, and men of the district were enroute to the home of W. W. Carrick, next door neighbor, to call the undertaker, they came upon in the same lane and not far from the scene, another car, in which two young men and two girls from this city, evidently bent on a little petting party. The members of the party were held until Constable William J. Graham of Hickory township and Detectives John Miller and Charles Hicks of New Castle arrived on the scene, took their names and addresses and then premitted them to go, owing to the more serious business on hand.

The body of Mr. Richeal was removed from the family residence early this morning at the direction of Coroner J. P. Caldwell by Walter McClelland, Harlansburg undertaker, to the Campbell Undertaking company morgue in this city, where a post mortem examination was held for the purpose of determining the exact cause of death.

Post Mortem Result.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. William Cleland and Dr. Loyal W. Wilson, who found that death was due to a hemorrhage of the brain, caused by a blow on the right side of the head. There was no evidence of a fracture of the skull found.

Sheriff H. M. Reynolds was the first county official notified and went to the scene accompanied by Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds. The license number of the car, which had been obtained by the sons of the dead man, was given to the officers, who immediately speeded to this city, where in a short time they had arrested Johnson and Blackford, as they sat in the Johnson car in front of the Kirk-Hutton and company store. Mrs. Clements was arrested shortly afterward at her home on Long avenue and all three were taken to the county jail.

Story of Boys.

According to the story told by William and David Richeal, the sons of the dead man, to Coroner Caldwell and other officers, it was probably about 8 o'clock eastern standard time and just commencing to get dark, when they and their father were attracted to the lane, which is a jointly owned roadway between the Richeal and W. W. Carrick farms, by the presence of an automobile that was several hundred feet down the lane, the private property and right of way of the two farms.

They went for the purpose of investigating what appeared to be an apparent attempt to steal corn. As they appeared on the scene, the driver of the car was seen coming out of the Carrick corn field at what was the left hand side of the automobile, which was parked at the right hand side of the lane and adjoining the Richeal property, and entered the car.

Mr. Richeal asked him if he did not know that he was on private property. Johnson and the others in the car are alleged to have contended that they were not on private property but on the road to Lakewood.

Argument—Blows Struck.

As the argument progressed, according to the sons of Mr. Richeal, the driver of the car, a Chevrolet coupe, got out and advanced up the embankment at the Richeal side of the right of way and struck William, the younger of the boys, a blow on the head, knocking him down and into the ditch. Stunned but not seriously hurt, he was up in a moment and witnessed the rest of the affair. He was taking the number of the machine at the time.

The driver then attacked their father, according to the boys, striking him on the head with something which they could not determine. The father was a short distance from William when assaulted. He staggered and then walked a short distance. He suddenly fell backward into the arms of his son David, who was immediately behind him. He laid his father on the ground and then went to the home of W. W. Carrick on the adjoining farm for assistance.

Mr. Carrick was not at home but his wife called the Guy Lockhart home, where Messrs. Carrick, Guy and Kenneth Lockhart and R. Bartsch were at the time.

They rushed to the scene and on their arrival, according to Mr. Carrick, Mr. Richeal was just breathing and that was all. He was dead before Carrick, Kenneth Lockhart, David Richeal and other of the party carried him to his home.

Dr. William Cleland was called and pronounced Mr. Richeal dead.

Make Survey of Place.

When Sheriff Reynolds and his brother, Deputy William Reynolds, returned to the scene after arresting the persons in the car, they made a careful survey of the place where the murder occurred. They found apples on the bank, where the car is alleged to have been when the argument took place, also pieces of broken glass, evidently from the window of an automobile. They also questioned the two sons of the dead man, eye witnesses of the murder, and their story was much as has already been detailed.

Following their arrest, Johnson Blackford and Mrs. Clements on their arrival at the county jail admitted to Sheriff that they had been at the scene of the trouble, but denied that any member of their party had struck any person or hit Mr. Richeal. They admitted there had been an argument, but claimed that the right front door window had been broken by a stone hurled at the car as it was near the Richeal side of the lane . They claimed that they had gone on down the lane after the argument, turned around and returned to the city.

According to the Richeal boys and others, the car went in the direction of the Moffatt school on the East Brook improved road and not toward Lakewood.

Johnson and Blackford are both young men.

The Honorable S. P. Emery and Attorney Clyde Gibson have been retained by the defendants in the case to look after their interests.

Mr. Richeal was born March 7, 1868, in Scott township, the son of David and Nancy Richeal. After living for a number of years in Scott township, he resided for 27 years in Springfield township, Mercer county, about a mile from No. 5 Mine. He moved to his last place of residence on the East Brook Station road about four years ago. He was a member of the East Brook grange.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Richeal, and three children, David, aged 18 years, William, aged 15 years, and Ida aged 17 years, also the following brothers and sisters: Walker of Washington township, David of Scott township, Mrs. Susie Johnson of Scott township, Mrs. Ida Forrest of McKees Rocks, Pa., Miss Effie Richeal of Washington township and a half-brother, Willis Richeal of Venango county.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock, eastern standard time, from the late residence on the East Brook Station road. The body will be removed to the family residence some time today. The place of interment will be announced later.

SENATOR CARAWAY URGES PRESIDENT ACT ON WAR DEBT

be a real American and I fear he won't avail himself of the chance. He should announce to the French government that we cannot accept a penny in settlement of this debt, which is tainted by the contemptuous disregard of the French people.

"President Coolidge should tell the French people that they must pay the debt in full or repudiate it entirely. He should say, 'the American people will not accept a penny tainted with contempt.' "

If the President took this step, Caraway declared, it would stop the Anti-American sentiment in Europe.

"If we don't do it," he warned "we are going to be traduced and libelled until we are the most hated people on earth and all without any excuse."

Can Easily Pay

The French people can easily pay the whole American debt, Caraway said. Their present economic distress, if any, he said, is due entirely to the unwillingness of the French people to pay taxes or be taxed.

"It takes courage to call the French bluff," Caraway declared. "I am afraid President Coolidge will not do it because no one has ever accused him of having courage."

Caraway predicted the present French debt settlement would be rejected by the senate.

"Personally, I would sooner not get a single cent from France than to get 99 cents on the dollar, which were tainted with their contempt," he concluded. "Our national honor will compel us to silence that contempt, even if France repudiated the whole debt."

Caraway also proposed that congress enact legislation bringing back all American dead from France. Their graves and monuments in American cemeteries have been desecrated with "foul epithets," he said. To leave the American dead abroad, he added, is to subject their memory to French hatred and contempt.

Miss Bratchie Makes Address To Kiwanians

Today was Constitutional Observance in the local Kiwanis club and the program was built around the Constitution of the United States.

Dr. C. J. Williamson was chairman of the day and spoke briefly upon the necessity of Americans reaffirming their fealty to the laws of the country, and the seeing to it that the constitution was upheld.

Miss Barbara Bratchie was the speaker of the day, reading for the club her prize winning essay on "The American Constitution." The young lady had a splendidly prepared paper, well delivered and worthy of the appreciation it got.

The Martucci brothers, banjo and accordion players delighted the club with several numbers, and pep singing was directed by William F. Harris, with Harry Hammond at the piano.

New Wells Revive Oil Rush At Kane

KANE, Pa., Sept. 15.—Oil excitement once more grips this section following the bringing in of two 30-barrel wells a few days ago. Activity on a scale hardly equaled since the days when the oil boom was at its height is now anticipated.

The two weels registering unusual production for the district are located on the Big Level leases. It is reported here that the South Penn Oil company will soon start drilling on its holding near Mt. Jewett.

The William C. Kennedy company is installing a high pressure compression device on its lease at Rilersville for flooding by air and increasing production.

PEARSON STREET GIRL IS KILLED BY AUTO TRUCK

Driver Longstreth went to the scene of the fatality.

They took Shuler in charge, investigated the accident, after which Shuler was taken to the city police station.

The body was removed to Kelly's morgue in an ambulance.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell questioned Shuler and he was placed under $2,500 bond for a coroner's inquest Monday night.

Former Judge William E. Porter appeared for Shuler and arrangements are being made to place a bond for his appearance at the coroner's hearing.

MR. WITHERS' RESIGNATION

IN PRESENTING his resignation as a member of the New Castle school board last night, R. T. Withers stated that he was entirely out of harmony with the majority of the board and was resigning in the hope of bringing about harmony.

The idea that prompted his resignation is commendable. In his resignation he has stated what a majority of citizens of New Castle have been aware of. It is also recognized that continual disruption of the efforts of the board for school progress has been a bad thing for the morale of the school teaching force and for the pupils as well.

With the resignation of Mr. Withers there will be no change in the attitude of the majority of the board. They will be just as zealous in taking care of the taxpayers' money as they would had he remained on the board. Of that we are certain. Each one is vitally interested in New Castle and all her citizens.

It is one thing to attempt to cut down school expenses at the cost of all school progress, and it is another thing to keep them down as far as possible and yet show progress that is needed for the proper educational system in New Castle.

We believe that all members of the board are for school economy. The question is what that economy means, whether it means reduced expenses at the cost of school progress or whether it means economy insofar as possible with proper progress of New Castle. A majority believe it is the latter.

FALL FLOWER SHOW

ARRANGEMENTS are completed for the annual fall flower show to be held under direction of the Lawrence County Garden Club at the Carnegie auditorium, opening Thursday.

With the record of a number of most successful flower shows having been conducted by this club, and the indications for exhibition of thousands of blooms, there is every reason to believe that this show will be the most pretentious and interesting yet held.

The exhibitions at the fall show bring some of the products of famous local flower gardens, as well as those of gardeners who are just beginning to show an interest in flower cultivation.

Certain it is that these exhibitions, which are filling a unique place in the list of events in New Castle and Lawrence county, are now so well established that they are being eagerly looked forward to, and have been the means of stimulating interest in flower gardens and raising of fine flowers in this community.

It has been the aim of the garden club to bring about a greater interest in flowers and improvement of property in general by means of beautifying with flowers, keeping lawns in good shape, etc., and results are being achieved.

The flower shows of the Garden Club are worthwhile, and are filling an important civic niche in the community.

Take time to visit the coming show!

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:09. Sun rises tomorrow 5:43.

In our travels we have found people who try to act as snobs who come nearer acting like slobs. They would be better fitted to act as slobs by looks and actions.

The unusual feat of using two words, thereby breaking three rules of grammer, is credited to a politician, who said: "Them's them".

It is said that the five-cent cigar is coming back. No doubt what goes into it will be cheaper and more scandalous in the way of smell than the pre-war stinker. Anyhow, it will be quite a blow to those who have been profiting by selling the five-cent cigar at ten cents.

A cut in the price of a ham would be more acceptable to many of us now than slicing fifty or a hundred dollars off the price of an automobile.

Here's a fine one. Dear Hints and Dints: I was out of town last Thursday and missed the Hints and Dints column for that day. Will you kindly please run it over again, as I don't want to miss anything.
YOUR FRIEND.
Note—Well, of all the nerve!

You can say one thing for these little woolly house dogs. They sweep under the davenport.

Building materials are dear and scarce, but still a lot of concrete is being wasted by putting it into human heads.

An East Side man told his wife to remember that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. "Then you come right in and rule the world for a while," she snapped. "I'm getting doggone good and tired of it."

All people do not think a bootlegger is an undesirable alien, if said undesirable furnishes them good stuff at a reasonable compensation.

A Pittsburgh preacher asked on Sunday while in his pulpit this question: "Are there any Christians in Pittsburgh?" He did not get any answer to the question and naturally came to the conclusion there were none. We don't know of any here or in Beaver Falls either, for that matter.

It's not the original cost, but the upkeep doesn't refer alone to automobiles. Believe me, it's highly applicable to marriage licenses.

Now comes a story of a hobo who rang a doctor's bell and asked the young woman who answered the door if the doctor had a pair of old pants he wanted to give away. "Why, I am the doctor", said the young woman sweetly, and the tramp fell off the porch.

The National Get Out the Vote League blames automobiles for failure of people voting in the numbers they should vote in. The automobile is being blamed for about everything that is not good, even being the right hand of the bootlegger.

The chief prohibition director of the Pittsburgh district says his officers will have to obey the law themselves and that there will be no black-jacking in its enforcement. That sounds mighty sensible and we think that gentleman is going to make some headway in the enforcement of the law. He should be encouraged, at least.

"De only man I know dats willin' to work mo' dan eight hours a day", said Uncle Eben, "is some one in de neighborhood dats learnin' to play de saxophone."

A friend of ours who is spending a few days in Atlantic City writes us about some of his activities and winds up by saying the weather is fine and the water salt. We knew the water was salt, but it was interesting to hear someone tell us about it. The most interesting things we hear usually are the things we know something about.

If wishes were autos we'd all have limousines.

I wonder if you ever have heard the story about the army mule that died and how the private, who had charge of the last sad rites, filled in the registration blank? He wrote hurriedly until he reached the question, "Disposition of Carcass". After a moment's thought he wrote: "Mean and deceitful".

NO FOOD FOR MAN

Farmer Guy Turner of West Virginia placed a blade of green grass in his mouth during haying season. A part of it broke and remained between his teeth. A few months later he had such swelling and pain in his neck that he went to see a doctor. A surgical operation followed and the doctors found and removed a piece of grass about four inches below the base of the teeth. Medicone has had no similar case. Better to leave grass-chewing to the livestock, or chew the rag.

You never can get much of anything done unless you go ahead and do it before you are ready.

There are towns and towns, but the real old-fashioned town was a town whose business district was built around the courthouse square.

A modern miracle is to be worked this winter by the women if they make their skirts shorter and tighter as they threaten to and wear them. We don't see how they can do it but when it comes to style the ladies can do most anything.

Another man and woman admit being near that crab-apple tree the night of the Hall-Mills murder. The place ought to have traffic regulations.

The French people are getting very anxious now to have that American Legion convention in Paris next year and they are beginning to sweeten up toward Americans. It will take a lot more sweetening before a good many from this country will ever go to France again and we don't blame them a bit. The first time Americans went over the French fell on their necks—now they want to kick the pants of everyone who goes over.

If you didn't register to vote on Tuesday you have only one more chance. Better watch for announcement of the day and be there early. It is important that everyone vote who is entitled to, but you have to register first.

Channel swimmers have a lot of records to beat next year when the season opens again. Four times it was swum this year and all of the swimmers beat the former records. There is no use swimming the channel now unless you can make the trip in something less than 10 hours.

Nature isn't so wonderful. If you work at it hard enough, you can lose your health in spite of her.

We're to have good weather after the 15th of September, we are told, and here's hoping that prediction comes true. September hasn't been very good to us yet, and we are ready for some first-class hot weather.

Someone has said that John D.'s grandsons give away more money in tips than he does. Evidently the dimes of the father are not visited upon the waiter by the children of the third and fourth generations.

With no fighting to do in Ireland the people of that belligerent island are now fighting roosters and are having lots of fun when the police don't interfere. The Irish just have to fight so we'll have to make allowances for them.

Sweden sends an idea that interests builders and home-seekers. When concrete, a mixture of sand, gravel and cement, is still soft, just before it sets, gas is introduced into the mixture with the same effect as yeast on bread, fills the concrete with little holes, making it much lighter, less expensive, not diminishing its strength, requiring less weight of steel to hold it up. The result is a concrete like coral.

The Rev. Dr. Pierce, President Coolidge's spiritual guide, says that a public official needs seven qualities, and Mr. Coolidge has all seven.

Men in public life must keep their promises. Coolidge does it.

No ostentation, hard work. That's Coolidge.

The right relationship with God, absolute honesty, performance of duty without evasion, power to recognize great issues, "clean, not only outside, but inside."

President Coolidge, says the Rev. Dr. Pierce, fills the bill absolutely. He might have added that President Coolidge knows when not to talk, which is most of the time. He didn't say anything about new ideas. They are important also.

Germany celebrates the birth of Goethe, calling him greatest of writers, next to Shakespeare. Italy says the greatest next to Shakespeare is Dante, Spain says Cervantes, Greece says Homer. Decide it for yourself.

One thing that Goethe says in "Wilhelm Meister" interests us all, namely that thinking is difficult, and to act, according to your thought, is uncomfortable.

One hundred in 10,000 think. One in a hundred of those that think translate the thought into action. That is why the world moves upward so slowly. Perhaps that is how it should move. With two or three hundred million more years of life ahead of it, old earth is not in a hurry.

It is said automobiles keep half the voters away from the polls, and "absentee balloting" is suggested. Also, "golf keeps men away from the churches."

The remedy is to make politics as interesting as motoring, religion as interesting as golf. With Henry Ward Beecher in a big church, or Billy Sunday in a revival tent, the caddies, not the clergymen, would complain.

The King of Spain who is facing a critical condition of affairs in his dominion has many names and titles. He has also so many attractive qualities that one might be puzzled to know whether he is greater for instance, as a sportsman than as a constitutional monarch. It is to his credit that he plays all his varied rolls well. Alfonso XIII was born in 1886 and is therefore 40 years old. He attained his majority when he was 16 according to the Spanish law and was crowned king soon afterward. Today he has occupied the throne longer than any other of the reigning monarchs in Europe. His father was Alfonso XII. who died in the infancy of his son and the present king's mother Maria Christina ruled as Queen Regent until 1902. Alfonso is a direct descendant of Louis XIV of France. In 1906 he was married to Princess Ena of Battenberg a granddaughter of Queen Victoria of Great Britain.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

NEW GOALS FOR OLD

Georges Clemenceau, after an active life as teacher, soldier, editor, statesman and writer, said on his eighty-fifth birthday:

"Happiness comes only in the continuation of work and not in finishing your job."

Burton in his poem "Kasidah, or the Lay of the Higher Law," expresses the same idea in different words when he asks:

"And who 'mid e'en the fools
But feels that half the joy is in the race
For wealth and fame and place,
Nor sighs when comes success to crown the chase."

Every so often in life this lesson has to be pounded in.

Every so often we arrive at a goal toward which we have been struggling and find that having reached it something is lacking.

Men look forward to the day when they will return to their old home town rich or famous or powerful. They imagine what such a day of days would be like.

But those few who are fortunate enough to reach their goal find that the day of days never arrives—as imagined.

Something is always lacking.

Instead of being able to sit down the rest of his life and bask comfortably in the sun of his achievements the man who has arrived—and tries it—finds he has left something behind which gave the zest to life.

The joy of struggle, the interest in the uncertain future, the beckoning of a distant goal, have all dropped out of life.

Men who have "arrived" and then stopped going on have invariably found life a dreary affair.

Those who have given up their work and still continued to live a life unrobbed of fascination have been men like Edward Bok who have retired from one activity to plunge into others.

The "growing life" is the happiest because it is a life of continued activity, of continual striving for new goals.

And in the striving for new goals rather than resting in the assurance of having attained old ones is found the chief joy of life.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE FIAT COMPANY.

The Fiat Company of Italy has floated in this country recently a bond issue of ten million dollars, to provide the company with additional working capital, and enable them to expand in the world's trade. The Fiat Motor Car has been looked upon as a great luxury, and like the Swiss watch, as being one of the world's great machines. But very little is known in the United States concerning the work that is being done in Italy by this company, particularly as the labor troubles among the employees of this company in Italy was the direct and immediate cause of the Fascists movement in Italy, culminating with the Dictatorship of Mussolini.

The Fiat Company is the largest industrial concern in Italy, and one of the largest manufacturers of automobiles in Europe. The company directly operates ten manufacturing divisions, of which the chief products are automobiles, forgings, castings, structures, Diesel engines, and railroad rolling stock. These ten divisions and the main office employ about thirty two thousand men. Subsidiary and associated companies manufacture trucks and supply materials and accessories, and hydro-electric power. The Fiat chief manufacturing plant is the Lingotto Works at Turin; this is the largest automobile plant in Europe, employing about 17,500 men. Its production of automobiles has increased from about ten thousand cars manufactured in 1921 ,to an estimated output in 1926 of about 60,000 cars, and the company's productive capacity will be materially increased upon the completion of the present construction program. More than fifty per cent of the sales were made in markets outside of Italy, and more than $22,000,000 of foreign gold was brought into Italy on this account.

The work being done by the Fiat Company is a direct challenge to the world that Italian workmen and Italian brains are fully up to the standard of the Nordic races, and that any propaganda circulated in the United States to the effect that the Italian has only one sixteenth of the brain power of the average Nordic citizen, is pure bunk. If Mussolini and his compatriots working together in Italy can stimulate the organization and conduct of a few more companies possessing the energy shown by the Fiat Company, Italy will have to be recognized as a real factor in the world's trade.

THE TRICKSTERS

Joe was slick, with many a trick
He trimmed the passer-by.
Whene'er he could, for coal and wood
He put his prices high.
And if he thought you wouldn't look
A little off the weight he took.

Joe used to harp on methods sharp
Let buyers all beware!"
He'd often say, "Whenever they
Come selling I take care,
If I get cheated in the game
I only have myself to blames."

Joe knew a lot, but he forgot
That buyers do beware,
That life is long, and those you wrong
Soon learn to trade elsewhere.
That every shady dollar made
Will cost you ten in future trade.

Joe tricked a few as smart men do,
And chuckled as they will,
But came the day to Joe's dismay
When empty was his till.
He watched his trade to others go,
The buyer had outsmarted Joe.

Boy, when you meet a chance to cheat
Refuse that way to gain.
The trickster's art is never smart,
It always ends in pain
The cunning merchants always fail
The cleverest crooks are all in jail.

POEMS HOME

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

Gray's "Elegy".

In "Hamlet" and in this famous Elegy one will find perhaps more well-known lines than in any other single play or poem. Indeed, so commonplace have certain phrases become that they now seem platitudinous; but think of the ecstasy of reading them for the first time! And as one never tires of the sun, moon and stars, the world will never weary of these beautiful lines. They are of the eternal verities. There is space for only a portion of the stanzas.

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day,
The lowing herd wind slowly o'er the lea,
The ploughman homeward plods his weary way,
And leaves the world to darkness, and to me.

Beneath those rugged elms, that yew-tree's shade,
Where heaves the turf in many a mouldering heap,
Each in his narrow cell forever laid,
The rude Forefathers of the hamlet sleep.

The boast of heraldy, the pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave,
Awaits alike th' inevitable hour:
The paths of glory lead but to the grave.

Full many a gem of purest ray serene
The dark unfathomed caves of ocean bear:
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air.

For from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife,
Their sober wishes never learned to stray;
Along the cool sequestered vale of life
They kept the noiseless tenor of their way.

The Epitaph

Here rests his head upon the lap of earth
A youth, to Fortune and to Fame unknown;
Fair Science frowned not on his humble birth,
And Melancholy marked him for her own.

Large was his bounty, and his soul sincere;
Heaven did a recompense as largely send:
He gave to Misery all he had, a tear,
He gained from heaven, 'twas all he wished, a friend.

No farther seek his merits to disclose,
Or draw his frailties from their dread abode,
(There they alike in trembling hope repose,)
The bosom of his Father, and his God.

Klan Members Ready To Adjourn

Klonvocation At Washington Ends With Tribute To Deceased.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Their "Klonvocation of Sorrow" over, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, assembled here, will adjourn their third biennial "Klonvocation," today after they act this afternoon on a dozen or more resolutions expressing their intended program towards "creating a public mind in America."

Assembling in Washington auditorium to lament the loss by deaths of hundreds of fellow klansmen during the past year, more than 2,000 members of the robed order last night took part in the most impressive ritual of all their ceremonies—the "Klonvocation of Sorrow."

Members of the Invisible Empire sat in a hall, dimly lighted, held silent by the sight of a large fiery cross, which burned red against the darkness. Behind the cross, performing in shadows, specially picked members of the realm of Virginia formed a square about a white casket, in which lay the robed effigy of a klansman. The blue cloaks, flung over the shoulders of the participants, topped the circle of white formed by their skirts. Swords, hanging at their sides caught the red glint of the cross.

World War Ghost Stalks In Trial

Merton Again Takes Witness Stand In Trial Of Former Attorney-General.

BY DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The ghost of the world war stalked in federal court today at the conspiracy trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Col. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian.

Richard Merton, head of a German metal trust, took the witness stand again and testified that the reason the Merton-owned Metallgesellschaft of Frankfort-on-Main went to the financial aid of the Society Suisse before the United States was in the war was because of an "invisible power" that was operating in neutral nations.

United States Attorney Emory Buckner had been directing a ceaseless fire of questions at Merton in an effort to prove that $7,000,000 retrieved by Merton from the alien property custodian was obtained by a fraudulent claim.

It was the Society Suisse which collected the war-impounded $7,000,000 as a neutral.

European Writers Prepare Plays For American Producers

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The productions of American theatre managers during the coming season will be 25 per cent European, according to information in theatrical circles here.

Lee Shubert, A. H. Woods, George Tyler, Morris Gest and Archie Selwyn are among those who have looked over the British field during the summer and picked out the plays which they want for Broadway during the autumn and winter.

British plays said to be booked for American theatres during the next months include: "The Ghost Train," Arnold Ridley; "Wet Paint," the Earl of Lathom; "All Our Yesterdays," C. K. Munro; "Cavalier of the Streets," Michael Arlen; "The League of Nations," Frederick Lonsdale; "Diversions of an Empress," Louis N. Parker; "Scotch Mist," Sir Patrick Hastings; "Berkeley Square," John L. Balderston and J. C. Squire; "Anne Pedersdotter," John Mansfield; "This Woman Business," Benn Levy; "Why Not?" Sinclair Scott and Caswell Garth; "The Constant Nymph," Basis Dean and Margaret Kennedy; "No. 17," Jefferson Farjeon; "What Fun Frenchmen Have," Michael Arlen; "Importance of Being Earnest," Oscar Wilde; "Grierson's Way," H. TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

FALSE IDEALS OF FASHIONABLE RICH BREED TRAGEDY

By MRS. PHILIP LYDIG,
Wealthy Social Leader Of New York, In The October Red Book Magazine.

There are, of course, in fashionable life, some happy marriages of young people who fall in love naturally, in spite of their wealth, and live together as contentedly as any married couples any where. But there are few of them. They are usually the sons and daughters of very wise parents who have known how to guard and counsel them, in their childhood, against the dangers and temptations that so very often ruin the children of the rich.

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG

I used to be told that such a point of view about marriage was romantic and mushy, and people continually pointed out to me that among royalty and aristocracy abroad marriages for love were practically unknown. I could only reply that I saw few of those marriages successful and that those which even partly succeeded were made bearable by social conventions unknown in America. But, in recent years, from an acquaintance with famous psychologists and psychiatrists and doctors of the mind, here and in France and Germany, I have been hearing an explanation of the mental processes involved in love and marriage that throws a light on the tragedies I have seen on all sides in fashionable life, for years and years; and these scientific theories support me in the conviction which I have derived from my own experience—the conviction that, for Americans at least, today, marriage without love is a suicide compact. It is death—spiritual and moral and often physical death—for both husband and wife.

In any fashionable marriage that is made without love there are bound to be resistance and revolts and hatreds that become murderous in their tendency even when they do not actually achieve murder in fact.

With the open liaisons of the continent forbidden to America by social custom the fashionable marriage, without love, leads to relations that have no constancy and to divorce after divorce. At any fashionable dinner table in New York or Newport there is likely to be an assemblage of guests whose sentimental history would make a shocking histoire scandaleuse. They seem to me to be invariably haunted and unhappy. I do not know what they think they are getting out of life, but it is often too evident that they are getting nothing worth while.

Youth Twelve, Faces Jury On Murder Charge

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15. — As the second day of the trial of Alexander Andy, 12, for the murder of John King, 45, got under way today, indications were that the boy would be called to the stand in his own defense.

Andy, the youngest prisoner ever tried for murder in Westmoreland county, and his mother, saw the prosecution win the first contest of the trial when Judge Charles E. Whitten refused to halt the trial on grounds of insufficient evidence, as contended by the defense.

Mrs. Andy was one of the first witnesses called. She testified that she was giving a party for young folks at her home the night King was shot, March 14.

"I saw someone prowling around the house," she declared, "and told my son. He found a man near the garage and later saw the prowler alongside the house."

The mother then explained how Alexander returned to the house, procured a revolver and fired in the direction he had seen the man. He put the revolver away, without knowing he had hit anyone, she said.

Later Alexander was arrested by state police who found King's body near the Andy residence.

Other witnesses were the physicians who examined the body, Robert Kirkpatrick, state trooper who arrested the boy, and Coroner David Walkinshaw.

Use just one doctor. If you use many, no two will agree, and you'll lose the faith that is half the cure.

Al Smith probably thinks Hindenburg line easy as compared to the Mason and Dixon line.

Good times are those in which people issue the bonds they cuss themselves about in hard times.

See Good Prospects For Hunting Season

(From News Bureau State Capital)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—Prospects are good for a successful hunting season this fall according to reports received by the State Game commission. The present summer has been exceptionally good in providing for food for game and birds. The commission expects that about 525,000 will be licensed to take to the woods within the next few weeks.

Some changes have been made in the lengths of the seasons for several classes of game. There will be no conflict in the big and little game season's this year according to J. C. Trumen, secretary of the commission. This change is expected to reduce the number of illegally killed deer each year and also act as a conservation measure.

The entire state has been closed this year for wild turkeys and Hungarian quail. No separate counties have been closed to other classes of game and wild life. Officials of the commission do not feel that this acts as a conservation move because of the migration of hunters to open counties.

The season for ruffed grouse will extend from November 1 to 13. Previously this had been a month. The season's bag limit has been reduced from fifteen to ten birds. Male ringneck pheasants are in season while the former are not reported in the same time as grouse although so large quantities pheasants are said to be plentiful. The past season for pheasants had also been a month.

Rabbits and hares also have been reported plentiful with the season extending only through the month of November. In the past the season for shooting rabbits had extended to December 15. Squirrels are numerous and their season is from November 1 to 13.

Big game is exceptionally good, Mr. Truman says. Bear and deer have been helped by seasonal conditions having available an abundant food supply this summer. Deer can be killed from December 1 to 15 and bear November 10 to December 15.

NEW CHANCE TO REDUCE

Y. W. C. A. Physical Department To Conduct Reducing Class This Fall.

Come on, Ladies,, here's your chance to lose those extra pounds.

The Y. W. C. A. reducing classes will be opening soon, the first of October, so the opportunity to reduce safely and wisely is here.

If only ten pounds overweight, join the class and lose that extra weight. You say, "Not for only ten pounds!" Well, if you are ten pounds overweight it is safe to conclude that some day soon that ten will be twenty.

Thus will "Father Time" multiply it and before you realize it, you will have lost that youthful elasticity in the knee joint and the spring in your step; all because you did not check that first ten pounds. That is more truth than poetry.

Regarding the losses made last year:

Last year, 585 lb. lost.

Last year, 413 in. or 11 1-2 yd. lost in measurement.

Past two years, 1087 lb. lost.

Past two years, 772 in. or 21 1-2 yd. lost in measurement.

The above losses do not merely signify a decrease in weight and size but they indicate that greater efficiency has been developed, that endurance has been multiplied, and that muscles were hardened, all of which spell HEALTH for the individual.

Call the Y. W. C. A. for information, 748.

Election Board Left In Quandary

Candidate Changes Name Since Primary—Can She Be Elected?

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 15.—Miss Winifred McDermott is the Democratic candidate for clerk of the state supreme court of Minneapolis. Today she is no longer Miss McDermott. She has married Roy Henry Perrigo since filing for office.

Now Mrs. Perrigo's status as a candidate for office is under debate. The question raised by her marriage is brand new, as far as is known here. Can votes for Winifred McDermott be counted for Mrs. Perrigo? If not, how can her name be changed on the ballot? These questions will be the subject of a conference between the attorney general and his assistants in the next few days.

When a woman who is a registered voter marries, she is required to register all over again. It is impossible for Mrs. Perrigo to register over again, however, as the time for filing for a party office expired last May. She has not followed the Lucy Stone League plan of retaining her maiden name.

It is possible that the situation will be cleared by an affidavit stating that Mrs. Roy Henry Perrigo is identical with the former Miss Winifred McDermott. The question, however, is a new one and a puzzler, according to the attorney general.

Pimples

What can I do?

"OH, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happies girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations — helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin — drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

Concrete street pavement gives the same enduring service as the concrete road

Bellefontaine, Ohio Has Oldest Concrete Street in America

Thirty-four years old, and still on the job.

That's the story of America's first concrete street.

Bellefontaine, Ohio, built it—'way back in 1892.

In those days America was without movies, without the radio, without sky-scrapers—and without automobiles.

The most daring dreamer would not have predicted that some day we would have 20,000,000 motor vehicles, and that the motor industry would be turning out 4,000,000 new cars a year.

Thirty-four years ago portland cement concrete had not even been considered as a paving material, and there were no standards of design and construction to go by.

Yet Bellefontaine's first concrete street on Court House Square, like the many other concrete streets it has built since, continues to meet all traffic requirements.

Just as it withstood the slow-moving, steel-tired horse-drawn traffic of other days so is it withstanding the swift pounding traffic of automobiles, busses and motor trucks.

Modern highway builders from near and far go to inspect this veteran pavement; but they no longer marvel at its sturdy service. For they know that in hundreds of cities and towns from one end of the country to the other, concrete streets have proved that they possess the same enduring strength they have shown in Bellefontaine, Ohio.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy

TO INSTALL NEW PASTOR

October 4 Is Set As Date For Installation Of Dr. C. B. Wingerd.

PRESBYTERY NAMES PASTORS TO ASSIST

Arrangements To Be Made Soon For Installation At Hermon And Princeton.

Formal installation exercises for Dr. C. B. Wingerd who begins his pastorate at the Central Presbyterian church of this city on next Sunday will be conducted Monday evening October 4 at 7:30 in the Central church.

Plans for installing Rev. Wingerd were completed at the meeting of Presbytery here Tuesday. At a meeting of the St. Clairsville Presbytery of the Presbyterian church at Bridgeport, O., about a week ago Rev. Wingerd was transferred from the Presbyterian church at Martins Ferry, O., his former pastorate to the local church.

The pastors participating in the installing exercises are Rev. D. C. Schnebly of the Mahoning Presbyterian church, Rev. Walter E. McClure of the First Presbyterian church ,Rev. J. Greer Bingham, pastor of the Wampum Presbyterian church Rev. William Parsons, D. D. of Pittsburgh and Rev. F. S. Brenneman of this city.

At the afternoon session of Presbytery Dr. William Holt of Philadelphia gave a detailed account of the proposed pension plan for ministers of the denomination. Rev. L. E. Becraft of Pittsburgh, Pa., gave a brief talk on the erection of a Presbyterian hospital in connection with the University of Pittsburgh.

Arrangements were made for the installing of a new pastor at the Princeton and Herman Presbyterian churches in the near future.

Six Aeroplanes Sighted Over Village—Other News Of Community

(Special To The News)

JACKSON CENTER Sept. 15.—The Ladies Missionary society of the Presbyterian church held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben Taylor at 2 p. m. Thursday. A large number were in attendance and a special program was rendered. Mrs. Gibson who has been a teacher in the public schools of New Castle for many years was one of the principal speakers. She spoke of the temptations in the pathway of the young people of today. Special music was furnished by Howard Taylor and Mrs. Ernest Orr. A luncheon was served with ice cream cake and coffee.

LIVE WIRE ROAST.

A corn roast was given by the Live Wire class of the Presbyterian church by their teacher Mrs. John Wilson at her home on last Friday evening. Over 30 were present. The members brought their mothers and small brothers and sisters.

NEW BOY.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moon on last Saturday.

CHURCH EVENTS.

The Young People's council of District No. 3 will have charge of the services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening September 19 at 8 p. m. The program is as follows: The song service will be led by Luther Beach. Devotions led by Olive Westlake. Greetings, John McDowell; "Why?" Mary Griffin; "Our Soul Spiritual," Albert Nicholson; "Our Social Life Wholesome," Helen Patterson; "Our Body Sanctified" Leonard Hodgson and "Our Mind Consecrated," by Meade Armstrong.

The first session of the Community Religious Training school was held at Millbrook on last Monday evening with over 50 present and much interest being taken. There is still time to enroll. Miss Mary Griffin is the dean of the school.

AEROPLANES.

Much excitement was produced and many heads were turned skyward on Sunday afternoon when six aeroplanes passed over here together. There are at least two mail planes pass over here daily but it was an unusual sight to see six at once.

PRIZES.

Glenn C. Dunlap carried off five prizes on five horses which he had at the Stoneboro fair. Plummer McCullough, local poultry breeder carried off many prizes on his White Plymouth Rocks.

JACKSON CENTER NOTES.

Wilbur Wharton went to Summerville, N. J., where his son is in a serious condition as a result of an automobile accident. Miss Winnie Wharton returned home.

Scope's $100 Fine May Win New Trial

DAYTON, Tenn., Sept. 15.—After all the tumult and the shouting at Dayton a year ago, the famous Scopes evolution case is expected to be reversed by the Tennessee Supreme Court by reason of a little matter involving $50.

An ancient provision of the State Constitution limiting to $50 the amount of a fine that may be imposed by a trial Judge has been uncovered. This may entitle John Thomas Scopes, the high school teacher convicted of teaching evolution, to a new trial.

The anti-evolution satute fixes the fine for convicted persons at from $100 to $500. The Scopes jury when returning its verdict of guilty left the amount of the fine to trial judge, and Judge John T. Raulston imposed the minimum fixed by the act of the Legislature. Now it is contended that only the jury could impose a fine larger than $50.

Attorney General Tom Stewart, who prosecuted Scopes in the Dayton Court, admitted the possibility of reversal by the Supreme Court by reason of the "$50 error."

In the old days a good provider wasn't expected to provide finery enough to vamp other men.

The price of vegetables indicates that somebody connected with the affair doesn't need relief.

London Fears Famine In Lord Mayor Timber

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Because centuries-old tradition the city of London may find itself unable to elect a Lord Mayor in four or five years' time.

Before any man can occupy the exalted office made famous by Dick Whittington and a host of other illustrious functionaries he must have served as an alderman and as a sheriff in the ancient city. Recently however aldermen have not been successful in elections for sheriffs and there remain after Sir Rowland Blades the coming lord mayor only four junior aldermen eligible to the office of chief magistrate.

One reason why aldermen fail in this ballot for sheriff is because by tradition they cannot canvass for votes.

HOW MANY WOMEN GET UP SINGING

Two Women Find Health Essential to Happiness

MRS. BELLE THOMPSON
ROUTE 2, ROSSVILLE, GEORGIA

Springtime streamed in through the open windows. The green fields of Georgia were basking in the sunshine. Somewhere a bird was trilling. It was a day to be happy.

But the pale woman at the table sighed and pushed away her plate. Nothing tasted right. She couldn't eat much. She couldn't sleep well, either. She was so weak, it was hard to do her work. When the baby cried, she wanted to cry, too.

She had not been well for four years. Her husband watched her with a man's helpless expression. But his mother knew a remedy.

"My mother-in-law," says Mrs. Belle Thompson, Route 2, Rossville, Ga., "told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I took six bottles of the Vegetable Compound. I could sleep and would get up in the morning singing and feeling fine. I am the mother of three children, and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me."

Another Happy Woman

Decatur, Illinois.—"I took your medicine for weakness. I would sometimes have to hold myself up with my hands. I was this way for five years, off and on. I read in the newspapers where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped a lot of women, and I thought I would take it. I am now getting better so fast that every month I can feel a difference. My work now is cooking. If you like, you may use these facts as a testimonial. I am willing to help you boost your medicine."—Mrs. Irene Reed, 635 Greenwood Ave., Decatur, Ill.

This dependable medicine has been in use for over fifty years.

Tons Of Campaign Literature Sent Under Congressional Frank

Postal Employes At Washington Handle Tons Of "Franked Mail"

Campaign Year Shows Big Increase In Volume Leaving Capital

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15.—A tour through the capitol and the senate and house office buildings discloses that tons of campaign "literature"—nobody will estimate how many tons—have been and are being sent from Washington under congressional frank in this hectic campaign year of 1926 to every hamlet in the United States.

Cries of "abuse of the franking privilege" are arising here and there, but there is no rest for the tired employes of the Washington postoffice. Each day that office is handling thousands of "canned speeches", agricultural year books and other government documents which may aid some senator or representative to land another vote back in his state. These documents range in subject from "How to Raise Babies" to "How to Raise Beets".

Sent Out 97 Sacks of Mail.

From the office of Postmaster General Harry S. New there came today a little story which illustrates both the use and mis-use of the congressional frank. There was no official statement or comment about it, but recently the postmaster general learned that a southern member of congress had franked out 97 sacks of mail from Washington and each sack was filled with non-frankable matter.

The postmaster general, himself a politician and former member of the United States senate, preferred no charges. He decided to give this southern congressman, who is a Democrat while New is a Republican, a chance to correct his mistake and make amends to the postal service.

The postmaster general wrote this candidate for renomination that he had despatched nearly 100 sacks of mail under his frank and that this particular material, which included even small articles for household use as well as un-frankable mail, should have gone postage paid. Mr. New said the government wanted its postage. If this were forwarded the incident would be closed; otherwise there would have to be certain publicity and proceedings which the member of congress might not relish. The department received a check for his postage due, but withholds the name of the offending candidate.

Tons of Literature.

If one candidate sends out 97 sacks of mail that is unfrankable, in addition to his mail which legally may be franked, how many tons of campaign material will go out of Washington before the congressional primaries and the November elections are over? The postoffice department itself has no idea but knows that its mails today are clogged with tens of thousands of campaign documents.

There are 435 members of the house to be elected in November and some 34 senators. Probably 90 per cent have opposition either in the primaries or the general election. For instance, Senator William M. Butler of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee and close confidant of President Coolidge, is without opposition in the primary contest, but in November will be opposed by former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, one time called "the best vote getter in Massachusetts".

Great quantities of campaign material doubtless will be dumped into mail bags for Massachusetts before the Butler-Walsh contest closes.

Charges Are Made.

In the nearby state of Maryland three candidates for the senate recently have made charges and counter-charges that each fellow's opponent has abused the franking privilege by flooding the state with unfrankable political appeals. The candidates are Senator Weller, Republican; Representative John Phillip Hill, aspirant for the Republican nomination against Weller, and Representative Millard E. Tydings, unopposed Democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination. Tydings has formally notified Postmaster General New that he will enter a contest if he is beaten by either Weller or Hill because, he alleged, each has illegitimately used the franking privilege. The charges have been denied.

Postake-free, or franked, mail is sent out from several distributing centers at the national capital. Year in and year out members of congress and the executive departments have the right to send out official documents and correspondence without the payment of postage. There is always a steady flow of such material through the Washington postoffice, but in campaign years the steady flow turns into a turbulent stream of mail matter which bears not a postage stamp but the facsimile signature of a member of congress and a candidate for office.

Leaves Folding Room.

Franked mail goes out from the folding room of the senate and the folding room of the house, which are used by all members of congress as a clearance house for the sending of government documents back into their districts. Congressional documents are assembled in these folding rooms and large forces there will mail them out on the orders of any member of congress.

The Republican congressional campaign committee and the Democratic congressional campaign committee have headquarters at the capitol building and the chairman of each committee has the privilege of mailing out speeches and extracts from the Congressional Record to every hamlet within the United States. Any matter inserted in the Congressional Record is entitled to go under frank, the caption on the envelope being "Part of Congressional Record—Free."

In addition to the campaign committees each member of congress may have a mailing outfit of his own and keep his office force busy, in a campaign year, despatching letters to constituents, "canned speeches", documents from the executive departments and any other government document that might make a hit with the voter.

The official bulletins of the department of agriculture are widely used by candidates. The department issues scores of bulletins and papers covering everything from household hints to fly swatting and diversified farming.

No serious complaint against the system has been made by anybody. It is a part of the political game, tempered by the argument that the taxpayer is entitled to his government bulletins, but in a campaign year it means literally tons and tons of official mail from Washington, and, ordinarily, each member of congress sends out such matter with the hope that each envelope will produce a vote for himself when it reaches its destination.

MOTHER ASKS AID OF POLICE TO FIND TWO MISSING GIRLS

MARTINS FERRY, O., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Mary Doty of Marion, Pa., has asked police here to help find her two daughters, Daisy, 17 years old, and Leona, 15, who disappeared from home last week. Mrs. Doty says she believes the girls came to Martins Ferry with two men. The men say they picked the girls up in Marion last week and brought them as far as Washington, Pa., but did not take them out of Pennsylvania.

"To A Dear And Lost One"

A year ago today
Was laid to rest,
One that is very dear to me.
Far away she has gone
And never to come back.
Far away to the world beyond.

The days are short
And the years are long,
But down in my heart
Love is forever lasting strong.
Never will I miss anyone
As I miss my sister today.

Never will she be forgotten,
For she is always in our hearts,
I live with the hope that some day
I will see her again,
Way down in the world beyond,
Today is offered up a prayer
For my sister Mary Sandullo.

Daugherty Shows Outward Strain

By DAVID P. SENTNER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Harry M. Daugherty, former U. E. attorney general today was showing outward signs of the strain he is undergoing at his trial for alleged conspiracy in office. Thomas W. Miller former alien property custodian is a fellow defendant.

Daugherty was suffering from a severe cold today with dark circles lining his eyes. Friends said he was on the verge of a breakdown. During the afternoon session of the trial yesterday the former attorney general sat with his coat collar turned up about his neck.

Richard Merton, German financier, who has testified he paid $441,000 to the late John T. King, Connecticut politician, for putting through the claim of the Societe Suisse to the seized property of the American Metals company was due to take his place on the witness stand today for the fifth consecutive session. The government charges that Daugherty and Miller received part of the $441,000 given to King.

Merton presumably a government witness has registered mainly for the defense, having denied that the "fee" was intended for any government officials. The German bankers will face a continuation today of U. S. Attorney Emery Buckner's vigorous cross-examination.

Buckner will resume his inquiry into Merton's knowledge of the "oral transfer" a few days before America's entrance into the war by which the German-owned stock of the American Metals company was given to the Swiss society.

Works Faithfully In Leper Colony

Forty Years Among Lepers Is Proud Record Of Catholic Priest

PLANS TO CARRY ON WITH WORK

By JOHN F. STONE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, Sept. 15.—Forty years' service among the leper folk of Molokai, and at the ripe age of 84 looking forward to perhaps a decade more of the good work—such is the proud record of Brother Joseph Dutton, Roman Catholic priest and sage of the little settlement of Kalawao.

During all this time, Brother Dutton has never once set foot outside of the district of Kalaupapa, which lies at the baso of the steep windward cliffs of Molokai, separating the leper settlement from the rest of the island. Only a few times, indeed, has he left even the little hamlet of Kalawao and the Baldwin Home where he and a half dozen assistants minister to the wants of some 50 young men and boys.

Born as Ira Dutton, in Stowe, Vt., but reared in Janesville, Wis., he became a captain in the Union army during the Civil war and was on the staff of General Grainger. Following this, he served for a number of years as a civil appointee in the war department.

Finally, in 1883, feeling as he expressed it, that he should do penance for what he had begun to feel was "too much gaiety in youth," he began a long retreat with the "Silent Brotherhood" (Trappist Monks) at Gethsamane, Ky., "to determine his stability in the new endeavor."

Hearing of the settlement for lepers at Molokai, there came to him the strong desire to spend there the rest of his years. He went to Notre Dame, Ind., to learn more about Molokai; came by emigrant train to San Francisco and thence by the barentine Eureka to Honolulu.

On the occasion of his 79th birthday, Brother Joseph wrote:

"I have had great pleasure for all these years in abiding amongst suitable duties and amiable comrades, and am now a happy youngster of 79. If the Good Lord permits me to reach the close of 80 years, how symmetrical—40 years going into the pit, and 40 years climbing out. May God's Will be done."

Experiments begun in front of the new Royal Hawaiian hotel at Waikiki in restoring large quantities of sand to that famous beach have been so successful that the work will be taken up by the Engineers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce of this city.

In former years, a wide sand beach stretched along Waikiki from Diamond Head almost to the business section of the waterfront, a distance of about five miles. Then certain property owners along the beach conceived the idea of building vertical retaining walls on the seaward side of their lots. The effect of these walls was to start the undermining of adjacent property, with the result that these owners would in turn build walls to protect themselves and finally much of the natural sand deposit was washed out to sea.

The experiments in front of the new hotel were made with temporary wooden groins set at an angle frm the beach line to determine if the sand which had been washed away could be recovered. The results have amply demonstrated that it can be, for in front of the Moana hotel, the Outrigger club and the Royal Hawaiian hotel, a wide sandy beach has again been built up and the coral which formerly made swimming uncomfortable a little way off shore has been entirely covered with sand.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to request the next legislature for an appropriation to continue the work along the beach.

Although more than three months have passed since the giant flow of lava swept down Mauna Loa mountain, burying the little fishing village of Hoopulon, the water where the flow entered the sea is still warm. In some of the small protected arms of the sea the water is so hot that it is unbearable to the touch. Commenting on these facts, scientists at the volcano of Kilauea say that the continued heat in the great mass is probably the result of chemical action rather than slow cooling. They point out that some cracks in the Mauna Iki lava flow that poured onto the Kau desert, island of Hawaii, in 1920 are still hot enough to ignite sticks of wood and that slow cooling could hardly account for heat retention for this length of time.

Tons Of Canned Eggs Arrive From China

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—China eggs—not the fragile China variety used to coax the setting hen, but 700 tons of the genuine product of the hen—arrived yesterday on the Cunarder Aquitania.

On the ship's manifest they were listed as "desiccated eggs," which does not mean that they were struck by a storm at sea, but simply that the diligent Chinese did what the hens could not do—separated the whites from the yolks and put them in different tins. The eggs are consigned to a baking company.

Crosby Mansion, Will Be Restored

By HARRY BLOOMBARGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The Crosby Mansion, in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, famous since the days of 1698, soon to regain its old splendor, according to its present owner, Edward Burke.

The ancient house stands on a hill in Ridley township, surrounded by seven acres of ground.

Inside the mansion stands the ancient fire-place surmounted by hand-carved wooden mantle piece. On the ceiling are oak beams.

"I am not going to make any radical change in it," Burke commented, "but am merely going to restore the house to its original condition."

Inside the fire-place is the original spit with a crane, used for cooking during the fifteenth and eighteenth centuries.

The house was built by John Crosby III, known as Judge Crosby, first lieutenant in the American Revolution. While on a visit home, he was taken prisoner by the British, while washing his hands at a pump in the rear of the house. This pump was recently closed in. Lieutenant Crosby was held for six months on the prison ship Falmouth in New York Bay in 1776.

A politician is suing a novelist for saying something about him so we make no comment.

Don't ever bet you can beat a Chandler up a hill

19 finer new models, loaded to the muzzle with smooth, soundless power!

YOU realize the vivid difference between Chandler performance and ordinary performance when you take a Chandler over the road . . .

When you meet some skyscraper hills, the taller the better, and skim swiftly up them "in high"—right past other cars growling along "in second" . . .

When you feel the car's instantaneous surge of smooth, soundless power every time you tickle the accelerator!

Steering is marvelously easy. Safe stops in any weather are assured by Chandler's perfect-action 4-wheel brakes. And due to inherent engine design, plus an oil purifier and an air cleaner, draining the oil in the crankcase is now necessary only a few times a year.

What's more—all you have to do to lubricate the entire chassis is press your heel on the little plunger of Chandler's "One Shot" system of centralized lubrication.

There are nineteen brilliant models to choose from—all lower than ever in price—and every one a distinct credit to a company that occupies one of the strongest positions in the industry—a company with no bonded indebtedness, no mortgages or liens, no bank loans, no outstanding notes—a company with assets 20 to 1 over liabilities.

Own a car of quality, luxury, big value, and real championship performance!

Smith Winner In Carolina Primary

World Court Advocate Holds Slight Margin In South Carolina Voting

(International News Service)

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 15.—Senator Ellison D. Smith, world court advocate, apparently has defeated Edgar A. Brown for renomination in yesterday's run-off primary by a narrow margin.

Incomplete returns today gave Smith 78,906, Brown 73,604.

John G. Richards won a decisive victory over Ira G. Blackwood for governor.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fnger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Troop Is Guest Of Committeemen At Lakewood Tuesday Evening

Highland troop 18 held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening at Lakewood beach with a large attendance of scouts present and Scoutmaster R. F. Davis in charge. After the meeting the troop committeemen, Mr. Wallace, C. W. Grafton and Mr. Cartwright, treated the boys to a corn, weiner and marshmallow roast, which was greatly appreciated. The boys enpoyed boat riding and several vocal selections were rendered by the troop quartet.

Next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, September 21.

"Shiners" Buy Rye Before It's Sown

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—A bushel of rye costs three times as much in Westmoreland county at present as it did a few years ago and it is almost impossible to purchase it. The moonshiner is credited for the advance.

Rye is selling for $1.50 to $3 a bushel according to farmers while a few years ago it was 55 cents a bushel. The county produced 22,401 bushels of rye in 1925 with a valuation of $25,985.16 or about $1.16 a bushel.

Moonshiners it is said buy the grain and use it in the manufacture of "likker." In many instances the crop is bought before it is planted and in almost every other case is sold before harvest.

England might try prohibition. That would provide enough extra jobs to take care of the unemployed.

Some things will last a great while if pickled, but this isn't true of mortals.

Magnesia Best For Your Indigestion

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestents

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestents, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get oure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

THE NEWS BY MAIL FOR ONE YEAR $5.00

IN FIFTY YEARS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—In 50 years—

"Weight and coloring will be made to order.

"The trend of the mind will be determined by the things we eat.

"Every man will be known according to his wave length.

"World premieres of operas, plays and movies will be reproduced instantaneously in every home both by sound and vision.

"Ships will be without crew or captain and railroad accidents will be a thing of the past."

A prophecy of human progress, inconceivable in its scope, was today made by Lawrence Cockaday, radio engineer, attending the third radio world's fair.

"The radio of tomorrow will change the world," he said. "Today, we know but little—in fact, what we call knowledge is but a suggestion of the possibilities.

"It won't be long now before all theatrical productions will be perfectly reproduced—both sound and vision—in every home. Motion pictures even now are being transmitted by radio. They are as yet imperfect but should be perfected within the next year. Every home will have not only ear sets but sight sets.

"We'll be able to see the coloring of the star's frocks, as well as the expression of her eyes. We'll hear her voice, as well as see the setting.

"In the near future we ought to have radio-controlled traffic signals. I look forward to a green and red light on every dashboard, controlled by a central system."

"Amplifying devices of the radio will, I believe, be used in the diagnosis of conditions heretofore baffling to physicians.

"Radio will transmit power from a central heating plant for every household in the land.

"Every man will carry in his pocket his own sending and receiving set. There will be no trespassing on one another's wave length because by that time broadcasting will be on the low wave length which is more selective and more efficient.

"Communication generally will be much improved. In the next 50 years ships will operate without crews and captains, and trains will be so perfectly controlled by automatic means that the factor of human error will not even enter. There wont't be any engineer at the throttle who will fail to heed warning signals.

"Airplanes carrying freight will be entirely radio-controlled.

"Fifty years from now the poor man will live better than the rich man of today because manual labor will be a thing of the past. Every man will be in a commanding, directing capacity.

"There will be no dearth of crops, for the principles of radio will be utilized in forcing the growth of vegetation. Where we have one crop now, we'll have half a dozen in the future.

"The engineer will sit at the helm of the world. The nation with the greatest engineer will be the nation in power.

"War will be an elimination of the less scientific country. For future wars will be waged at a distance of a thousand miles with death rays and with killing apparatus entirely controled by radio. Even now the ray of decay-decomposing all matter which hits to the distance of 18 inches—is in the process of perfection.

"If weapons of that type are created we may look forward to either constant peace or the destruction of the world.

"Ultimately I look forward not only to the discovery of some means for inter-planetary communication but also to the solution of a greater problem—the problem of life."

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Strathie Mackay, who can sing three notes at the same time, has been engaged to sing at a London symphony concert. This Lancashireman with the unusual throat was discovered by Sir William Milligan, eminent throat specialist, in 1917, when he could only sing two notes at the same time. Now he sings three notes simultaneously and according to Sir William, he "sounds like a glee club".

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The "no more parades" movement has reached the Elysees palace. President Doumergue in the interests of national economy has closed his stables and the shiny cuirassiers and plumes of the cavalrymen no longer are seen in the presidential escort. The president instead of riding in a carriage in state, now dashes about in a motor car.

ESTERGOM, Hungary, Sept. 15.—Although she had just won a swimming meet here, established a record for the 110 metres in 26.8 seconds, and been hailed as a new international star, this did not recompense 18-year-old Edith Vernes for disappointment in love. As her fame was being spread she committed suicide by swallowing poison.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The Eton crop is passe and now it is the Boticelli bob. Bobbed hair worn as by angelic boys of Boticelli covering the ears and turned outwards at the end, with a fringe straight across the forehead, is now the mode.

TOKIO, Sept. 15.—The United States has its Helen Wills and Gertrude Ederle and France has its Suzanne, but Japan is hailing its Kinue Hitemi, who has now created four world records for women athletes in the running broad jump, the running high jump, the running hop, step and jump and the 200 metre dash. Kinue holds practically all of the Japanese records and writes sports for the Osaka Mainichi, a leading newspaper.

Chamber Issues Warning On Check Passer To Merchants

The following warning was issued from the office of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, this morning:

The Milton Chamber of Commerce advises local merchants to be on guard against a man signing his name as Gus Mourain, who is described as being 5 feet 9 inches tall, of light complexion and foreign extraction, who while in Milton drew checks on the Russel National Bank of Lewistown, Pa., at which bank it is reported that Mourain never had an account.

Mourain claimed to represent John W. Compton, Publicity Agent of Finley, O.,and issued receipts for subscriptions to trade publications as follows:—"The Shoe Retailer" and "Tires". The receipt issued carried the printed name of Mr. Compton. Compton is desirous of having Mourain apprehended. Mourain is capable evidently as he was able to cash one of the checks.

If anything has been heard of this man in this community, please notify the secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce or the Police Department.

GARDEN CLUB TO GIVE THIRD FALL FLOWER EXHIBIT

Will Take Place Thursday And Friday Evenings In Carnegie Auditorium

Final arrangements have been completed for the Third Fall Flower Show of the Lawrence County Garden Club to be given Thursday and Friday, September 16-17 in the Carnegie Auditorium on South Jefferson street.

The affair promises to be one of the best fall Flower Exhibits ever staged by the Garden Club as everybody is eligible to enter flowers regardless of whether they are a member of the club or not.

The New Castle Lions Club has voted to present a special prize in the form of a beautiful silver basket flower container to the person winning the most points for artistic decoration in bowls and baskets. The prize offered is worth winning and no doubt many people will make an effort to obtain the handsome gift.

Special Feature

A special feature of the Flower Show this year will be the display of an Economy Luncheon Table which is open to members of the Club only. The setting of the table is limited to ten dollars including dishes and linen. Those having a table of this kind are required to present an itimized account of every thing on the table.

The Girl Scouts are entitled to have a Wild Flower Exhibit. To the Scout securing the greatest number of specimens, a book, entitled, "Wild Flowers Every One Should Know" will be given.

The committees in charge include the following:—President of Garden Club, Mrs. S. D. Pearson; Publicity, Mrs. W. C. Meehem, Mrs. David Ritchie, Mrs. B. K. Thacker, Mrs. D. R. Harris, Miss Elizabeth Reis; Classification, Mrs. W. A. Pond, Mrs. E. W. Greiner, Miss Adeline Marshall; Staging, Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. Allen Urmson, Mrs. Norman A. Martin, Mrs. C. S. Royce, Mrs. W. C. Kennedy and Mrs. S. J. Bratchie.

DISMISS CHARGE AGAINST SOLDIER IN LOCAL CASE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Charges of a serious nature against Louis Whitaker, artillery private, stationed at Fort Myer, Va., by 16-year-old Lillian Davis, said to be from New Castle, Pa., were dismissed yesterday when the case was called for preliminary hearing.

The case was nolle prossed after the girl failed to put in her appearance to press the charge. Testimony was offered that the girl and her older sister had left Arlington county, Va., where the latter had resided, with the announced intention of not returning.

Two weeks ago the girl stumbled into the home of her sister, Mrs. Nellie Davis, and told in detail how, she said, she had been attacked, naming Whitaker as her assailant.

Garbage Heaviest In City's History

"More garbage is being collected now than at any time in the history of the department", said Superintendent Howard Phillips of the collection of garbage department today.

He explained that the condition is caused by the fruit canning season and corn crop.

Four trucks are employed in the collection.

"We work early and late and are doing our best to keep cans clean", said Phillips.

RESIGNED!

Neighbors—

Every so often when some one hears the people complaining about how those in authority are not serving them satisfactorily, and hearing them say that something should be done, that some one steps up and says "Let us do it." You hail such a person with a loud hurrah, put a cross opposite his name on the ballot, and then sit down and HURRAH for him. You forget that no General ever won a battle with his followers sitting down, and that describes the school situation here. I have done my best to arouse you to your own interest, and the interest of your children and grandchildren, and have quit because of my inability to so arouse you. You are so busy trying to make a living, trying to make ends meet that you have no time to make money. If you would take a little time to study why you cannot get ahead you would find what every successful business man knows, that he must keep his fixed charges down, and that is one of the reasons you cannot get ahead. Your fixed expenses are too high, and one of your fixed expenses is taxes. Yet, while you will pack the Court House to listen to a murder case that does not remotely concern you, there was less than a dozen of you there to hear the Ouster proceedings, which vitally concerned every one of you.

As this will be my last letter to you for some time, perhaps forever, I want to tell you a little about that Ouster proceeding, so you will know what you are up against. First of all I want to say there neither was nor is anything personal in the proceedings. The Petitioners acted against the Respondents as School Directors only. As far as we know, Love, Young, Campbell, Douthett and Nothdurft as neighbors and citizens are all right, but we believed that they, as School Directors failed in their duty, that is all, and you have a right to know why we so believed.

There were five items in the Petition. The first was unimportant, and the fourth and fifth were really one, so that left really only three charges of neglect. It would take too much space to write them all up, so I am just going to give you item number two. The Court displays the same logic in its answer to item three, four and five as it does to this number two, so that the Petition, Answer and Court's Opinion on item two is the meat of the proceedings.

Item two of the Petition reads:—That the majority of the board, Young, Love, Campbell, Douthett and Nothdurft did at a meeting of the board, held on 7th day of December, 1925 award and enter into a contract with L. A. Haug and others for the erection and remodelling of rooms under the Stadium, contrary to the provisions of Section 615 of the Act of May 15th, 1911, commonly called the School Code.

The Respondents' answer is:—The statements contained in the 2nd paragraph of the Petition, respondents aver that they are immaterial and irrevalent, and insufficient to warrant the relief prayed for. The respondents deny that at a meeting of the School Board held on the 7th day of December, 1925, or at any other time, they, or any of them, awarded or entered into a contract with the individuals and firms mentioned in said second paragraph of the Petition, for the work mentioned, contrary to the provisions of Section 615 of the Act mentioned.

The Court says:—The Petitioners allege that the Respondents at a meeting of the Board on December 7th, 1925, awarded and entered into contracts with L. A. Haug and others for the erection and remodelling of rooms under the Stadium, contrary to the provisions of Section 615 of the Act of May, 1911, P. L. 309. The Petitioners offered evidence to show that the Haug and Barnes and Clark contracts had been awarded and entered into previous to the submission of Plans and Specifications to the State Board of Education. By resolution of the Board, the bids for those two contracts were accepted on December 7th, 1925. The Haug contract bearing date of December 10th, and the Barnes and Clark contract dated December 28th, 1925. Plans and Specifications were submitted to State Board of Education on December 16th, 1925, and were approved with certain recommendations on or about December 23rd, 1925. The minutes of the Board show the approval of Haug's bond on January 12th, 1926, and the approval of Barnes & Clarks' bond on February 9th, 1926. From the testimony of James K. Love, President of the Board, it appears that the contracts with Haug, and Barnes & Clark were not executed by Love on behalf of the Board, until after the approval of the bonds. Under these facts we cannot find that there was any refusal or any neglect on the part of Respondents to perform any duty imposed upon them by the provisions of the School Code.

The provision of Section 615 of the School Code referred to is as follows:—No public school building shall be contracted for, constructed or reconstructed, in any school district of the 2nd, 3rd or 4th class, until their plans and specifications have been sumbitted to the State Board of Education, and any recommendations concerning the same by the State Board of Education have been laid before the Board of School Directors.

The contention of the Petitioners was that this act imposed a duty on the Board to have the State Board of Education FIRST pass on the Plans and Specifications, so that any recommendations that the State Board might have made, could have been passed on by the board and incorporated in the Plans and Specifications BEFORE bids were taken. This is the accepted interpretation of this Section throughout Pennsylvania. In support of our contention that this had not been done, we presented the minutes of the Board of December 7th, 1925, which contain a resolution recommending that these, the contracts, be awarded to the parties mentioned.

We also presented in evidence the contract of L. A. Haug with the Board, dated December 10th, 1925. All these contracts are written on what is known as standard form of agreement and begin as follows:—

This agreement made this 10th day of December in the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-five, by and between L. A. Haug, hereinafter called the Contractor and the School District of the City of New Castle hereinafter called the Owner, ...

And at the bottom just above the signatures it reads:—In witness whereof they have executed this agreement the day and year first above written.

(Signed) L. A. HAUG.
School District of the City of New Castle, Penna.
(Signed) JAMES K. LOVE, President.

Attest:
HUGH M. MARQUIS, Secretary

Summing up we offered in evidence the returned Plans and Specifications bearing the seal of the State of Pennsylvania, and dated approved December 21st, 1925.

We presented the minutes of the Board showing the contract awarded to L. A. Haug on December 7th, 1925, nine days before the plans were submitted to the State Board of Education, and two weeks before they were approved. We presented the contract under which the work has actually been done and paid for, between L. A. Haug and the School District of the City of New Castle, duly executed and signed by the President of the Board, James K. Love, and dated December 10th, 1925, six days before the plans were submitted to the State Board, and eleven days before they were approved. Against this there is the unsupported, repudiating testimony of J. K. Love that he did not execute the contract on the date which the contract bears. In cases of this kind, there is no appeal.

Now neighbors try and remember you voted last fall 32,000 against 19,000 for a change in the administration of your school affairs and did not get it. Find out why! You have read in the papers about the new school going up at East New Castle. Be sure and see it. I have the plans and it is going to be a nice building of 20 rooms, Gymnasium and Auditorium, at a total cost of $136,000. Three like it would house as many children as your progressive School Board has spent $1,400,000 to house in the last five years, and they do not think that they have wasted any of your money. The Withers Company business is principally Plumbing and Heating schools. We contract for about two schools per month. This lets me see many plans and specifications, and my knowledge of school buildings should have been useful to you, but in my nine months on the School Board no suggestion of mine has been welcomed by the majority of the board. I have been out of harmony with the majority from the beginning. I have raised six children and believe I know children's needs, and I also have had a very intimate knowledge of the value of a dollar.

The Citizen's League made a try to save the people of New Castle from going two million dollars into unnecessary debt. The League received plenty of Hurrahs, but Hurrahs don't buy children's shoes or printer's ink. The League is neither down or out, and will meet as usual every Monday evening at 111 North Shenango street, and those of you who do not come very often, as well as those who have never been there will always find the door open.

FOOT EXPERT SUCCESSFULLY TREATED OVER 300 NEW CASTLE PEOPLE ONE WEEK

Startling results were obtained by nationally known Specialist. Bunions, Callouses and Sore and Inflamed Joints particularly, yield to treatment.

During his recent visit to New Castle, Paul Viteto, famous foot specialist, actually treated over three hundred people of this city. These represented many who had suffered for years from foot troubles. The splendid results obtained were laid by Mr. Viteto to the use of the recently perfected preparation of Dr. Bower's, known as Dr. Bower's Bunion Paint.

Mr. Viteto says of this preparation, Dr. Bower's Bunion Paint without question marks a great discovery. Painful bunions, foot callouses of all descriptions and sore and inflamed joints yield quickly to its healing powers. People no longer have any excuse for suffering from these afflictions when for a small amount they can get Dr. Bower's Bunion Paint. I urge everyone in New Castle who suffers from foot troubles to go to Love and Megown or any other reliable druggist and get a bottle today.

Cancel Flight Till Thursday

New York To Paris Flight Attempt Called Off Due To Weather.

STORMS CAUSE CHANGE IN PLANS

(International News Service)
WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The New-York-to-Paris flight will not start until dawn Thursday, owing to unfavorable weather reports, Capt. Rene Fonck, the flight leader, announced early today.

Everything had been in readiness for a hop-off this morning, but because of storms off the New Foundland coast the French ace decided to delay a day.

The latest reports showed that there was rain for 300 miles east of the Grand Banks, and poor visibility for another 800 miles. This rendered the flight out of the question. The big Sikorsky plane, in which Finck will attempt to win the long-standing offer of $25,000 for the first New-York-to-Paris flight was wheeled back into its shed and Captain Fonck and his companions went home.

Before leaving the aviation field here Capt. Fonck indicated that there might be a short test flight today.

State Delegates May Travel On Special Train

Delegates from Lawrence county who will attend the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association convention at Reading October 13, 14 and 15 have been extended a hearty invitation from the Allegheny County Sabbath School association to use the special train that they are providing which will leave Pittsburgh Tuesday evening October 12 at 10 o'clock.

By taking this train delegates will arive in Reading in time for the first session Wednesday morning and no time will be lost. Delegates from Indiana, Cambria, Westmoreland and some sections of Fayette will join enroute.

There will be one day coach for those who do not care to use the sleeping car. Delegates wishing to take this special train from Pittsburgh can notify Mrs. William J. Marshall, county secretary and further information will be furnished.

EXPLOSION TRAPS EIGHT IN TUNNEL

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Eight men were trapped in a tunnel under the Missouri river here today when an explosion occurred where workmen were constructing a water main between Clay county and Jackson county.

All air passages were cut off.

Dry Agents Get Increase In Pay

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 15.—Each dry agent under John D. Pennington, regional prohibition administrator here, will receive approximately $300 more in his pay envelope the coming year than he did this year, according to an announcement by Pennington here today.

The increase came as the result of recommendations made by Pennington in a conference with Lincoln C. Andrews at Washington recently.

Files Injunction On Annexation To City Of Pittsburgh

Seek To Prevent Advertising Of Proposed Amendment On Annexation

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Edward A. Sweeney, Pittsburgh, today filed an injunction suit in the Dauphin county court asking that Clyde L. King, secretary of the commonwealth be enjoined from advertising the proposed amendment to the state constitution providing for the annexation of certain boroughs adjacent to the city of Pittsburgh.

Deputy Attorney General William A. Schnader, accepted service in the case for the state. The court allowed fifteen days for the filing of the state's answer.

Sweeney in his request for the injunction against king, alleges that the joint resolution providing for the advertising of the proposed amendment was passed at a special session of the legislature and is therefore null and void. He also alleges the king under those circumstances may not spend the funds of the state in advertising an amendment to the constitution which may be later declared illegal.

Baptists Open Annual Session In Warren, Pa.

(International News Service)
WARREN, Pa., Sept. 15.—The B. Y. P. U. convention having ended with the election of officers last night the regular session of the Oil Creek Baptist conference got under way today in the new First Baptist temple.

New B. Y. P. U. officers are Rev. Harold Stoddard, Warren, youngest minister in the conference, president; Melvin Thomas, Corry, vice president; Rose Stevenson, Titusville, secretary, and Evelyn Hirsch, Erie, treasurer.

Rev. Maurice D. Stevenson, Union City, opened today's session with prayer service and Rev. Stoddard delivered the address of welcome.

Moderator S. J. Arthur of Erie, spoke briefly to the delegates after which the annual sermon, "The Cure of Souls" was delivered by Rev. M. M. Courson of Wesleyville.

New pastors were to be introduced this afternoon.

Von Elm Wins In Amateur Tourney

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

BALTUSROL GOLF CLUB, SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—George Von Elm, Los Angeles, scored first blood in the national amateur golf championship this morning by defeating Ellworth Augustus of Cleveland, in a great first round match that was carried to an extra hole before the coast entry could prevail. George won on the 19th hole.

On the extra hole, Von Elm almost hooked his drive out of bounds but got well up to the green with his second and chipped on with his third for a par 5. Augustus was straight with his first two shots but manhandled his third twenty yards over the green and finally got a losing 6.

College Student Army Invades New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 15.—This little college town, the home of Westminster College, seems to have awakened overnight from the lethargy which has seemed to have enwrapped it during the past three months. Wednesday morning the streets were alive with incoming students. Old Main, that sedate old building which has witnessed the coming and going of hundreds of sudents, was the center of the activity, for registration began at 9 a. m.

According to Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of the college, the enrollment will be the largest in the history of the school. It is certain that 525 students will be registered while late arriving students will increase the total to approximately 550, it is said.

Never before has Westminster welcomed so many Freshmen. The class roll will total 200, with 110 of these being men, 90 women. Lack of facilities caused many women students to be refused admittance. Two new homes have been added to the list of women dormitories.

Seven new members have been added to the faculty for the year.

James W. Coleman, a graduate of the University of Arkansas is to have charge of physical education and will be director of athletics. He comes to Westminster from Akron University where he held a similar position.

Hunter D. Farrish A. M. a graduate of Harvard, will instruct in history, Lois W. Doolittle, A. M. will be an assistant professor of modern languages. She was formerly a member of the faculty at Coe College.

In the absence of Mrs. Sarah Conrad, professor of Spanish who is spending a year in South America, Junita Robinson, A. M. will teach Spanish.

Royal A. Gettman, A. B., a graduate of Swarthmore College, will instruct in English and public speaking. Rev. John Caughey of McKeesport, will instruct in Bible. He spent the past year at the University of Edinborough in Scotland.

John Lawther, who received his A. M. degree in Educational Psychology at Columbia during the past summer, will be a full time instructor in the department of Education. He is also assistant football coach and will act as head coach of basketball.

NEED REPAIRS AT MARTIN GANTZ PUBLIC SCHOOL

Wilkins Company Reports To Board That Building Is Safe, But Urges Replacement

In a report to the New Castle School Board, the W. G. Wilkins Company stated Tuesday evening that the Martin Gantz School building is in safe condition, but that minor repairs are necessary.

Rhythmic exercises are condemned because of vibration, and the company recommends that the building be abandoned as soon as it is convenient. While the building is not in keeping with present day ideas of schools, it is still safe, according to the Wilkins Company.

The board recommended the purchase of hair drying equipment for the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School at a cost not to exceed $300.

The Y. W. C. A. was granted the use of the Benjamin Franklin swimming pool, for classes to run for thirty weeks. Each pupil must present a certificate from a registered, medical practitioner, stating that she is in condition to take swimming lessons.

There was an absence of the usual grist of detail matters Tuesday evening, the board taking up most of the time until after midnight in the consideration of the bids for the Arthur McGill addition, and the purchase of the ground for the new junior high school.

ELECT NINE NEW TEACHERS HERE

Five Resignations Are Presented At Board Meeting On Tuesday

Five resignations of teachers were accepted Tuesday evening, by the New Castle School Board and nine new teachers elected. The five were Pauline Rhodes, Hazel Weike, Harold J. Vance, Leone Broadhead, and John C. Leonard. Harold J. Vance, formerly a teacher in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School is now teaching in Egypt.

The nine new teachers elected are:— For elementary schools, Dorothy Fisher, Jennie Laurell, Beulah Covert, Ruth Zerner, Maud Montgomery, Mary C. Marquis. For Junior High Schools, Raymond March, Agnes Driver and Lawrence Patterson.

Miss Driver is a daughter of Dr. Lee L. Driver of the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg, Pa., and was one of the speakers on the County Institute program held in the Senior High School the week before the opening of school. Miss Driver was the valedictorian of the graduating class of 1925 in Swarthmore College.

California Has Bit Of "Sahara" Scenery To Save Movie Directors From Africa

(International News Service)

GUADALUPE, Cal., Sept. 15.—A bit of the Sahara desert has been discovered in California. At Guadalupe, motion picture "location" scouts have discovered a stretch of desert country, which, it was declared, bears a closer resemblance to the topography of the great African desert than any other area on the North American continent.

Milton Sills is now using the bleak scenery for the filming of "shots" in "Men of Dawn." The sandy hillocks are overrun with Arabs, Chasseurs d'Afrique, French Legionnaires, save girls and cameramen.

A contingent from the DeMille Studio, working on "The King of Kings," will be the next company on "location" at Guadalupe.

Painters Ask School Board To Aid Them In Securing Wages

Three painters, J. W. Higgins, J. W. Gennarro and C. B. Harrington, employed by W. W. Burnside, presented a sworn affidavit to the members of the New Castle school board Tuesday evening asking that the money due Burnside for work done on the senior high school and the Pollock school be held up until they could get wages they claimed are due.

Higgins claims $111.24, Gennarro $115.74 and Harrington $36.83. They also asked that the bondsmen of Burnside be notified of their request.

School Board Solicitor William J. Moffatt was asked for an opinion in the case and said that under the act of assembly the board was not permitted to hold up Burnside's money, as it was not lawful to garnishe public funds.

Mr. Moffatt stated additionally that the request of the petitioners to notify the bondsmen should be carried out as they had a right to sue in the name of the school board for their use. Such action, while not making the board liable in any manner, would put the school district in the position of being "used plaintiffs".

Special Young People's Meeting At Bible Mission

Esther L. Schmidt, secretary of the Bible House mission, 10 East North street, will conduct a special young people's meeting this evening. The subject will be "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother". Scripture lesson, Exodus 20:12, Matthew 15:4-20. Miss Schmidt will sing "The Old Rugged Cross" and conduct prayer. Song and testimony meeting.

Mrs. Olive Loar, home missionary worker, will conduct the ladies' and mothers' meeting Thursday evening. She will be assisted by Mrs. Alice Schmidt, the matron of the mission. This will be a regular mothers' meeting.

Geneva Opens School Year With Good Prospects

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 15.—Geneva college began her 79th year's work this morning with the largest attendance in her history, her enrollment being approximately 500 which with her extension and summer school enrollments makes a total of 1,750 students. Two new departments were inaugurated the Gailey Foundation of Christian Education and a chair on Commerce and Finance, both of which were recently endowed—the former by J. R. Copeland of Parnassus, Pa., in honor of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Gailey of the same place and the latter by Mrs. Mary D. Myler of Beaver Falls, Pa., in honor of her late husband William Albert Myler one of the original founders of the Standard Sanitary company.

Prof. Rudolph Peterson, Ph. D. of the University of Iowa and Theodore McMillion, Ph. D. of the University of West Virginia, both of whom begin their work this year, were introduced to the student body as were also J. Boyd Tweed and Dr. John Coleman both of Beaver Falls each of whom takes up new work with the college.

Blindness Strikes Woman In Church

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 15.—Mrs. J. Irwin Zerbe, known in local musical circles as Mrs. Florence Wiley Zerbe, and the promoter of many theatrical productions during the past six or seven years, has been stricken temporarily blind.

Mrs. Zerbe was taken ill while directing the choir of St. John's Episcopal Church and no change has developed in her condition.

Uniform System Of Record Cards For City Schools

In a report to the New Castle School Board Tuesday evening, Dr. C. C. Green stated that a uniform system of record cards had been installed in the system here. His report in the matter follows:

We have discovered an unnecessary and wholly inadvisable variation among the several schools of the city in the forms used for administrative purposes. As rapidly as possible we are standardizing these forms. The advantages of such standardization are obvious.

A cumulative record card for individual pupils of the elementary schools has been installed. A copy of this card is submitted herewith.

All progressive school systems keep an efficiency record of their teachers. Accurate information concerning a teacher's service is always preferable to opinions based upon casual observation and unofficial reports. At the beginning of the current school year we introduced a Teacher's Rating Score Card, a copy of which we submit herewith.

The urgent need of a central stock room for the storage and distribution of educational supplies and equipment is apparent. Regardless of how much care is exercised with the purchase of property it must be accounted for after it is purchased. It should be readily available for use at all times and surplus stock should not be stored in basements, corridors, and other public places.

I present this recommendation not only as a matter of sound business practice but because of its relation to the teaching of thrift and other good citizenship factors.

Australian Pilot Reaches Rangoon

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Lieut. Alan Corham, who is flying from Australia to London, arrived at Rangoon today, according to a Rangoon dispatch. Corham was believed lost because no word had been received from him since he landed at Victoria Point, Burma, five days ago. It had been feared that he was lost in the jungle near Penang.

Electric Percolator Cause Of Fire At Swick Home Tuesday

Fire Burns Through Buffet And Into Drawers When Discovered

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—When a clerk in Swick's store at Frisco went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swick on an errand about noon Tuesday he discovered that the electric percolator had been left turned on and the melting metal had burned through the heavy buffet in the dining room and articles in the drawers were blazing. With presence of mind the young man pulled the drawers out and threw them into the yard, returning with water to quench the fire which had made no further headway.

The mother of little Ruth Swick had told her to fix the coffee percolator and bring it over to the store. Probably the little girl was thinking of school and other interesting things and just did not listen to the last of mother's warning "to bring the percolator to the store." The result was, she put the plug into the percolator and left it on the buffet where it dried out and was a mass of flames when discovered.

In the meantime her mother was busy at the store and probably thought that her daughter had neglected to bring the urn over to the store but in the rush of the morning didn't give the matter much thought untill the loss and danger of which she was reminded, brought back her earlier request for coffee.

Food Authority Lectures In School

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—Paul Sampson, famous food authority who has made his address "The Joy of Eating" before the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Ellwood City, addressed the local schools concerning the same topic on Tuesday. Mr. Sampson whose home is at Los Angeles, Calif., has been making a study of foods and their usages for many years.

Yesterday he lectured at the Senior High school in the morning and the Juniors building in the afternoon. The lectures given were of real importance of foods, in the keeping of perfect health.

At 3:30 Mr. Sampson lectured at the Trinity Lutheran church, telling the housewives how to prepare foods for the consumption of their families in order to make it wholesome as well as palatable.

Pittsburgh Man's Condition Better

Truck Is Overturned And Bursts Into Flames As It Reaches Bottom Of Hill

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 15.—William Maschmeier of Pittsburgh, who is in the Ellwood City hospital with a badly fractured skull and numerous cuts and bruises as a result of an automobile acident which occurred early Tuesday morning, is reported to be improved today.

Maschmeier, who was with the driver of the Distributors Service Company truck, going from New Castle to Ellwood, which did not make one of the sharp turns on the road, was thrown from the machine as it dashed over the hill.

The films which were being distributed to some of the movie houses were ignited when the machine caught fire, and the whole truck was soon a mass of flames.

The Pittsburgh man's name could not be learned for certain until friends came from Pittsburgh to identify him. He carried a driver's license in his pocket, but it was badly worn and the writing was nearly illegible.

Religious Committee Meets To Formulate Plans For Future

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 15.—All churches of Ellwood City were represented at the dinner meeting of the Religious Education committee in the M. E. church and a finance committee was named in order that this work can be carried on in the public schools, as it was last year.

Sunday, September 19, will be known as "Week Day Religious Education Day" and the ministers of the various churches have promised to either preach a sermon on this subject or at least make a special announcement in regard to a personal canvass to begin immediately.

The committee of finance named at the meeting included Harry Donaldson, J. I. Porter, John Hough, C. E. Zeigler and P. N. Harmon.

First Aid Kit Will Be Fitted Out By P. T. Organization

Ewing Park School To Be Dedicated Early In December, It Is Announced

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 15.—About fifty interested parents and teachers atended the first meeting in the new Ewing Park school building Monday afternoon, at which time it was decided for the organization to fit out a first aid kit to be kept in the school ready for cuts and bruises which are the results of playtime at the school grounds.

This kit will be furnished with everything, from scissors to gauze bandages, and will be used by the teachers of the three rooms where 175 pupils are enrolled today.

Mrs. W. G. Thorpe, president, appointed Mrs. W. C. Chancellor and Mrs. W. E. Bayers to select new wicker furniture for the teachers' rest room at the new school building. This room will be furnished by the Parent-Teachers' organization complete.

The nutrition class is to be carried on as it was last year, and plans were started for the dedication of the new brick building, which will take place the first of December. Officers will be elected at the November meeting.

Lincoln Building Gymnasium Initiated With First Assembly

Small Opening Program Precedes Address By Food Specialist In Gym

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—With 800 pupils of the Junior high school assembling in the gymnasium of the Lincoln school building Tuesday this room was initiated into its first meeting which took the form of a lecture given by the health authority Paul Sampson.

The tiers of seats in the form of bleachers on the south side of the big room were not filled and citizens of Ellwood who have been doubtful of the seating capacity of these bleachers will be sufficient for the basketball fans this winter.

A program was carried out at this first assembly with Dwight Conner the principal of the school in charge. Miss Bottorff, teacher of music, led the singing of "America" and the speaker was introduced by W. Ray Smith, superintendent of the schools.

This room is not completed. The floor is ready for surfacing and the walls will not be plastered this season owing to the deficiency of sums in the school board treasury. The large floor 50x90 was shown the speaker and he was given the privelege of doing his stuff.

M. C. B. Club Has Corn Roast Monday

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—Mrs. George Moyer's home on Fountain avenue was the meeting place of the M. C. B. club Monday evening. Members of the club and several extra guests enjoyed a corn roast in the back yard and later came into the house where cards were in play. Mrs. Joseph Swogger won the first prize.

Members of the committe in charge of the corn roast were Miss Sallee Hazen, Miss Edith Brown and Miss Claire Mickley.

Other guests included in the party were Mrs. J. G. Ferguson, Miss Josephine Hartzell, Miss Marie Benford, Miss Jessie Mort, Miss Gibson and Miss Sponsler.

KANSAS FLOOD DAMAGE GROWS

Small Cyclones Are Reported In Vicinity Of Hutchinson—Waters Recede

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Pestilence and hunger threatened the Kansas flood district today and in Burlington, where most of the flood damage occurred, a second heavy rain was falling.

Small cyclones visited Hutchinson and vicinity last night, causing thousands of dollars damage. Waters had receded in most of the 100-mile long flood area.

Red Cross and other organization workers were taking care of the sick families and hundreds of homeless farmers.

Two Burlington railroad trains were marooned in northwest Missouri this morning and heavy washouts had occurred near St. Joseph, Mo.

Next to the thrill of the first long trousers comes that of being introduced at a luncheon club.

Reading Wins In Massachusetts Primary Voting

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Victory of Arthur K. Reading, county district attorney, in winning a three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for attorney general, and the crushing defeat of District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk county for both the Democratic and Republican nominations for that office, stood today as the outstanding results of the Massachusetts primaries.

Congressional fights showed Congressman Allen T. Treadway far ahead of District Attorney Charles H. Wright in the first district, Republican, and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers decisively defeating Captain John Bordman in the fifth district, Republican.

Two Democratic congressmen, John J. Douglas and James A. Gallivan, were renominated.

Every quality you want in a motor

POWER—Only seven American cars have higher rated horsepower than the Studebaker President or the Big Six Custom Brougham. The Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan is officially rated the most powerful car of its size and weight in the world.

SPEED—Proved by notable victories over time and space, such as that of the Studebaker Big Six Sheriff which recently crossed the continent in 86 hours and 20 minutes—beating the time of crack Limiteds by more than 6 hours.

QUIETNESS—Insured by a motor of the quiet L-head type—today specified by 70% of American automobile manufacturers because of its freedom from valve noises and greater operating efficiency.

SMOOTHNESS—Studebaker spends $600,000 annually building balance into crankshafts. This insures smooth, vibrationless performance.

LOW UPKEEP—Operating cost records of fleets of 10 to 140 Studebaker cars in the service of large corporations prove lower cost per mile. The Studebaker factory sells only $10 worth of repair parts per car in use per year.

LONG LIFE—817 Studebaker owners have driven their cars 100,000 miles and upwards—and they are still going strong.

And the final proof is to sit behind the wheel and drive. When can we bring a car to you?

SWEET WORDS AND SHARP TEETH

Flattery!

The shortest, surest road to Mr. Rat's heart.

If Pat offered the fellow a piece of cheese he could have been no more delighted.

Mr. Rat shook his whiskers and, pouf! Away flew his rage.

Only a moment before and Mr. Rat had been sure that Pat was making fun of him. Now Mr. Rat was quite as certain that Pat was telling the truth.

"Think I'm wise, do you, Dog? Well, you're right; I am. It takes a very clever creature indeed to outwit a Rat. But you're not so stupid yourself or you'd not have discovered it so quickly."

"We are going to be good friends, I can see that!" barked Pat. Quick-witted little Irishman that he was, Pat had a bright idea. He wanted more than ever he had wanted anything in his life to get out of that box. Perhaps if he said enough nice things to the Rat the vain fellow would help him. "I not only think you're wise, Mr. Rat, but I think you're very handsome. What white teeth you have?"

Mr. Rat smiled, and Pat shivered. The white teeth were so very, very long.

"Now you've noticed them I don't mind telling you I am mighty proud of these teeth of mine!" squealed Mr. Rat. "I owe them a great deal. Never have indigestion, for one thing. They grind my food too finely for that. With them have I gnawed my way out of more than one tight place. And I have yet to meet the enemy face to face who will not run away. Even a Two-Legs dare not drive me into a corner."

Pat put one bright eye close to the opening and stared at Mr. Rat's white teeth—stared while he shivered again.

"How sharp they look! I'll bet you can do with they anything you wish. Oh, Mr. Rat, how I wish I had teeth like yours!" Pat sighed and Mr. Rat grew vainer and vainer.

"What yould you do with them, Pat?" asked he.

"I'd gnaw a hole in this box so I could see out the better!" declared Pat the Dog.

"Well, since you have the wish and I have the teeth and you're a friend of mine I don't mind helping you a little!" squealed Mr. Rat. Standing on his tiptoes, Mr. Rat began to nibble on the edges of the hole in the box.

Man Asks Divorce Because His Bride Has False Teeth

TORONTO, Sept. 15.—Because his wife has false teeth Jacob Kahrnoff a Montreal swain, seeks the annullment of his marriage to Ruth Leipsovitch. Court proceedings are being instituted under statutes of France which were passed in the days of Louis XIII.

At the conquest of Canada in 1763 a chief provision of the treaty was that in Quebec the civil law of France should prevail. And the civil law of France except as it has been amended by local statutes still prevails.

One of the enactments of Louis XIII, was as follows: "Whosoever attracts in bonds of marriage any male subject of His Majesty by means of rouge or powder, perfumes false teeth, false hair, steel corsets, hooped petticoats, high heels, or false hips will be prosecuted for sorcery and the marriage will be declared null and void if the accused is convicted."

It is claimed this enactment has never been repealed.

Again the civil code of Quebec provides that "when there is an error as to the person" the marriage may be attacked if proceedings are instiuted within six months.

Jacob Kharnoff alleges his bride "misrepresented herself as to an essential part of her person.' 'He says that he is of an extremely sensitive disposition, inclined to be psychic and that his material business depends upon his attunement with delightful surroundings. He says that from a child he always had a penchant for beautiful teeth.

Kharnoff says he became acquainted with Miss Leipsovitch, a young Jewish girl whose antecedents, like his, were Russian. He alleges he was attracted to her by the beauty of her teeth—teeth of matched perfection in two even rows of dazzling whiteness that lighted up her whole face. The courtship was a short one. They were engaged in January 1926 and in April they were married.

But a few weeks ago he discovered both her upper and lower sets of teeth are false. He alleges he was prostrated by the shock. He has been unable to eat properly since and his mind has been so disturbed that he cannot attend to his daily duties with his accustomed zeal.

Dozens of Jewish marriages were annulled in Montreal courts some years ago because it was discovered the officiating rabbis were not British subjects and therefore incapable of maintaining registers of civil status. The difficulties and confusion that this caused were so widespread that the legislative assembly had to pass a special enactment.

ERRORS AID IN LOCAL VICTORY

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Manager "Bill" Steen and his New Castle O. & P. league team gained the advantage game on Ellwood City last evening on the Ewing Park grounds, in the "Little World's Series" for the championship of Lawrence County, by snatching a 4 to 2 victory while the Ellwood team was fast asleep.

The New Castle team now holds a big lead for the county title, the Saturday game played in this city resulted in a 3 to 2 victory for the locals, and the game last evening added another notch to the crown of glory. The locals won the game at Ellwood City by taking advantage of poor base-running on the part of Connie Wardman's boys. Ellwood City had many opportunities to score runs, but lacked the veneer and finish of the New Castle aggregation in getting across with "smart baseball."

Ellwood City outhit Kimes the local twirler having eight safe wallops against seven for New Castle. Walter E. Kirker adorned the slab for Ellwood City and pitched his head-off litterly speaking but four errors coupled with the fact that the County League players didn't know what to do after reaching the runways cost him defeat, in addition Kirker crashed out a double and aided in the scoring of one of the Ellwood City tallies, it was not Kirker's fault that he lost the game last night and you may lay to that.

Locals Score First

The New Castle club drew first blood in the opening round by countering a stiff right to the jaw, Grabfelder was safe when F. Sanders tried to toss one over into Butler county in throwing to first base, but Pete Robertson coaching at first base forgot to tell Grabfelder to run to second on the overthrow and Grabfelder was tossed out before he could gain second base, Buzzard was safe when Brown kicked his grounder around in the dirt, and scored when "Sankey" McCullough tripled to deep right field.

Scoring activity was lacking for a considerable period and it was not until Ellwood City went to bat in their half of the fifth inning that the fans got a thrill, Hudson first man to bat struck out, Dallenbach worked Kimes for a free ticket, Kirker doubled to right and Dallenbach drew up at third, M. Sanders hit one toward third and Kirker ran directly in front of the ball, and it struck him in the leg and caromed away from Reeder, Dallenbach scored from third but was called back and Kirker was called out, F. Sanders scored Dallenbach for "really" this time by singling into right field.

Ellwood City's lead was destined to be short lived, New Castle's wrecking crew started things going in the sixth inning that produced three runs and gave them the victory in the bag, Weimer first to bat fanned, Grabfelder shot a single into center field, Buzzard doubled and Grabfelder scored, McCullough knocked one through the pitcher's box and Buzzard scored, Hoffman singled and McCullough tallied after reaching second base on the play for Buzzard at the plate, Steen hit into a double play Volpe to Brown. There was no more scoring in that ball game.

Paris (Kid) Cangie Is Flashing 'Kayo'

Junior Lightweight Making Strong Bid For Topnotch Fistic Honors

By JACK KASTNER

It is generally agreed that the statement made by writers in almost every city in which Paris (Kid) Cangie of New Castle has performed during the past year that he is the greatest hitter at his weight in the ring today, is just about the truth. Cangie added the 39th knockout of his career at the Erie arena when he sent Frankié Garcia, the Cuban lightweight, to the floor for the count in the first round of what was scheduled as a 10-round main event. It was short and snappy, a rush of fists at the retreating Cuban and the landing of a right back of the left ear, that sent Garcia down for the count.

Joe Lotta, the Rochester manager, picked Garcia as the boy to avenge the defeat which his favorite, Joe Trippe, suffered at the hands of the same Cangie recently. Joe made a bad guess. One cannot condemn Garcia as being a poor boy, for he had no chance to show what he might have. From the first tap of the bell until they carried Garcia to his corner, which was exactly two minutes later, Garcia did nothing but try to avoid the rain of blows that came from any and every direction and landed often.

A short left hook to the body forced the Cuban into a half crouch at the first blow struck. Frankie had a world of respect after that. A right to the body almost nauseated Garcia.

Then followed as wicked an attack as has ever been made on an individual in a local ring. Cangie was all over his opponent, hitting with triphammer blows to face and jaw, body and over the heart and giving him no quarter.

Garcia slid to the floor several times to escape the cannon-like lefts and rights that whipped first from one side and then the other. He was ordered to his feet twice but he was soon back to his knee.

Cangie crowded his man to the ropes before he got in position to let loose the blows which sent Garcia down for the count. It was a wild right back of the ear and Garcia went down like a felled tree.

He was out for 10 minutes after the blow. He was carried to his corner and his seconds worked over him long before they revived him enough to return him to his dressing room. Garcia never had a chance. He was licked before he started—Erie Dispatch-Herald.

Church Teams Battle Tonight

Central Presbyterians And First M. E. Battle For Supremacy Tonight.

GAME CALLED AT SIX O'CLOCK

The first game of the series to determine the champions of the New Castle Church league will be played at Centennial field tonight at 6 o'clock, bringing together the Central Presbyterians and First Methodists the two teams being deadlocked for the top rung in the circuit.

The Presbyterians and Methodists are playing a snappy brand of baseball and have far out-distanced the other teams that go to make up the church circuit. The Presbyterians at the start of the season looked like sure winners when they took eight straight games without a defeat, but a slump, natural to all teams came along and they fell by the roadside.

The Methodists by a super-human effort reached the first position in the league after several weeks of intensive play only to have the Presbyterians overtake them and climb up on the same wagon.

The Presbyterians will likely bank on Melder or Bush to pitch them to victory tonight while the Methodists have Baker or Leonard in shape for mound duty.

The game tonight is being played as a postponed game from an earlier date in the season. The second game of the series will be played at Centennial field at 6 o'clock on Friday night, Kirker annonced.

Ralph Day Leaves For Kiski Today

Former Star Quarterback Of Local Grid Team To Try For Kiski Eleven

Ralph "Scooter" Day, perhaps one of the greatest quarterbacks to ever don the uniform as a New Castle high school gridder, left early today for Kiski preparatory school to enroll for the coming term and also to become a candidate for Coach Marks' powerful eleven.

Day is rated as one of the best quarterbacks in this section of the state and for the past four years was a tower of strength to the New Castle high teams. Day's absence here this year will be missed while Kiski gains a real football player.

Incidentally Day will become a member of the same team that Tom McMurdo of Ellwood City will more than likely play on. Both Day and McMurdo were valuable men to their teams and it will be recalled that McMurdo outgeneraled Day in the Ellwood City and New Castle game that gave the Ellwoodians the W. P. I. A. L. trophy cup last season.

Dempsey Enters Secret Training

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—Jack Dempsey will pick up the burden of training here again today behind locked and guarded doors.

Fresh from a day of rest, untroubled by injunctions and threatening legal storms, the champion expects to get down to serious labor in today's work outs. Gone will be the easy fiddling with sparring partners and if there be any among the Dempsey collection of catchers who can not take it, they will not be among those present very long.

Newspapermen will be permitted to peep today and tomorrow but after that the workouts are going to be as secret as a corps of about 20 watchmen can make them.

Tonight the champion will referee one of the bouts on a card of fights arranged for a milk fund benefit by a local newspaper.

Bobby Sets Terrific Pace And Scores 73 For Total Of 143.

SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—The magic clubs of Bobby Jones paced America's foremost amateurs successfully through the qualification test for the national amateur championship to a dramatic finish on the sand-cupped links of Baltusrol here yesterday. Three thousand spectators trailed the famous Atlantan through another brilliant match over the rolling foothills of the Orange Mountains this afternoon as he raced ahead of the pack to post a 73 for a medal-winning total of 143. But it was not until three hours later, with dusk settling down on the links battleground, that they had the privilege of looking upon the day's most stirring struggle with Francis Ouimet of Boston, hero of bygone days, and young Watts Gunn, Bobby's Atlanta foe in the final last year, fighting for places in the match-playing field.

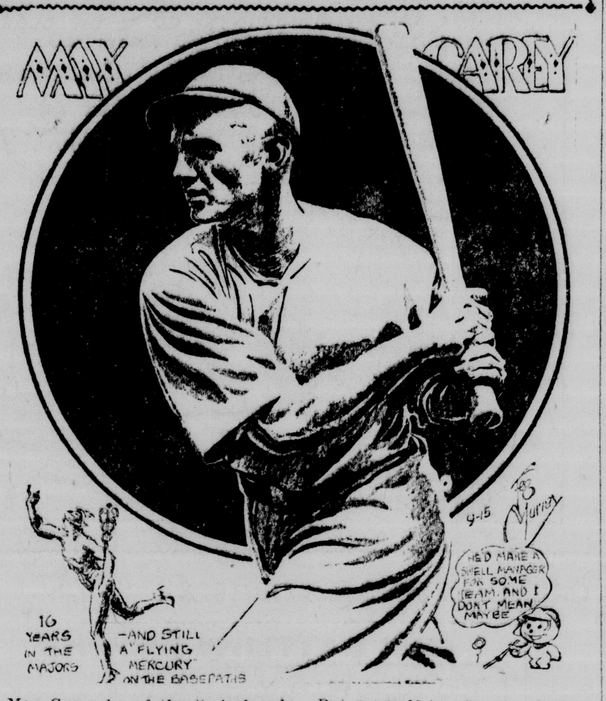
Manager Max? By Feg Murray



Max Carey he of the "misplaced zeal" is going to be a darn good major league manager in the near future, unless all signs and symbols fail absolutely. First of all he has the background, the ability and the personality; and secondly, he has gone to a team that could stand a new manager. Wilbert Robinson is all right in his way—and he weighs quite a bit too—but he is president of the Brooklyn club as well as manager and one man cannot be president and manager any better than one club can be bossed by two managers, as Pittsburgh is.

The whole "Pirate Mutiny" was very interesting at least to the casual outside observer. To the ABC's (Adams, Bigbee and Carey) or to Clarke, McKechnie and Sam Dreyfuss, the whole affair must have been somewhat of a nightmare. But good old Max must have felt better after 20,000 Pirate fans put their O. K. on him as he played his first game in Pittsburgh as a member of the Brooklyn team and helped defeat the proud Corsairs in their own backyard.

Put yourself in Carey's place. How would you feel if after being wrapped up heart and soul for 16 years in trying to make Pittsburgh win and after you had been the hero of a world series in which thanks to your efforts, your club came out a winner, you find yourself the following season deprived of your captaincy, suspended without pay and sold at the waiver price to a sixth place club? And all for being the ring leader in a so-called "insurrection" in which you acted as you did only because you had the good of your team at heart!

Well, I'm sure if Barney Dreyfuss had been at home, he'd never have let such a potential great manager go on the market cheap. The Pirates loss is Brooklyn's gain, no doubt about that.

Feg Murray Says.

If Tunney should get sick and be unable to fight and if Fred Fulton, the w. k. diver, should take his place on the program, would that also make Freddie a sub-marine?

Series Battle Here Thursday

New Castle And Ellwood City To Play Third Game Of Series Here.

GAME CALLED FOR SIX O'CLOCK

New Castle and Ellwood City will do battle here Thursday night at 6 o'clock at Centennial field in the third game of the "little world's series" of Lawrence county. The New Castle team with two victories under their belts will try to make it three straight from the county league champs. Connie Wardman believes that Ellwood City will take the third game from New Castle.

Manager Steen will likely send Hospidore back to the mound here Thursday night, with Coen as second choice. Connie Wardman will more than likely bank on Jamison again. Jamison went fine here in the opening game for about four innings then blew higher than a kite in a hurricane and New Castle started a slaughter.

Interest in the series is at fever heat here and indications point to an overflow crowd at Centennial field when the bell rings.

Having discovered that no football club wearing green has ever won the championship a club in Plymouth, England has decided to abandon its colors green and black as being unlucky.

Bobby Jones Big Favorite

Expect Title Holder To Easily Dispose Of Opponent Today.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

BALTUSROL COUNTRY CLUB, SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—Just as the hands of the clock achieve something of a right angle at 9:30 this very good morning, the first round of match play in the national amateur golf championship will get under way with official promptitude and the writer, without useless preamble, wishes to go on record to the effect that Jones will win. That constitutes official statement No. 1.

Official statement No. 2 is that Jones will lose and if you think I have a frayed cuff in my family closet you can think twice and save yourself some money. Two further facts about this first round are offered herewith for what they might be worth, which is an ample sufficiency.

Jones can't win.

Jones can't lose.

The philosophers say that everything depends on how one views a situation. When this one is considered in the light that Robert T. Jones, open golf champion of America and Great Britain yesterday's medalist and the defending amateur title holder through two seasons, has been drawn to meet Richard Jones, champion of nowhere in particular outside of Westchester county, the sage and learned character of the writer's observations is obvious. I am so absolutely correct that I'm even right when I'm wrong.

However that doesn't alter the fact that they pulled a soft one out of the hat for the great Bobby in the first of his two 18 hole rounds today. Dick Jones reached the semi-finals last year but he simply hasn't the stuff to romp in that society even if he hadn't drawn the greatest of all golfers as his opponent. This fact only serves to hasten the end. Richard Jones no longer will be with us this afternoon.

Pennant Races In Both Leagues

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. — Cincinnati holds undisputed possession of first place this morning in the National League free-for-all, having defeated Brooklyn yesterday while the Cardinals were idle. The Reds now lead St. Louis by half a game while the Pirates, who also won yesterday, trail the Cardinals by two games.

Chicago's faint pennant hopes went glimmering when McCarthy's club lost to the Phillies.

The Yankees and Indians who were idle yesterday, open a crucial six game series in Cleveland today. Speaker's tribe must sweep the series to gain the league lead.

Play By Play Record As New Castle Takes Second Series Game

By "BUGS" WALTHER

First Inning

New Castle — Weimer flied to Brown. Grabfelder was safe on F. Sanders overthrow of first base, but was out at second when Volpe snatched the ball and threw to second ahead of the runner. Buzzard was safe when Brown fumbled his grounder, and stole second. McCullough tripled to right field and Buzzard scored. Hoffman flied out to Byak. One Run, One Hit. Two Errors.

Ellwood City—M. Sanders singled to center, F. Sanders walked, Brown flied to McCullough, Cunningham forced F. Sanders at second, Volpe flied out to Hoffman. No Runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Second Inning

New Castle—Steen flied to M. Sanders, Reeder went out on a slow roller to Kirker. Gahles fanned. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City—Byak singled to left and went to second as Hudson went out from Kimes to Steen. Dallenbach fanned. Kirker was thrown out by Hoffman. No runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Third Inning

New Castle—Kimes fanned, Weimer beat out an infield hit, Grabfelder forced Weimer at second, Buzzard forced Grabfelder at second. No Runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Ellwood City—M. Sanders went out on a grounder to Kimes, F. Sanders flied out to McCullough, Brown went out to Steen unassisted. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Fourth Inning

New Castle—McCullough flied out to Brown. Hoffman fanned. Steen went out from F. Sanders to Hudson. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City—Cunningham beat out a hot liner that Kimes couldn't handle, but Steen pulled the hidden ball trick and Cunningham was tagged out. Volpe was tossed out by Grabfelder. Byak was thrown out by Reeder. No Runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Fifth Inning

New Castle—Reeder flied to F. Sanders. Gahles flied to Brown. Kimes was thrown out by Kirker. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City—Hudson fanned, Dallenbach had walked, and Kirker doubled to right field with Dallenbach taking second, both runners advanced a base as Sanders beat out a hit toward third. Dallenbach scored on the play and Kirker was ruled out due to having been hit by the ball while running to third. Dallenbach was called back to third and M. Sanders stole second, both runners scoring when F. Sanders poked a single into right field. Brown was out on a grounder that Steen gathered in. Two Runs, Three Hits, No Errors.

Sixth Inning

New Castle—Weimer fanned, Grabfelder poked a base hit into center field, and scored when Buzzard doubled to left field. McCullough shot a liner through the pitchers box and Buzzard scored, McCullough took second on the play for Buzzard at home, and scored when Hoffman dropped a single into center. Steen flied out to Volpe, who doubled Hoffman at first. Three Runs, Three Hits, One Error. Hudson was charged with an error for dropping a foul fly.

Ellwood City—Cunningham flied out to McCullough, Volpe flied out to Weimer, Byak fanned. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Seventh Inning

New Castle—Reeder walked, Gahles flied out to Kirker, who doubled Reeder at first. Kimes was out on a grounder Kirker to Hudson. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City — Hudson hit through short for a safe hit, Dallenbach singled to right, and Hudson went to third. Kirker flied to McCullough. M. Sanders hit to Kimes, who tossed out Hudson at third. F. Sanders fanned. No Runs, Two Hits, No Errors.

Eighth Inning

New Castle—Weimer went out Volpe to Hudson, Grabfelder was safe at first when Hudson dropped a throw from F. Sanders. Buzzard beat out a bunt and Grabfelder tried to score from third on a delayed steal, but was thrown out by Volpe at the plate. McCullough flied to Byak. No Runs, One Hit, One Error.

Ellwood City—Brown went out Grabfelder to Steen, Cunningham was thrown out by Grabfelder, and Volpe flied to Weimer, ending the game. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Illinois Bans Phil Rosenberg

Commission Names Taylor Champion; Rosenberg Fails To Post Forfeit.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Illinois' State Athletic Commission threw the boxing fans of Chicago and the Middle West into a panic Tuesday following its regular weekly meeting by announcing that the world's bantamweight championship match scheduled for Thursday night at Cubs' Park between Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, the titleholder and Bud Taylor, his foremost challenger, had been declared off.

It was further announced that Rosenberg and his manager, Harry Segal, had been suspended for life in Illinois and that Taylor would be looked upon in the future by the board as the bantamweight champion of the world.

It is estimated that $50,000 worth of tickets for the canceled match have already been sold. Money will be refunded, it was announced.

Failure of the champion and his pilot to post the required forfeits for the proposed match was the principal reason given by Chairman Oswald W. Huncke, chairman of the commission, for the suspension of the titleholder and his manager.

TILDEN DEFEATS NEIL SULLIVAN IN NET MATCHES

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Exhibiting the most erratic brand of tennis he has shown since becoming national champion, six years ago, William T. Tilden II limped to his second victory in the title tournament at the West Side club yesterday.

Big Bill, still favoring his strained knee, had as much difficulty overcoming one of his young proteges, Neil Sullivan of Bethlehem, Pa., as he did Monday in disposing of John Van Ryn, Princeton youth. The titleholder, finding few of his strokes in consistent working order, dropped his first set and was given a lively tussle before he gained control sufficiently to pull out the match at 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Hoodoo On Trail Of Indian Infield

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The Cleveland Indians seem haunted by an evil spirit which smacks down infielders as rapidly as the club acquires them.

This hoodoo started with the acquisition of Luis Guisto, a young Italian from the Pacific Coast League, a short time before the war. Guisto, young, strong, a good fielder and a whale of a hitter, had made a name for himself on the sunset coast. The Indians, lacking a satisfactory first sacker ever since the departure of George Stovall, hoped that in Guisto they had found a man who could fill the bill for years.

Guisto reported one spring and seemed destined to live up to all expectations. His only shortcoming was too much weight. He set to work willingly at the New Orleans training camp to take that off. He ran miles around the field, satisfied himself with a bit of aromatic spirits of ammonia on a little sponge instead of drinking water, and almost starved himself to death. He got his chance at first and was delivering.

Then came the war. Guisto went across and was one of the unfortunates caught in the early gas attacks which found the men unprepared. The climate around the Great Lakes region of Cleveland affected him when he finally rejoined the team. He was forced to return to the atmosphere of the Pacific Coast.

Ray Chapman, one of the greatest shortstops that ever played in the game, suffered a broken leg one spring which put him out of the game much of that season and later met an untimely death when hit with a pitched ball in the heat of the 1920 pennant race in which the club triumphed, despite his death.

Other lesser injuries handicapped the infield at various times. Then, last summer, the Indians bought third baseman Johnny Hodapp from Indianapolis. He reported last fall and showed plenty of promise. He was expected to start the season at the fast corner this year, Lutzke's inconsistent work giving the newer man the call.

Hodapp, sliding into second, broke his ankle and was lost for the season.

Manager Speaker of the Indians purchased Lou Fonseca from the Newark club of the International League for the reported price of $50,000. Fonseca was to report to the Cleveland club September 15. Four days after the deal was closed he dislocated his left shoulder. He will be out for the remainder of the season and the possibilities are that he may never be able to play at the speed he displayed this season.

Manager Speaker of the Indians had every reason to believe Fonseca would prove a star at second for Cleveland next season if placed there, while Freddie Spurgeon has played good ball most of the present season, the Indian bosses have not felt secure at the keystone sack. Now they are up in the air again.

Incidentally, Commissioner Landis may have to decide whether or not the Newark club can collect on Fonseca. He was still playing with Newark. The date of his reporting to Cleveland had not arrived.

Tri-State College Teams Invited Here For Mars High Game

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Faculty Manager of Athletics Ralph H. Gardner made the announcement today that the following tri-state college grid teams and coaches have been invited to witness the opening game of the season here Saturday afternoon: Westminster, Grove City, Geneva and Thiel. The teams and officials will be guests of the local high school and will be given seats of honor, it is understood.

Tuesday afternoon Faculty Manager Gardner had a force of workmen at Ben Franklin field busily engaged in erecting the wooden bleacher seats. The work of placing the bleachers the entire distance around the spacious field will be completed sometime Thursday, was the indication, and everything is in readiness for the opening game here.

Can Seat 8,500.

The wooden bleacher seats, it was said, will hold in the neighborhood of 3,000 fans, while it is stated that about 5,600 fans can be accommodated in the grand new concrete stadium, making a seating capacity of about 8,500 fans for the entire field. It is doubtful if there is another high school field in this section of the state that can take care of more fans than Ben Franklin field.

Bleacher seats are being erected along the northern end of the field and also along the western side of the field, with the southern end of the yard being left open, but it is said that small benches will be erected to take care of an overflow crowd.

The goal posts have been erected at one end of the field with the other posts being made ready to erect some time Thursday. The field this year is far better than last season. The muddy spots have been eliminated by grass, and in fact the entire playing field this year is a solid mass of green turf, thanks to the school board for appropriating a fixed sum for the sowing of seed and taking care of the growth of terra firma.

Gridders Indulge In Stiff Workout Tuesday

By "BUGS" WALTHER

That the New Castle High football team will be in condition for the opening game against Mars High Saturday afternoon, is a foregone conclusion. Never in the history of football at the local institution has a squad been worked harder.

Coach Phil. H. Bridenbaugh after two weeks of drill on the fundamentals of the game, hauled out the tackling dummy on Tuesday afternoon and the boys had a merry session of smacking the stuffed figure for over an hour. "Old Mary Ann" or "Helitrope" or whatever you choose to call it, suffered no little punishment as the result of some forty candidates each taking about four flying tackles.

Good Tackles Are Asset

Tackling as everyone knows is one of the most important phases of football. A good tackle is a big asset to any team, and if every man on the squad can tackle the defensive play of the team is one of the outstanding features, and that is just exactly what Coach Bridenbaugh is driving at, when he hauls the dummy out for rehearsal.

The boys prior to the tackling practice yesterday were sent through another of those famous signal drills, with three squads and a few hangovers participating. Signal practice lasted about an hour with the remainder of the time being spent in rushing the stuffed dummy.

While the coach was not very communicative on the subject it is more than a possibility that the boys will be put through another hard scrimmage session before the season opens Saturday.

The first string team is almost a certainty today, with one or two positions yet in doubt, but as a whole the mentor is rather well satisfied with the result to date and that means that New Castle High will have a cracker-jack combination when they take the field against Mars.

Gene Tunney Resumes Work

Tunney Hopes To Work Champion Upon His Heels With Uppercuts.

JIMMY DELANEY JOINS HIS STAFF

(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept 15.—Refreshed physically and mentally by a rest yesterday, Gene Tunney got back to the training grind today in preparation for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey.

"I am at the peak of condition and with just a week to go, I must be careful," the challenger said. "When I am absolutely certain that I am where I want to be I will cut down the work sufficiently to hold my form."

Tunney was to have his first workout today with Jimmy Delaney, the St. Paul fighter.

"Delaney is a mighty clever fighter and I believe he will benefit me greatly," Tunney said.

Gene believes Dempsey's style of fighting is "made to order" for him.

Dempsey's style of fighting is such that he is wide open to hooking uppercut from either hand, and his stance is such that he can be sent back on his heels and kept there," he asserted. "Now I have a good, strong left hand hooking uppercut, and if I can rock Dempsey up on his heels, he will be in a position where I can put the business on him in a hurry."

Hack Wilson Hurt By Pitched Ball

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Hack Wilson, star center-fielder for the Chicago Cubs, was hit on the head by a fast ball in the sixth inning of yesterday's game with the Phillies and was carried unconscious from the field.

Wilson was removed to a hospital for an X-Ray examination, following a preliminary investigation by Dr. Walter Strong, club psysician for the Phillies. The physician stated the outfielder had suffered a slight concussion of the left mastoid.

Last Night's Fights

AT NEW YORK—Bud Gorman defeated Franz Diener, German heavyweight, 10 rounds; Maxie Rosenbloom, New York middleweight, beat Jimmy Francis, Jersey City, 10 round; Babe McGorgary, western middleweight, won from Lee Willetts, Oyster Bay, N. Y., 10 rounds.

Joe Sewell shortstop of the Cleveland team has been hitting the ball hard this season. He is now in his seventh year with the Indians.

Football's Already Topic Of Day On Pacific Coast

By Central Press

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—For the first time since the advent of the University of Southern California into the ranks of Pacific Coast Conference circles in 1921, the Trojans are being ranked at the top in pre-season speculations as to the winner of the annual gridiron championship. Up and down the coast the word is being passed that "Southern California is the team to beat".

It is true that in view of candidates for the 1926 squads, the Southern Californians have an edge on other coast aggregations. No other university can point to twenty-one returning lettermen to form the nucleus of its outfit. The Trojans alone have a group of thirteen monogram men who have played together since freshmen. On top of this are twelve men who worked under Coach Jones last season without making letters and twenty-four numeral men from the 1925 freshman team which went undefeated through a program including a battle with the Stanford yearlings and meetings with two college teams.

Faces Real Tests Early

But not another team is forced to face its two greatest rivals on consecutive Saturdays in October—only a month after the season opens. If Southern California does succeed in winning from California at Berkeley on October 23 and Stanford here the afternoon of October 30, fans believe that the title situation will be just about settled that early in the season in spite of the fact that the Oregon Aggies, Idaho and Montana are still on the program. Then the Trojans must defeat Notre Dame to complete an all-victorious season, and this is no easy task.

With the possible exception of Stanford, who lost Nevers and Mitchell, there isn't a team on the Trojan schedule which even on paper is weaker than last season, U. S. C. football men state; and there rests no doubt in their minds but what Stanford, despite losses, will put a greater team on the field this season than last. Washington State, Oregon Aggies, Idaho and Montana have almost man to man, practically the same teams as in 1925. California starts with nineteen veterans, including twelve letter men; Stanford returns twenty-four from last year's squad, of whom thirteen are wearers of the Cardinal "S".

"Among Those Present"

Here is the list of material upon which these claims of "Southern California is the team to beat" are based:

Ends: Morris Badgro, Al Behrendt and Jim Moser, 1925 letter men; Gene Dorsey, letter man of 1924, who was out last season; Hugh Edwards, Fred Manlove and Ted Coffman from 1925 squad; and Larry Diehl, Howard Fallor and Maynard Taylor of last season's frosh outfit.

Tackles: Kenneth Cox, Bill Friend, Al Scheving, Clarke De Groote and Don Cruickshank, letter men last year; Jack Westcott, Sam Yocum and Henry Oudermueen, of 1925 squad; and Jesse Hibbs, Gene Beatie, Marion Morrison and Bill Bradbury, former freshmen.

Guards: Brice Taylor and Ted Gorrell, letter men, and Lloyd Hershberger, of 1925 squad; and Oliver White, Alvin Schaub, Hilton McCabe and Clayton Philips, from Freshman team.

Centers: Captain Jeff Cravath and Lyle Baldridge, letter men, and George Smith; and John Fox, frosh star last season.

Pirates Blank Gotham Giants

Kremer Holds Giants To Five Hits, Four Of Which Are Scratch Affairs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Pirates defeated New York, 5 to 0, yesterday when Kremer held the Giants to five hits. Frisch got the first blow with two down in the seventh, and outside of that none of the hits were clean-cut. McQuillan was routed by the Pirate attack, Greenfield relieving him. The box score:

Notre Dame Faces Hard Grid Schedule

By GEORGE A. STRICKLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Sept. 15.—Two red-headed captains and a wealth of experienced material would be tantamount to another national championship in most schools but out here where men are football players and women are nil, Coach Knute Rockne is passing the hours in stupified forethought, weighing the possibilities of "impending defeat."

Rockne faces another formidable schedule with a small team handicapped by the conspicuous scarcity of threat men. And threat men are to Notre Dame's football success what bats are to big leaguers—necessary, imperative, indispensible.

Notre Dame stumbled thru last year's campaign with only an iota of the phenomenal success which rewarded the exploits of the famous Four Horsemen in 1924. In comparison with the material at hand, last year's accomplishments were remarkable despite the unenthusiastic appraisals of Rockne himself.

But the ponies of 1925 would have been much more successful had they had a threat man similar to Elmer Layden of the Four Horsemen, or Paul Castner. Men of this type do away with the downright digging, which alone made last year's team better than fair, in spite of a tie and two defeats.

When Rockne assembles his proteges on September 15, the date set of the initial practice, he will marshall his rejuvenated coaching staff for an inexhaustive and concentrated search for embryo threat men and inaugurate an extensive program of personal instruction for them. If these plans bear plausible results, Rockne sees hope for another unusual football team. Otherwise, tag your own baggage.

The wealth of experienced material Rockne will assemble for the first workout includes the 1925 squad minus four men—Capt. Clem Crowe, end; Dick Hanousek, guard and fullback; Joe McMullen, tackle; and Rex Enright, all-western fullback. Augmented by a number of reserves and freshmen from last year's squads, this outlay looks well nigh unbeatable, providing, of course, Rockne can find a threat man.

The outstanding candidate for this important role, according to the campusites, is Neimec, a member of last year's freshman squad, who is said to possess all the qualifications of a three way halfback, for he can kick, pass and run with the slipperyness of a Crowley or Miller.

The two captains, "Red" Hearndon and "Rew" Edwards, boys of fiery hair and winged heels, are the two leading candidates for backfield berths along with Christy Flannigan of Corpus Christy, Texas. Hearndon, who hails from Green Bay, Wis., and Flannigan are halfbacks; Edwards, whose folks pay taxes in West Virginia, is a quarterback from Kiski Prep., Harry Stuhledreher's old school, who came to Notre Dame just as Stuhledreher was riding out with the other horsemen.

Barring accidents and other misfortunes, Rockne's line should be capable of the task marked out for it. A number of great linemen are enrolled at Notre Dame, a few of which have already proved themselves. The shifting of Joe Maxwell, of Philadelphia, from center to end and the development of John "Ike" Voedisch, lanky, rugged scion from South Bend, who is playing his second year of varsity football at end, will attract much attention.

Rockne, as is his custom, whether it be good or bad, has arranged a formidable schedule which necessitates thousands of miles of travel and the playing of ten games between Oct. 2 and Dev. 4, when the season will be concluded in Los Angeles against the University of Southern California.

The team will play on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts and will pick among other schools, Minnesota, the Army, Georgia Tech, Penn State, Drake, Indiana, and U. of S. C.

Tagging All Bases

(International News Service)

Carl Mays pitched the Reds into first place by holding Brooklyn to five hits, winning 5 to 1. Mays pitched out of turn at his own request and easily won his 19th game of the season.

With Ray Kremer yielding only four hits, the first of which came in the seventh inning, the Pirates came to life and thrashed the Giants 5 to 0. The Corsairs put the game on ice in the first inning when they made four runs after two men were out and knocked McQuillan out of the box.

Hack Wilson, star outfielder of the Cubs, was hit behind the ear by a pitched ball and carried unconscious from the field as Chicago lost to the Phillies 5 to 4.

In the military jumping competitions in the recent Dublin horse show Switzerland was first, Ireland second and England third.

Title Bout Is Called Off By Illinois Board

Rosenberg - Taylor Bantamweight Championship Bout For Thursday Canceled.

By GENE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago fight fans were reeling today from the knockout blow administered by the Illinois Athletic commission when that body late yesterday announced that the Charley Rosenberg-Bud Taylor bantamweight title match had been declared off.

The fight was scheduled for Cubs Park tomorrow night. More than $50,000 worth of tickets had been sold.

Chairman O. W. Huncke of the boxing commission, who made the startling announcement said, the commission had called off the fight because champion Rosenberg and Harry Segal, his manager, had failed to post the forfeit, required by Illinois law.

Rosenberg and Segal were both suspended for life in Illinois, the commission further ruled, and declared that Bud Taylor would be looked upon in the future as the bantamweight champion of the world.

Chairman Huncke hinted that efforts of Rosenberg supporters including a group of New York and Chicago gamblers, to influence through political channels the appointment of a referee, had much to do with the commission's decision to call off the fight.

Identify Man As Bandit Car Driver

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—Identified by witnesses as the driver of the bandit car, Dominick Simone today faced trial for the murder of R. L. Gump, paymaster, who was killed during the $45,000 Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation payroll robbery at Mollenaur on December 24, 1925. The county grand jury returned a murder indictment against Simone.

Fifteen others were indicted for murder in the 15 true bills returned by the grand jury in addition to the Simone case.

Mid-West Football Teams To Invade Eastern States For Important Games

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept., 15.—Despite recent campaigns to do away with intersectional athletics, providing for long trips by athletic teams, the midwest's football schedule for this season reveals a large number of games between sectional rivals.

Notre Dame, the eleven noted for its traveling, will play the Army in New York and in addition will figure in intersectional clashes with Southern California, Penn State, Georgia Tech and Carnegie Tech.

Illinois, minus the great Grange, will attempt to repeat its sensational victory of last season over the University of Pennsylvania eleven. The eastern eleven will journey to Urbana, Ill., for a return game October 30.

University of Michigan will invade the effete east for a game with Annapolis October 30 and will play Oklahoma A. & M. in another intersectional tilt at Ann Arbor on October 2.

Ohio State will play Columbia in a return contest in New York October 16, while Purdue will clash with the Navy at Annapolis October 2.

Florida will play Chicago on Stagg field here October 2 and two weeks later Stagg's men will journey to Philadelphia to battle Pennsylvania.

Nebraska, the always strong mid-western eleven, will combat the powerful University of Washington eleven in Seattle November 25. Last year the two teams played a tie-game at Lincoln, Neb., earlier in the season New York university plays Nebraska at Lincoln.

Attracting more attention among middlewestern fans than any of the above inter-country games will be the Army-Navy contest in Chicago November 27.

ELLWOOD CITY LACKS PUNCH

ancient trick on Cunningham, the "hidden ball stunt," this occurred in the fourth inning after Cunningham had reached first base on a hard hit liner that Kimes couldn't handle, Cunningham was caught fast asleep and with both feet on the ground, and it also made Jamison look bad, this chap doing the choaching at first base. Connie Wardman in fact had a severe headache before the game was over and he had a perfect right too.

Efforts Wasted

Ellwood City lost a fine opportunity to tally in the seventh inning when they found Kimes for two hits but again they "got lost" when they reached the bases and their efforts were wasted.

Kirker and Kimes both pitched a steady game and the victory gained by the New Castle team was not justly earned in the real sense of the word, due to the fact that several of the New Castle tallies could have been cut off with any kind of support behind the left-handed heaving of the popular New Castle artist.

Buzzard and McCullough were the leading sluggers for the New Castle crew, the former with a double and a single and McCullough with a triple and single, while Kirker and M. Sanders were the best stickers for the Ellwood City aggregation.

The third game of the series will be played in New Castle on Thursday evening at six o'clock at Centennial field, and Ellwood City will fight to the last ditch to save the series and championship from floating into the county seat. This much came from Connie Wardman following the defeat last night.

Mechanically Inevitable

in the

CHRYSLER "60"

The Chrysler "60" is the product of Standardized Quality—a new and higher order of manufacture which actually makes any deviation from its exacting and superior standards mechanically impossible.

Obviously, because the Chrysler "60" is a car produced under such a plan, quality is built in and the Chrysler "60" must therefore also stand up immeasurably better under the strain of hard service.

Sixty miles, and more, per hour; get-away of 5 to 25 miles in 7¾ seconds; gas economy of 22 miles and more per gallon; characteristic Chrysler beauty; astonishing riding ease and roadability; the safety of Chrysler four-wheel hydraulic brakes; oil-filter and air-cleaner; full pressure lubrication; seven-bearing crankshaft; impulse neutralizer; road levelizers front and rear; roomy, luxurious bodies.

Come in and see the new lighter six, Chrysler "60". Drive it—get the thrill of its smooth performance and comfort, then compare it with any low-priced lighter six-cylinder of ordinary manufacture.

We are confident you'll be convinced that nowhere will you find a six at its price that can begin to compare with this great Chrysler achievement.

Superior Performance Results from Superior Manufacturing

The Chrysler plan of Quality Standardization differs from, and is superior to, ordinary manufacturing practice and methods, because it demands fixed and inflexible quality standards which enforce the same scrupulously close limits—the same rigid rule of engineering exactness—the same absolute accuracy and precision of alignment and assemblage—in the measurement, the machining and the manufacturing of every part, practice and process in four lines of Chrysler cars—"50", "60", "70" and Imperial "80".

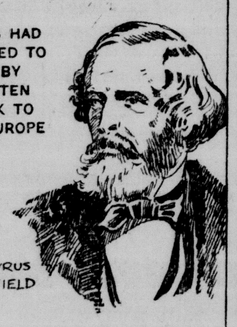
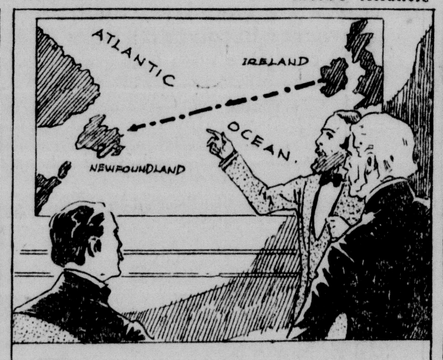
IN 1854, AMERICANS HAD BECOME SO ACCUSTOMED TO RAPID COMMUNICATION BY TELEGRAPH THAT THE TEN DAYS OR MORE IT TOOK TO RECEIVE NEWS FROM EUROPE SEEMED A LONG TIME.



CYRUS FIELD

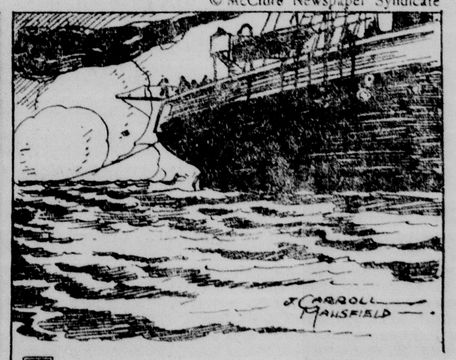
CYRUS W. FIELD, AN AMERICAN, BELIEVED THE LAYING OF A SUBMARINE TELEGRAPH CABLE ACROSS THE ATLANTIC COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED AND AROUSED THE INTEREST OF OTHERS IN THE PROJECT.

Field's Atlantic Cable Project.



IN 1854 THE NEW YORK, NEWFOUNDLAND AND LONDON TELEGRAPH COMPANY WAS FORMED AND PREPARATIONS FOR LAYING THE LINE WERE BEGUN. THE CABLE WAS TO SPAN THE ATLANTIC FROM IRELAND TO NEWFOUNDLAND.

ON AUGUST 7, 1857, A SPECIALLY EQUIPPED STEAMER STARTED FROM IRELAND UNREELING THE CABLE. WHEN THE CABLE-SHIP WAS SEVERAL HUNDRED MILES AT SEA, THE LINE PARTED AND THE ATTEMPT WAS POSTPONED.



A SECOND ATTEMPT (1858) SUCCEEDED AND FOR 18 DAYS LONDON AND NEW YORK WERE IN COMMUNICATION BY WIRE. BUT AGAIN THE CABLE BROKE AND NO FURTHER EFFORT WAS MADE TO RESTORE THE LINE UNTIL 1865.

FORMER NEW CASTLE GRIDDER IS VISITING

"Bill" Cunningham, tackle of the California Normal football eleven last season, and formerly a member of Coach Phil Bridenbaugh's championship New Castle grid teams, is in Greenville at present visiting his brothers, Corl and De Wayne Cunningham. "Bill" played on the Greenville High school team four years ago, and later, when New Castle was made his home, he played tackle for two years while New Castle earned sectional championships.

This summer he spent at Chautauqua Lake. It is understood he has no definite plans for this fall and may enter Thiel—Greenville Record.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Industrial stocks promptly resumed their forward price movement in the early trading today. In addition to the continuation of short covering, buying was stimulated by the favorable report of railroad freight loadings. In the week of September 4 revenue freight loadings aggregated 1,151,346 cars, the largest in the history of American railroading.

Transactions for the treasury involving nearly a billion and a quarter dollars tied up a considerable volume of bank funds and call loan renewals remained at 5 per cent. Industrial rather than railroad stocks were the chief beneficiaries of the bullish report on freight traffic, the inference being a huge increase in domestic business of all kinds.

Though the leadership in the industrial group was assumed by General Motors and United States Steel, the stocks of the moving picture enterprises attracted considerable attention by their strength and activity. Fox film sold above 79, while Pathe, Famous Players and Warner Brothers were actively turned over at or near the highest prices of the year to date.

General Motors pushed up close to 150 in extremely heavy trading, this price being equivalent to 225 for the stock before selling ex-dividend 50 per cent stock. United States Steel gained more than a point to sell at 149⅞. American Smelting sold in volume above 150. Copper and oil stocks continued firm but railroad and equipment stocks were inactive and slightly irregular. Commodity markets were steady in the early trading.

Macedonians Issue Manifesto In London

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—A new and defiant manifesto has been issued here by the Macedonian Revolutionary Organization, whose activities have been responsible for much of the recent trouble in the Balkans.

The exact location of the society's headquarters in London is unknown, the communications of the revolutionaries bearing no return address.

The latest manifesto, signed by General Protogueroff, who succeeded Todor Alexandroff as head of the organization, declared that the revolutionary body will "persist in its struggle until it attains the autonomy of Macedonia, which has been the goal of the organization since its foundation."

"As regards the means by which this struggle will be conducted," Protogueroff declared, "it depends on the attitude of the present conquerors of Macedonia, whether they should be legal or illegal."

Bulgarian officials here have declined to discuss the manifesto, as the Macedonian problem in Bulgarian is such a serious one that it might flame up at any moment in civil war. The Macedonians have sought recently to again lay the Balkans minority problem before the League of Nations, but they have been dissuaded by the French and Italian governments, who are opposed to having the minority question raised anew at Geneva.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAYS NEWS

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER

The German "Sea Devil" is headed for the United States. This announcement would have caused some apprehension during the late war, but his present mission is to be a peaceful and harmless one. He is coming as a lecturer.

Count Felix Von Luckner

"Sea Devil" is the sobriquet that Count Felix von Luckner, commander of the German raider Seeadler (Sea Eagle) earned during the third year of the war, when he played the devil with commercial shipping in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Late in 1916 a German submarine captured the 2-800-ton American ship Pass of Balmaha, the property of a British lumber firm. The vessel was fitted out as a raider, with Captain von Luckner in command. The Seeadler flew the Norwegian flag. She had Norwegian papers and photographs of the royal Norwegian family adorned her cabins. Her crew of 68, from Captain von Luckner down, spoke Norwegian. And on her decks and in her hold she carried lumber.

Thus disguised, with two 105-millimetre guns and 16 machine guns and provisions and water to last her crew for four months, she sallied forth at the end of December, 1916, on a cruise of destruction. Within ten weeks she had sunk 13 French and British ships. The 14th, a French bark captured off the coast of South America, arrived in Rio de Janeiro with 300 prisoners, the crews of the other 13 vessels, aboard.

Thereafter von Luckner had little success. He sank two more allied ships, but on August 2 his vessel was wrecked in a hurricane on the coast of a South Sea island. A month later he was captured and interned at Wellington, N. Z. Until his release at the end of the war British authorities and officers treated him at all times with the respect and friendly feelings due a gallant enemy.

Captain Luckner will visit the U. S., and later circle the globe, in a ship of his own—a sailing vessel of the same type as the Seeadler. The funds for the purchase of the ship were raised by a nation-wide appeal, particularly to the young men and women of Germany.

KIWANIANS ADOPT NEW CONSTITUTION OF INTERNATIONAL

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., Sept. 15.—The Kiwanis Club of Pennsylvania in session here yesterday afternoon unanimously adopted the new constitution and by-laws of the international organization, leaving open for amendment the question as to whether each club shall be represented in convention by three delegates instead of one, as at present.

The committee on resolutions is now drafting a measure which voices the objections of clubs with small membership to the three delegate proposition. Tomorrow the annual election of officers will be held and the convention place for next year selected.

"The Slick Guy"

Nearly every one of us has seen the checkered-suit person with the velvet tongue. How smoothly he once told of the merits of this product or that—and raked in perfectly good coin for purchases that were often worthless.

The "slick guy" is seldom seen today. When the wise person goes to buy, he knows what is good in value and fair in price.

Simply by glancing over the advertisements in your paper, you can see where to go for the best buys. You can compare values and check up prices without even stirring from your easy chair. You know in advance just what you are going to get and how much it will cost. And you can have the satisfaction that comes from knowing your money is wisely and safely spent.

Nowadays, no one need be at the mercy of the "slick guy." There are still a few people who fail to read the advertisements—and "take a chance." Don't be one of them.

Advertised products are safe buys.

Makes Progress On State Street

Several Other Improvements Are Under Way, Miller Reports.

F. F. Miller, city engineer, today stated that the State street paving project is progressing rapidly and that excavation is under way. The local water company is laying 800 feet of pipe and the P-O Electric company is lowering their crossing at State and Sampson streets.

Miller stated that the city would resurface the portion between the rails and when the Sharon-New Castle railway is abandoned and the rails removed the section would be properly paved.

Street department employes are resurfacing Terrace avenue and contractors are excavating and setting curb, incidental to paving Fairfield avenue.

Junior High street is being graded and the Harmony Railway company has been ordered to lower their track to grade at Allen and Taylor streets.

Dates Fixed For Civil Court Terms

Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning fixed the dates on which common pleas court will be held during 1927. A venire is to issue to summon eighty jurors to attend each session. Court is to convene on Monday of each week as follows: January 17th, February 14th, February 21st, April 4th, April 11th, April 25th, May 2nd, October 10th, October 17th, October 31st and November 14th.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Ladies Auxiliary
There will be a regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday evening, 7:30 p. m. in the Legion Home. All members are urged to attend this meeting as many events have been planned for the fall season and the assistance of every member is needed to make them a success.

Ladies' Aid Society
Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran church will have an all day quilting at the church Thursday. The first dinner of the fall will be served at noon.

A. U. R. Girls
The first fall meeting of the A. U. R. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church was held Tuesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Roy E. Graham, of Northview avenue, with Mrs. Jay L. Reed and Miss Helen Kyle as joint hostesses.
Miss Sara Rice acted as leader, conducting an interesting program. The Foreign Topic "Outlook for the Year" was discussed by Miss Mary Ramsey, and the National Topic "The Younger Generation" by Miss Theodore Pollock.
After the regular business meeting a social time was enjoyed. Miss Alice Nelson favored the girls with several beautiful piano numbers. The hostesses were assisted in serving dainty refreshments by Miss Ethel Moore and Miss Nelson, who were both special guests.
The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday evening October 12th, at the home of Mrs. Henry Bratschie, of Elm street.

First Baptist.
Section 4 of the First Baptist Missionary society will have a tureen luncheon Friday at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. C. Fralick, Norwood avenue.

P. L. D. Reading Circle
Members of the P. L. D. Reading Circle were entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ella Cole of Green street. The president, Mrs. Blanche Dillard was in charge of the devotionals assisted by Mrs. Mabel Taylor. Eighteen members responded to roll call.
A pleasing program was carried out with Mrs. Mabel Gardner as leader. "Domestic Science" was the subject for discussion. Papers were read on the subject by Mrs. Rebecca Baker, Mrs. Julia Wilkes and Mrs. Mary Almon.
Mrs. Gardner read a list of sixty different pies. Mrs. Julia Wilkes won the prize of an egg beater for writing the highest number of pies and Mrs. Julia Fitzhugh won an aluminum pan by writing the least number of pies. Mrs. Gertrude Anderson and Beulah Donnell were special guests.
Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her grand daughter, Beulah Donnell.

Opens Branch In New Castle

Believing in the possibilities of the electrical appliance sale to homes in this vicinity the Service Appliance Company, a very large retail home appliance company has opened a branch in this city at 337 East Washington street. This company in the past three years has opened branches in about 100 cities.
E. G. Haines is the manager of the local store and he comes here with a wealth of knowledge about electrical appliances. He will be in direct charge of the selling force from the local branch.

Senator Broussard Appears Winner

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—Renomination of Senator Edwin E. Broussard, Democrat, appeared probable on the basis of returns from all sections of the state today.
With the city count complete and 831 out of 1,084 precincts in the parish reported, Senator Broussard was leading his opponent, J. Y. Sanders, by a majority of 4,307 votes.
J. Zach Spearing has been renominated for Congress from the second district by a commanding majority over three opponents, virtually complete returns showed this morning.

Everybody wonders whether Coolidge will run again—except, perhaps, the few men who decide such things.

What this country needs is equality of pocketbooks before the law.

GIRL FATALLY HURT BY TRUCK AT NOON

Pearson Street Girl Is Killed By Auto Truck

Machine Backs Over Her Unbeknown To Truck Driver.

NO CHILDREN SEEN BEFORE ACCIDENT

Girl, Iolando Russo, 3 Years Of Age, Is Instantly Killed In Mishap.

Yolanda Russo, aged 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicola Russo, 512 Pearson street, was instantly killed at noon today when run over by a truck operated by Harold Shuler, rear 710 Chestnut street, employed as a driver for the W. F. Dufford company. The truck passed over the girl's head. So far as could be learned there were no witnesses to the unfortunate accident.

According to Shuler, he operated the furniture truck, south through Pearson street, as he had a rug to deliver to a Pearson street home. He parked the truck in front of a touring car, a short distance beyond the intersection of Pearson street and Blunston avenue.

Backs Truck

"I delivered the rug and came out of the house. I walked around the rear of my truck. I got into the truck and commenced backing slowly on account of the touring car being behind me. I intended to back so that I could make a turn into Blunston avenue.

"I backed about the length of the truck and I looked out and saw the little girl lying in the street. I carried the child to the sidewalk and summoned Mrs. Roberts, to whom I had delivered a rug."

Shuler says that when he came from the house and passed in the rear of the truck to get into it, he saw no children anywhere.

He was so nervous following the accident he was unable to drive his truck.

France Protests Actions Of Mob

Anti - French Demonstrations In Italy Cause Matter Of Official Protest.

(International News Service)

PARIS, Sept. 15.—France has made three energetic protests to Italy against anti-French demonstrations which have occurred in Italy since the attempt to assassinate Premier Mussolini, the foreign office announced today.

Following the announcement that Gino Lucetti, the would be assassin of Mussolini had been in exile in France. Crowds gathered before the French consulate at Livourne and Trieste and stoned the consulates and hissed the occupants, the foreign office stated.

These actions, together with the comment of the Italian press and the speech made by Premier Mussolini warning foreign nations against harboring anti-Fascists, have caused the French government to register repeated protests. Premier Poincare himself making protest to the Italian ambassador to France.

Award Contracts For Eight Room Addition To McGill School

Contracts for the erection of an eight room addition to the Arthur McGill School were let Tuesday evening when the New Castle School Board met.

The general contract was awarded to George W. Lusk at his bid of $76,100.00, the plumbing contract to the Stevenson Company at their bid of $4,568.00, and the electric wiring bid to the Marvin Electric Company at their bid of $2,600.00. Because of some changes which will have to be made, the contract for the heating and ventilating was not let, all bids being rejected. New bids will be asked.

All Local Firms

It is a rather pleasing thing to know that all the successful bidders are New Castle concerns. The successful bidder for the general contract, George W. Lusk, built the McGill school as it is today and it is rather a coincidence that he gets the contract to enlarge it to the splendid building it will be.

Other bids on the general contract were R. A. Eckles, $94,167.00; L. A. Haug, Jr., $83,206.00; A. A. Hoyland, $78,797.00; Nicholas Miller, $80,805.00; Smith and Bauman, $79,975.00 and Albert C. Lusk, $95,200.00.

The Bradford Plumbing Company was the only other bidder on the plumbing aside from the Stevenson Company. The Bradford bid was $5,780.00.

For the wiring, two other concerns besides the Marvin Company bid. The bids were, Bartley Electric Company, $2,987.00 and the Delmer Electric Company, $2,600.00.

On the heating there were four bids, the W. M. Clark Company being low at $15,438.00. Other bidders were Bradford Plumbing Company, $19,812.00; W. J. Scholl Company, $16,990.00 and The Stevenson Company, $17,607.00.

Board Purchases Site For Proposed New Junior High

Nine And Half Acres Near Euclid And Carlisle Streets Secured.

MEMBERS AUTHORIZE PURCHASE TUESDAY

Plans For Building Will Be Prepared--May Let Contract In Spring.

Definite steps towards the erection of a new junior high school building in New Castle, to replace the present North Street Junior High school were taken Tuesday evening, September 14 when the Board of School Directors authorized the purchase of several parcels of land lying between Mercer street on the west, Euclid avenue on the south, Carlysle street on the east and the property of the Stewart Thompson heirs on the north.

The price to be paid for the parcels totals $25,820.00, with two small pieces yet to be purchased. These are expected to increase the aggregate but little. In area the land is about 9½ acres, and will be one unbroken stretch running between Mercer and Carlysle streets.

Preliminary Steps Immediately

The secretary of the board, Hugh M. Marquis, was authorized to secure the services of an engineer to draw a contour map of the property, to aid the architect, A. L. Thayer in drawing plans for the new building.

The work on specifications will start immediately and it is expected that bids will be asked in the March meeting of 1927, and let in the April meeting. Assuming that no untoward delays are encountered, the new building will be ready for occupancy about September 1, 1928, according to Architect A. L. Thayer. With the building of this new junior high school, it is anticipated that the Martin Gantz school will be abandoned and the present North Street Junior High school taken over by the Martin Gantz pupils.

The land to be purchased is in four pieces. One piece belongs to

Plan Dismissal Of Dry Agents

Pennington Makes Announcement In Regard To Dismissal From Service.

MAY BE HELD FOR ALLEGED RAIDS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—Earl Farner and Amith Moore, dry agents stationed at Uniontown, Pa., will be discharged from the prohibition enforcement service, and may possibly be held for county authorities as the result of their alleged raids on three farms near Greensburg, Pa., without warrants John D. Pennington, enforcement director for western Pennsylvania said here today.

Pennington, who was highly incensed at reports that the two agents had handcuffed Earl Krobok, farmer, to his automobile, and raided his farm, indicated that he had received reports on the case from F. I. Williams, his investigator, the nature of which would justify discharge of the two agents.

"There is a possibility that the two men will be held to determine whether or not they violated any criminal statutes during their raid," Pennington said.

Governor Pinchot Appoints Martin Allegheny Judge

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot today announced the appointment of Richard W. Martin of Pittsburgh, member of the state public service commission, as a judge in common pleas court of Allegheny county. He will succeed Mayor Charles H. Kline of Pittsburgh, who resigned the position last January when he became mayor.

With the appointment of Martin all judge vacancies in the state were filled, the governor recently having appointed a judge on the York county bench and another in Allegheny county.

Premier King Returns To Power In Canada

(International News Service)

OTTOWA, Ont., Sept. 15. — As an aftermath of the defeat of the Meighen ministry in the general elections yesterday, which will see Premier Mackenzie King returned to power, it was indicated today that King and his ministry when sworn in will immediately have a Royal commission investigation of smuggling between Canada and United States and will confer with General Andrews of the United States prohibition forces to halt the flow of liquor across the border.

Today the high lights of the landslide that ousted the Meighen ministry are:

King will have 118 liberal followers in the new parliament.

As a consequence, the balance of power in the new house will again be held by progressives, progressive-liberals, laborites and independents.

Meighen has been defeated in Portage La Prairie, his former constituency.

The present indications are that the conservative representation in the house will be 80.

Meighen is expected to summon a meeting of his cabinet at once to prepare for the government's resignation.

Defeat of the ministry and of the conservative high tariff has been fairly decisive. The premier himself has gone down with five of his ministers, his party failed to make a breach in the Quebec liberal citadel and in every province excepting Nova Scotia and British Columbia, conservatism rolled up before the onslaught of King and his auxiliaries.

Mexican Film Star Threatens Suit Over Charge She Aided Mex Rebel

Dolores Del Rio , beautiful society leader and a member of one of Mexico's "first families," who came to Hollywood a year ago to fulfill a movie contract, is threatening to bring a libel suit against a Mexican paper published in San Diego which carried a story saying she furnished a $20,000 bail bond for the release of General Enrique Estrada, leader of a rebel army recently captured with arms and ammunition as they were about to attack Lower California. Miss Del Rio demands a retraction and has cabled President Calles asking his aid.

McFATE TO HEAD CHEST

Elected As President Of Community Chest For Coming Year.

J. Lee McFate was elected president of the New Castle Community Chest at the organization meeting held by the board of directors.

Former president, Thomas H. Hartman was elected to the vice presidency and C. D. Parker was named secretary. The Safe Deposit and Trust company was continued as treasurer.

The 18 directors elected by the delegates from the various interested institutions a week ago took part in the election.

The meeting and election of the new directorate was held jointly with a regular meeting of the old board when the routine business of the Community Chest including periodical disbursements were made.

No date for the Community Chest campaign was set at the meeting but this matter is expected to be decided upon at a meeting in the near future. The meeting was held in the chest headquarters in the Safe Deposit and Trust company building on North Mercer street.

GREEN WINS IN MICHIGAN

Governor Groesbeck, Out For Fourth Term Is Far Behind In Eearly Returns.

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15.—Fred W. Green, mayor of Ionia, winner of the Republican nomination for governor in yesterday's primary election, continued today to pile up his lead over Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck, fourth term aspirant. Lieut. Gov. George W. Welsh, was battling with Luren D. Dickinson for second place on the ticket.

Green came into Wayne county, (in the past a Groesbeck stronghold) with a majority of 127,000 and was holding it as the vote was being tabulated slowly.

The vote:—2196 precincts out of 2935 for governor gives: Green 298,755. Groesbeck 171,310.

Lewis Returns From Convention

Sam Lewis of the Williams-Cleveland agency has returned from Chicago where he attended a convention of the Quarter Million Dollar club of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company.

The convention was held in the Edgewater Beach hotel and in addition to being the representative from Lawrence county Mr. Lewis was on the program of the convention.

Vermont Voters Nominate Weeks

(International News Service)

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 15.—The Republican nomination for governor was won by Ex-Judge John E. Weeks of Middlebury, in a three-cornered contest, primary returns revealed today. The vote was:

Weeks, 23,230; former State Senator Max W. Powell, 14,487, and Lieut. Gov. Walter K. Farnsworth, 10,033.

In the only other hot contest—that for the Republican congressional nomination in the first district, the vote was Congressman Elbert S. Bingham, 10,213, and State Senator Martin S. Vilas, 5,225.

Withers Resigns Membership In School Board

Formal Resignation Is Presented And Accepted At Meeting Last Night.

Resignation Comes As Surprise To Other Members Of Board.

At the meeting of the New Castle School Board held Tuesday evening, the resignation of Robert T. Withers, a member of the board was presented and accepted.

The resignation was unexpected and was received at the office of the secretary only a few hours before the meeting of the board convened. There was no discussion of the resignation, the board accepting it with one dissenting vote, that of Andrew Dietterle. The letter of resignation which is self explanatory, follows:

New Castle, Pa.,
September 14, 1926.

School District of the City of New Castle,
Mr. James K. Love, President,
Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Board:

I herewith tender you my resignation as a member of the Board of School Directors of the School District of the City of New Castle, to take effect immediately.

I have not, neither could I expect in the near future, to be in harmony with the majority of the board and as harmony is essential for the best interest of the children and taxpayers, I take this action in the hope that harmony may be brought about.

ROBERT T. WITHERS.

The board has thirty days in which to appoint a successor to Mr. Withers and whoever this will be, will serve until a general municipal election can be held. This will be in the fall of 1927 so that the successor will serve about a year.

Mr. Withers was elected in November 1925 and took office shortly after.

Steamer Sinks During Storm

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The British freighter loyal citizen sank in a tropical storm off the Florida coast during the night and her crew of thirty are afloat in lifeboats or drowned, according to information received today by naval communications from the Dutch tanker Denbaag.

The tanker captain reported he answered the S. O. S. call from the sinking freighter but saw no sign of it when he reached her position given in the distress signal.

Weller Holds Slight Lead In Jersey Primary

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Senator O. E. Weller and Representative Philip Hill, his "wringing wet opponent", were running a neck-and-neck race today for the Republican senatorial nomination, as late returns drifted in from outlying districts.

At an early hour this morning Weller had a slight lead and claimed the nomination.

EAST BROOK FARMER DIES AS RESULT OF ATTACK NEAR HOME

Two New Castle Men And Woman In Custody, Charged With Crime.

ALTERCATION OCCURS IN LANE AT FARM

Joseph Richeal, 58, Victim Of Blow On Head—Three Arrested Deny Charge.

Charges of murder were made this morning before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton by County Detective George S. Kennedy against Clifford Johnson, Gilbert Blackford and Mrs. Minnie Clements. When the charges were read to the three defendants, they all pleaded not guilty and were remanded to the county jail without bail to await a hearing to be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the office of Alderman Hamilton. Coroner J. P. Caldwell will hold an inquest at the same time and place.

Joseph Richeal, aged 58, widely known farmer of the East Brook road district in Hickory township, east of the city, is dead, as a result of an evident murderous assault last night about eight o'clock Eastern Standard time, with an object, which has not as yet been fully determined.

He was struck on the head during an argument with three persons, two men and a woman, whom he found trespassing on his own and a neighbor's land, and whom he thought might be taking corn and other farm products. His two sons, William, aged 15, and David, aged 18, were with him at the time.

Hold Three in Jail.

At the county jail Sheriff H. M. Reynolds has in custody three persons, held for investigation of their alleged connection with the death of Mr. Richeal. They were arrested within approximately an hour after the occurrence.

They are Clifford E. Johnson, 924 Maryland avenue, owner and driver of the machine, whom the sons of the dead man allege struck the blow that killed their father; Gilbert Blackford, 138 Hillcrest avenue, and Mrs. Minnie Clements, 628 East Long avenue. The persons under arrest deny that any blows were struck by them.

The nature of the charges to be made against the two men will be determined following an investigation by County Detective George S.

Senator Caraway Urges President Act On War Debt

Arkansas Senator Returns From European Trip Bitter Toward France.

URGES COOLIDGE TO ISSUE ULTIMATUM

Will Propose Legislation To Have Bodies Of American Soldiers Brought Home.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A challenge to President Coolidge to demand from France payment in full or "complete repudiation" of her $4,000,000,000 war debt was voiced here today by Senator T. H. Caraway, (D., of Arkansas), just returned from an European tour.

Much incensed at the Anti-American sentiment in France, Caraway declared the present debt funding agreement, "cancelling half the debt" and giving the French people 62 years to "pay the remainder," should be abandoned. He called on the President to take this action and issue an ultimatum to France to "pay in full or repudiate in full" the money loaned her by the American people during the war. No other course, said Caraway, will restore American prestige abroad.

Caraway Incensed

Like a half dozen other members of the overseas delegation of the senate, Caraway returned from France filled with resentment against the French government and French people. He took offense not only at the French government's attitude on the debt question but toward the "contemptuous disregard" of the French people for the nation which helped them during the war.

"As every other American, it is unthinkable to suggest canceHation of the French debt," said Caraway. "I feel President Coolidge has an opportunity of a lifetime to

Three days till the whistle blows, and the pigskin sails in the air, three days more till the season starts, and brother I'm going to be there. Up in the stands with the rabid fans, who root for the team to win, up with the folks who are loyal and true, when the fotball tussle begins. Three more days till the game begins, the game that is mainly sport, and the three days wait will be anxious ones, days that I hope are short. And then for the whistle that sends them in, to scrimmage and grub and fight, on a field that dirties their uniforms, and leaves the players a sight. Three days till we're out there folks, rooting like me and you, for eleven men who will fight to win, the weather is eighty-two.

Make Special Charge To Grand Jury In Hall-Mills Murder

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 15.—State Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker, who recently ruled that a prima facie case had ben established against the three defendants in the Hall-Mills murder mystery, today made a special charge to the grand jury which will be asked to return indictments.

"For reasons satisfactory to the court", Justice Parker told the jurors, "you have been recalled here today for the special purpose of considering the evidence relating to the alleged murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, some four years ago, with a view of ascertaining whether one or more indictments ought to be found in this matter, and if so, who should be the parties indicted.

"Three persons up to this time have been arrested charged with the crime; the first is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the deceased clergyman, who is out on bail; the other two are her brother, Willie Stevens, and her cousin, Henry Carpender, who are held wihout bail."

Hope To Reach Entombed Miners Some Time Today

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Reports at noon today from rescue crews attempting to reach eight men imprisoned 300 feet below the bed of the Missouri river in a tunnel, indicated rescue of the men or recovery of them would not be accomplished before this afternoon, according to Charles S. Forman, general superintendent of the city water department. Drillers had encountered heavy falls of rock.

WIFE KILLS HUSBAND AND ENDS BEATINGS

MASONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 15.—After being knocked down by her husband, Michael Megansic, in their home at New Geneva, last night, Mrs. Princess Megansic fired two shots at him and inflicted wounds from which he died soon after.

Megansic and his wife quarreled earlier in the evening and Mrs. Megansic told police she was put into the street. She returned, and her husband knocked her to the floor. As she reached her feet, she said, he was about to strike her again when she opened fire. One bullet struck him on the right shoulder, the other entered his head.

Mrs. Megansic walked to the home of a neighbor where she remained several hours. She then said that she had shot her husband and he was found dead, on the porch. Mrs. Megansic said her husband had been beating her for 25 years. She is held pending the action of a coroner's jury.

Slight Accidents Reported To Police

William G. Gwin of R. D. No. 8 reported to the police Tuesday that he was driving north on Jefferson street hill at Wallace avenue, when a truck of the Keystone Transfer company turning south on Jefferson street from Wallace avenue, cut the corner and ran into and damaged his machine.

M. Levine of 1306 Highland avenue, reported Tuesday that while driving south on Croton avenue, that his machine was in a collision with a car bearing Pennsylvania license 481-888 and owned by C. C. Campbell going west on Washington street. Some damage was done.

Henry McNicholas 837 Beckford street, reported that he was driving east on North street at Rebecca Way Tuesday, when a wagon pulled out of Rebecca Way and the tongue hit and damaged the side of his machine.

Minority Report Heard

The decision to purchase the land was not unanimous, Mrs. Rose M. Northdruft, a member of the building committee presenting a minority report. In it she said that in her opinion the property was too inaccessible to the patrons of the school. Lying as it does between Wilmington and Highland avenues, Mrs. Northdurft said that it was inconvenient for the West Side and Martin Gantz districts, and was inaccessible to many of the patrons of the North Hill.

She recommended the purchase of the I. N. Phillips property which fronts on the west side of Wilmington avenue, just north of the residences of Charles and Marlen Matthews. This is some 13 acres in size and Mrs. Nothdurft suggested that the school could be built on the elevated part of the property and the ravine below could be utilized for an athletic field.

Not Suited

Attorney Charles H. Young and Andrew Dietterle, Sr., replied to the minority report, saying that the I. N. Phillips property was not suitable for school purposes, first because of the contour of it, requiring much expensive grading, and second because of its location with reference to the hollow below, sometimes known as Snakes Rest.

Mrs. Northdurft agreed that the property on Euclid avenue was a splendid site, were it not for its inaccessibility, and suggested that if it were taken, that the I. N. Phillips property be bought for future school purposes.

After some little discussion, the Euclid avenue property was ordered purchased.

Kennedy. Mrs. Clements is being held as a material witness.

The whole countryside in the vicinity of the crime is aroused and numerous individuals of that district, which is in the immediate vicinity of the Moffatt school house, were outspoken in declaring that it was the outcome of the petting party activities in that section and from which they sought to obtain relief by taking affairs in their own hands on numerous occasions after failing to obtain relief from the authorities.

Find Petting Party.

This attitude was very much accentuated following the killing of Mr. Richeal, when as the coroner, J. P. Caldwell, and men of the district were enroute to the home of W. W. Carrick, next door neighbor, to call the undertaker, they came upon in the same lane and not far from the scene, another car, in which two young men and two girls from this city, evidently bent on a little petting party. The members of the party were held until Constable William J. Graham of Hickory township and Detectives John Miller and Charles Hicks of New Castle arrived on the scene, took their names and addresses and then premitted them to go, owing to the more serious business on hand.

The body of Mr. Richeal was removed from the family residence early this morning at the direction of Coroner J. P. Caldwell by Walter McClelland, Harlansburg undertaker, to the Campbell Undertaking company morgue in this city, where a post mortem examination was held for the purpose of determining the exact cause of death.

Post Mortem Result.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. William Cleland and Dr. Loyal W. Wilson, who found that death was due to a hemorrhage of the brain, caused by a blow on the right side of the head. There was no evidence of a fracture of the skull found.

Sheriff H. M. Reynolds was the first county official notified and went to the scene accompanied by Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds. The license number of the car, which had been obtained by the sons of the dead man, was given to the officers, who immediately speeded to this city, where in a short time they had arrested Johnson and Blackford, as they sat in the Johnson car in front of the Kirk-Hutton and company store. Mrs. Clements was arrested shortly afterward at her home on Long avenue and all three were taken to the county jail.

Story of Boys.

According to the story told by William and David Richeal, the sons of the dead man, to Coroner Caldwell and other officers, it was probably about 8 o'clock eastern standard time and just commencing to get dark, when they and their father were attracted to the lane, which is a jointly owned roadway between the Richeal and W. W. Carrick farms, by the presence of an automobile that was several hundred feet down the lane, the private property and right of way of the two farms.

They went for the purpose of investigating what appeared to be an apparent attempt to steal corn. As they appeared on the scene, the driver of the car was seen coming out of the Carrick corn field at what was the left hand side of the automobile, which was parked at the right hand side of the lane and adjoining the Richeal property, and entered the car.

Mr. Richeal asked him if he did not know that he was on private property. Johnson and the others in the car are alleged to have contended that they were not on private property but on the road to Lakewood.

Argument—Blows Struck.

As the argument progressed, according to the sons of Mr. Richeal, the driver of the car, a Chevrolet coupe, got out and advanced up the embankment at the Richeal side of the right of way and struck William, the younger of the boys, a blow on the head, knocking him down and into the ditch. Stunned but not seriously hurt, he was up in a moment and witnessed the rest of the affair. He was taking the number of the machine at the time.

The driver then attacked their father, according to the boys, striking him on the head with something which they could not determine. The father was a short distance from William when assaulted. He staggered and then walked a short distance. He suddenly fell backward into the arms of his son David, who was immediately behind him. He laid his father on the ground and then went to the home of W. W. Carrick on the adjoining farm for assistance.

Mr. Carrick was not at home but his wife called the Guy Lockhart home, where Messrs. Carrick, Guy and Kenneth Lockhart and R. Bartsch were at the time.

They rushed to the scene and on their arrival, according to Mr. Carrick, Mr. Richeal was just breathing and that was all. He was dead before Carrick, Kenneth Lockhart, David Richeal and other of the party carried him to his home.

Dr. William Cleland was called and pronounced Mr. Richeal dead.

Make Survey of Place.

When Sheriff Reynolds and his brother, Deputy William Reynolds, returned to the scene after arresting the persons in the car, they made a careful survey of the place where the murder occurred. They found apples on the bank, where the car is alleged to have been when the argument took place, also pieces of broken glass, evidently from the window of an automobile. They also questioned the two sons of the dead man, eye witnesses of the murder, and their story was much as has already been detailed.

Following their arrest, Johnson Blackford and Mrs. Clements on their arrival at the county jail admitted to Sheriff that they had been at the scene of the trouble, but denied that any member of their party had struck any person or hit Mr. Richeal. They admitted there had been an argument, but claimed that the right front door window had been broken by a stone hurled at the car as it was near the Richeal side of the lane . They claimed that they had gone on down the lane after the argument, turned around and returned to the city.

According to the Richeal boys and others, the car went in the direction of the Moffatt school on the East Brook improved road and not toward Lakewood.

Johnson and Blackford are both young men.

The Honorable S. P. Emery and Attorney Clyde Gibson have been retained by the defendants in the case to look after their interests.

Mr. Richeal was born March 7, 1868, in Scott township, the son of David and Nancy Richeal. After living for a number of years in Scott township, he resided for 27 years in Springfield township, Mercer county, about a mile from No. 5 Mine. He moved to his last place of residence on the East Brook Station road about four years ago. He was a member of the East Brook grange.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Richeal, and three children, David, aged 18 years, William, aged 15 years, and Ida aged 17 years, also the following brothers and sisters: Walker of Washington township, David of Scott township, Mrs. Susie Johnson of Scott township, Mrs. Ida Forrest of McKees Rocks, Pa., Miss Effie Richeal of Washington township and a half-brother, Willis Richeal of Venango county.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock, eastern standard time, from the late residence on the East Brook Station road. The body will be removed to the family residence some time today. The place of interment will be announced later.

SENATOR CARAWAY URGES PRESIDENT ACT ON WAR DEBT

be a real American and I fear he won't avail himself of the chance. He should announce to the French government that we cannot accept a penny in settlement of this debt, which is tainted by the contemptuous disregard of the French people.

"President Coolidge should tell the French people that they must pay the debt in full or repudiate it entirely. He should say, 'the American people will not accept a penny tainted with contempt.' "

If the President took this step, Caraway declared, it would stop the Anti-American sentiment in Europe.

"If we don't do it," he warned "we are going to be traduced and libelled until we are the most hated people on earth and all without any excuse."

Can Easily Pay

The French people can easily pay the whole American debt, Caraway said. Their present economic distress, if any, he said, is due entirely to the unwillingness of the French people to pay taxes or be taxed.

"It takes courage to call the French bluff," Caraway declared. "I am afraid President Coolidge will not do it because no one has ever accused him of having courage."

Caraway predicted the present French debt settlement would be rejected by the senate.

"Personally, I would sooner not get a single cent from France than to get 99 cents on the dollar, which were tainted with their contempt," he concluded. "Our national honor will compel us to silence that contempt, even if France repudiated the whole debt."

Caraway also proposed that congress enact legislation bringing back all American dead from France. Their graves and monuments in American cemeteries have been desecrated with "foul epithets," he said. To leave the American dead abroad, he added, is to subject their memory to French hatred and contempt.

Miss Bratchie Makes Address To Kiwanians

Today was Constitutional Observance in the local Kiwanis club and the program was built around the Constitution of the United States.

Dr. C. J. Williamson was chairman of the day and spoke briefly upon the necessity of Americans reaffirming their fealty to the laws of the country, and the seeing to it that the constitution was upheld.

Miss Barbara Bratchie was the speaker of the day, reading for the club her prize winning essay on "The American Constitution." The young lady had a splendidly prepared paper, well delivered and worthy of the appreciation it got.

The Martucci brothers, banjo and accordion players delighted the club with several numbers, and pep singing was directed by William F. Harris, with Harry Hammond at the piano.

New Wells Revive Oil Rush At Kane

KANE, Pa., Sept. 15.—Oil excitement once more grips this section following the bringing in of two 30-barrel wells a few days ago. Activity on a scale hardly equaled since the days when the oil boom was at its height is now anticipated.

The two weels registering unusual production for the district are located on the Big Level leases. It is reported here that the South Penn Oil company will soon start drilling on its holding near Mt. Jewett.

The William C. Kennedy company is installing a high pressure compression device on its lease at Rilersville for flooding by air and increasing production.

PEARSON STREET GIRL IS KILLED BY AUTO TRUCK

Driver Longstreth went to the scene of the fatality.

They took Shuler in charge, investigated the accident, after which Shuler was taken to the city police station.

The body was removed to Kelly's morgue in an ambulance.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell questioned Shuler and he was placed under $2,500 bond for a coroner's inquest Monday night.

Former Judge William E. Porter appeared for Shuler and arrangements are being made to place a bond for his appearance at the coroner's hearing.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—The state health department announces that its engineering bureau is investigating the outbreak of typhoid fever in Woodlawn, Beaver county, where nine cases have been reported. The outbreak is said to have been milkborne.

FAITH IN NATURE GAVE HIM HEALTH

Joseph Hasulak, 17 West Terrace Ave., City, employed by the New Castle Works, owes the good health and the happiness he is now enjoying to the faith he had in some day finding the means of relieving the appendix trouble from which he suffered for years and refusing to give up his search for it.

"The All-wise Creator provided growing plants and weeds that cure all manner of other ills and I was certain that He had not failed to produce something in Nature that would relieve my appendicitis," he told Mr. Dyar.

"I had tried many things," continued Mr. Hasulak, "including a number of doctors, but in spite of all, I continued to suffer until I heard about World Medicine Company's search of the world for medicinal roots and herbs and the wonderful discoveries of their scientists. I always had great faith in natural medicines and so I bought a bottle of World's Tonic and began taking it.

"Within seven days all signs of my appendicitis had disappeared and I felt like a new man. Not only that but the bloating distress after eating, headaches and stomach misery from which I suffered as well, also disappeared. I gained in flesh, too, and am thankful that I found this great gift of Nature for the relief I have obtained from it is worth a thousand times the small amount it cost me. I earnestly advise every suffering person to try it."

Such stories as this come to Mr. Dyar every day from grateful people whom World's Tonic has relieved of some affliction, ill or misery, and he has literally thousands of letters like them in his files from people all over the country!

World's Tonic is sold at $1.00 a bottle at Smith's Drug Store on S. Mill street, also Paisley's and Eckerd's and all other good drug stores, also demonstrated every night at the big free minstrel show, corner of Court and Ray streets at 7:30 p. m.

MISS MARY KEMP WEDS CLAIR UBER

A pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at 9 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kemp, Finch street when their daughter Mary Alma, became the bride of Clair M. Uber, son of Clyde Uber of Lathrop street, Rev. George W. Bowden, pastor of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church, officiated with the ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of blue georgette with corresponding accessories, and carried brides roses. Miss Ethel Uber, sister of the groom, was her only attendant, and was attired in pink georgette and carried tea roses. Arthur Kemp, brother of the bride served as best man.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate families supplemented the ceremony. Color tones of pink and white prevailed, and a large wedding cake formed the centerpiece.

After a two week's wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., and Philadelphia, they will reside with the brides parents.

Mrs. Uber was formerly employed with the Bell Telephone company, and Mr. Kemp is employed with the B. and O. Railroad.

MR. WITHERS' RESIGNATION

IN PRESENTING his resignation as a member of the New Castle school board last night, R. T. Withers stated that he was entirely out of harmony with the majority of the board and was resigning in the hope of bringing about harmony.

The idea that prompted his resignation is commendable. In his resignation he has stated what a majority of citizens of New Castle have been aware of. It is also recognized that continual disruption of the efforts of the board for school progress has been a bad thing for the morale of the school teaching force and for the pupils as well.

With the resignation of Mr. Withers there will be no change in the attitude of the majority of the board. They will be just as zealous in taking care of the taxpayers' money as they would had he remained on the board. Of that we are certain. Each one is vitally interested in New Castle and all her citizens.

It is one thing to attempt to cut down school expenses at the cost of all school progress, and it is another thing to keep them down as far as possible and yet show progress that is needed for the proper educational system in New Castle.

We believe that all members of the board are for school economy. The question is what that economy means, whether it means reduced expenses at the cost of school progress or whether it means economy insofar as possible with proper progress of New Castle. A majority believe it is the latter.

FALL FLOWER SHOW

ARRANGEMENTS are completed for the annual fall flower show to be held under direction of the Lawrence County Garden Club at the Carnegie auditorium, opening Thursday.

With the record of a number of most successful flower shows having been conducted by this club, and the indications for exhibition of thousands of blooms, there is every reason to believe that this show will be the most pretentious and interesting yet held.

The exhibitions at the fall show bring some of the products of famous local flower gardens, as well as those of gardeners who are just beginning to show an interest in flower cultivation.

Certain it is that these exhibitions, which are filling a unique place in the list of events in New Castle and Lawrence county, are now so well established that they are being eagerly looked forward to, and have been the means of stimulating interest in flower gardens and raising of fine flowers in this community.

It has been the aim of the garden club to bring about a greater interest in flowers and improvement of property in general by means of beautifying with flowers, keeping lawns in good shape, etc., and results are being achieved.

The flower shows of the Garden Club are worthwhile, and are filling an important civic niche in the community.

Take time to visit the coming show!

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:09. Sun rises tomorrow 5:43.

In our travels we have found people who try to act as snobs who come nearer acting like slobs. They would be better fitted to act as slobs by looks and actions.

The unusual feat of using two words, thereby breaking three rules of grammer, is credited to a politician, who said: "Them's them".

It is said that the five-cent cigar is coming back. No doubt what goes into it will be cheaper and more scandalous in the way of smell than the pre-war stinker. Anyhow, it will be quite a blow to those who have been profiting by selling the five-cent cigar at ten cents.

A cut in the price of a ham would be more acceptable to many of us now than slicing fifty or a hundred dollars off the price of an automobile.

Here's a fine one. Dear Hints and Dints: I was out of town last Thursday and missed the Hints and Dints column for that day. Will you kindly please run it over again, as I don't want to miss anything.

YOUR FRIEND.

Note—Well, of all the nerve!

You can say one thing for these little woolly house dogs. They sweep under the davenport.

Building materials are dear and scarce, but still a lot of concrete is being wasted by putting it into human heads.

An East Side man told his wife to remember that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. "Then you come right in and rule the world for a while," she snapped. "I'm getting doggone good and tired of it."

All people do not think a bootlegger is an undesirable alien, if said undesirable furnishes them good stuff at a reasonable compensation.

A Pittsburgh preacher asked on Sunday while in his pulpit this question: "Are there any Christians in Pittsburgh?" He did not get any answer to the question and naturally came to the conclusion there were none. We don't know of any here or in Beaver Falls either, for that matter.

It's not the original cost, but the upkeep doesn't refer alone to automobiles. Believe me, it's highly applicable to marriage licenses.

Now comes a story of a hobo who rang a doctor's bell and asked the young woman who answered the door if the doctor had a pair of old pants he wanted to give away. "Why, I am the doctor", said the young woman sweetly, and the tramp fell off the porch.

The National Get Out the Vote League blames automobiles for failure of people voting in the numbers they should vote in. The automobile is being blamed for about everything that is not good, even being the right hand of the bootlegger.

The chief prohibition director of the Pittsburgh district says his officers will have to obey the law themselves and that there will be no black-jacking in its enforcement. That sounds mighty sensible and we think that gentleman is going to make some headway in the enforcement of the law. He should be encouraged, at least.

"De only man I know dats willin' to work mo' dan eight hours a day", said Uncle Eben, "is some one in de neighborhood dats learnin' to play de saxophone."

A friend of ours who is spending a few days in Atlantic City writes us about some of his activities and winds up by saying the weather is fine and the water salt. We knew the water was salt, but it was interesting to hear someone tell us about it. The most interesting things we hear usually are the things we know something about.

If wishes were autos we'd all have limousines.

I wonder if you ever have heard the story about the army mule that died and how the private, who had charge of the last sad rites, filled in the registration blank? He wrote hurriedly until he reached the question, "Disposition of Carcass". After a moment's thought he wrote: "Mean and deceitful".

NO FOOD FOR MAN

Farmer Guy Turner of West Virginia placed a blade of green grass in his mouth during haying season. A part of it broke and remained between his teeth. A few months later he had such swelling and pain in his neck that he went to see a doctor. A surgical operation followed and the doctors found and removed a piece of grass about four inches below the base of the teeth. Medicone has had no similar case. Better to leave grass-chewing to the livestock, or chew the rag.

You never can get much of anything done unless you go ahead and do it before you are ready.

There are towns and towns, but the real old-fashioned town was a town whose business district was built around the courthouse square.

A modern miracle is to be worked this winter by the women if they make their skirts shorter and tighter as they threaten to and wear them. We don't see how they can do it but when it comes to style the ladies can do most anything.

Another man and woman admit being near that crab-apple tree the night of the Hall-Mills murder. The place ought to have traffic regulations.

The French people are getting very anxious now to have that American Legion convention in Paris next year and they are beginning to sweeten up toward Americans. It will take a lot more sweetening before a good many from this country will ever go to France again and we don't blame them a bit. The first time Americans went over the French fell on their necks—now they want to kick the pants of everyone who goes over.

If you didn't register to vote on Tuesday you have only one more chance. Better watch for announcement of the day and be there early. It is important that everyone vote who is entitled to, but you have to register first.

Emerson's remarks about the world making a beaten path to a house in the woods where better stuff is made is proving prophetic in this age.

The war cost a lot of money and someone has to pay for it, yet everybody looks the other way when the check is laid down.

The North Pole is still an object of rediscovery. The man who finds some means of relating it to the needs of our present civilization will be the real discoverer.

It is because predictions are so easy to make and no penalty attached for missing that everyone tells who will win prize-fights and elections.

What this country needs now is a locomotive and a street car that can dodge around automobiles that get on the track.

Some Indian tribes, we understand, used arbutus as a cure for rheumatism. It probably did as much good as the horse chestnuts our grandfather used to carry around.

A manicurist says the fingernails grow faster in the summer time. That's easy to believe. Whiskers and other weeds show increased energy in hot weather.

Tex Rickard says that 3,000 millionaires will witness the Dempsey-Tunney fight. If the demand of the fighters for million-dollar purses keeps up no one but millionaires can afford to go.

At Nice, France, the tongue of a woman accused of being a gossip was cut off. That's a pretty good way of stopping a woman talking, but it is rather hard on her when she wants to eat soup.

Channel swimmers have a lot of records to beat next year when the season opens again. Four times it was swum this year and all of the swimmers beat the former records. There is no use swimming the channel now unless you can make the trip in something less than 10 hours.

Nature isn't so wonderful. If you work at it hard enough, you can lose your health in spite of her.

We're to have good weather after the 15th of September, we are told, and here's hoping that prediction comes true. September hasn't been very good to us yet, and we are ready for some first-class hot weather.

Someone has said that John D.'s grandsons give away more money in tips than he does. Evidently the dimes of the father are not visited upon the waiter by the children of the third and fourth generations.

With no fighting to do in Ireland the people of that belligerent island are now fighting roosters and are having lots of fun when the police don't interfere. The Irish just have to fight so we'll have to make allowances for them.

By this time the average boy is reconciled to school and the educational system is again safe for the next nine months.

Sweden sends an idea that interests builders and home-seekers. When concrete, a mixture of sand, gravel and cement, is still soft, just before it sets, gas is introduced into the mixture with the same effect as yeast on bread, fills the concrete with little holes, making it much lighter, less expensive, not diminishing its strength, requiring less weight of steel to hold it up. The result is a concrete like coral.

In the next column of the same newspaper page you plunge back into the middle ages, reading of a Jewish pogrom in Vienna organized by the Hakenkreutzlers.

However, Jew baiters are not as powerful as they were in the day of blackest superstition.

The Rev. Dr. Pierce, President Coolidge's spiritual guide, says that a public official needs seven qualities, and Mr. Coolidge has all seven.

Men in public life must keep their promises. Coolidge does it.

No ostentation, hard work. That's Coolidge.

The right relationship with God, absolute honesty, performance of duty without evasion, power to recognize great issues, "clean, not only outside, but inside."

President Coolidge, says the Rev. Dr. Pierce, fills the bill absolutely. He might have added that President Coolidge knows when not to talk, which is most of the time. He didn't say anything about new ideas. They are important also.

Germany celebrates the birth of Goethe, calling him greatest of writers, next to Shakespeare. Italy says the greatest next to Shakespeare is Dante, Spain says Cervantes, Greece says Homer. Decide it for yourself.

One thing that Goethe says in "Wilhelm Meister" interests us all, namely that thinking is difficult, and to act, according to your thought, is uncomfortable.

One hundred in 10,000 think. One in a hundred of those that think translate the thought into action. That is why the world moves upward so slowly. Perhaps that is how it should move. With two or three hundred million more years of life ahead of it, old earth is not in a hurry.

It is said automobiles keep half the voters away from the polls, and "absentee balloting" is suggested.

Also, "golf keeps men away from the churches."

The remedy is to make politics as interesting as motoring, religion as interesting as golf. With Henry Ward Beecher in a big church, or Billy Sunday in a revival tent, the caddies, not the clergymen, would complain.

In Day's News

The King of Spain who is facing a critical condition of affairs in his dominion has many names and titles. He has also so many attractive qualities that one might be puzzled to know whether he is greater for instance, as a sportsman than as a constitutional monarch. It is to his credit that he plays all his varied rolls well. Alfonso XIII was born in 1886 and is therefore 40 years old. He attained his majority when he was 16 according to the Spanish law and was crowned king soon afterward. Today he has occupied the throne longer than any other of the reigning monarchs in Europe. His father was Alfonso XII. who died in the infancy of his son and the present king's mother Maria Christina ruled as Queen Regent until 1902. Alfonso is a direct descendant of Louis XIV of France. In 1906 he was married to Princess Ena of Battenberg a granddaughter of Queen Victoria of Great Britain.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

NEW GOALS FOR OLD

Georges Clemenceau, after an active life as teacher, soldier, editor, statesman and writer, said on his eighty-fifth birthday:

"Happiness comes only in the continuation of work and not in finishing your job."

Burton in his poem "Kasidah, or the Lay of the Higher Law," expresses the same idea in different words when he asks:

"And who 'mid e'en the fools
But feels that half the joy is in the race
For wealth and fame and place,
Nor sighs when comes success to crown the chase."

Every so often in life this lesson has to be pounded in.

Every so often we arrive at a goal toward which we have been struggling and find that having reached it something is lacking.

Men look forward to the day when they will return to their old home town rich or famous or powerful. They imagine what such a day of days would be like.

But those few who are fortunate enough to reach their goal find that the day of days never arrives—as imagined.

Something is always lacking.

Instead of being able to sit down the rest of his life and bask comfortably in the sun of his achievements the man who has arrived—and tries it—finds he has left something behind which gave the zest to life.

The joy of struggle, the interest in the uncertain future, the beckoning of a distant goal, have all dropped out of life.

Men who have "arrived" and then stopped going on have invariably found life a dreary affair.

Those who have given up their work and still continued to live a life unrobbed of fascination have been men like Edward Bok who have retired from one activity to plunge into others.

The "growing life" is the happiest because it is a life of continued activity, of continual striving for new goals.

And in the striving for new goals rather than resting in the assurance of having attained old ones is found the chief joy of life.

THE FIAT COMPANY.

The Fiat Company of Italy has floated in this country recently a bond issue of ten million dollars, to provide the company with additional working capital, and enable them to expand in the world's trade. The Fiat Motor Car has been looked upon as a great luxury, and like the Swiss watch, as being one of the world's great machines. But very little is known in the United States concerning the work that is being done in Italy by this company, particularly as the labor troubles among the employees of this company in Italy was the direct and immediate cause of the Fascists movement in Italy, culminating with the Dictatorship of Mussolini.

The Fiat Company is the largest industrial concern in Italy, and one of the largest manufacturers of automobiles in Europe. The company directly operates ten manufacturing divisions, of which the chief products are automobiles, forgings, castings, structures, Diesel engines, and railroad rolling stock. These ten divisions and the main office employ about thirty two thousand men. Subsidiary and associated companies manufacture trucks and supply materials and accessories, and hydro-electric power. The Fiat chief manufacturing plant is the Lingotto Works at Turin; this is the largest automobile plant in Europe, employing about 17,500 men. Its production of automobiles has increased from about ten thousand cars manufactured in 1921 ,to an estimated output in 1926 of about 60,000 cars, and the company's productive capacity will be materially increased upon the completion of the present construction program. More than fifty per cent of the sales were made in markets outside of Italy, and more than $22,000,000 of foreign gold was brought into Italy on this account.

The work being done by the Fiat Company is a direct challenge to the world that Italian workmen and Italian brains are fully up to the standard of the Nordic races, and that any propaganda circulated in the United States to the effect that the Italian has only one sixteenth of the brain power of the average Nordic citizen, is pure bunk. If Mussolini and his compatriots working together in Italy can stimulate the organization and conduct of a few more companies possessing the energy shown by the Fiat Company, Italy will have to be recognized as a real factor in the world's trade.

THE TRICKSTERS

Joe was slick, with many a trick
He trimmed the passer-by.
Whene'er he could, for coal and wood
He put his prices high.
And if he thought you wouldn't look
A little off the weight he took.

Joe used to harp on methods sharp
Let buyers all beware!"
He'd often say, "Whenever they
Come selling I take care.
If I get cheated in the game
I only have myself to blames."

Joe knew a lot, but he forgot
That buyers do beware.
That life is long, and those you wrong
Soon learn to trade elsewhere.
That every shady dollar made
Will cost you ten in future trade.

Joe tricked a few as smart men do,
And chuckled as they will.
But came the day to Joe's dismay
When empty was his till.
He watched his trade to others go,
The buyer had outsmarted Joe.

Boy, when you meet a chance to cheat
Refuse that way to gain.
The trickster's art is never smart.
It always ends in pain
The cunning merchants always fail
The cleverest crooks are all in jail.

POEMS I LOVE

Gray's "Elegy".

In "Hamlet" and in this famous Elegy one will find perhaps more well-known lines than in any other single play or poem. Indeed, so commonplace have certain phrases become that they now seem platitudinous; but think of the ecstasy of reading them for the first time! And as one never tires of the sun, moon and stars, the world will never weary of these beautiful lines. They are of the eternal verities. There is space for only a portion of the stanzas.

The curfew tolls the knell of parting day,
The lowing herd wind slowly o'er the lea,
The ploughman homeward plods his weary way,
And leaves the world to darkness, and to me.

Beneath those rugged elms, that yew-tree's shade,
Where heaves the turf in many a mouldering heap,
Each in his narrow cell forever laid,
The rude Forefathers of the hamlet sleep.

The boast of heraldy, the pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave,
Awaits alike th' inevitable hour:
The paths of glory lead but to the grave.

Full many a gem of purest ray serene
The dark unfathomed caves of ocean bear:
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air.

For from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife,
Their sober wishes never learned to stray;
Along the cool sequestered vale of life
They kept the noiseless tenor of their way.

The Epitaph

Here rests his head upon the lap of earth
A youth, to Fortune and to Fame unknown;
Fair Science frowned not on his humble birth,
And Melancholy marked him for her own.

Large was his bounty, and his soul sincere;
Heaven did a recompense as largely send:
He gave to Misery all he had, a tear,
He gained from heaven, 'twas all he wished, a friend.

No farther seek his merits to disclose,
Or draw his frailties from their dread abode,
(There they alike in trembling hope repose.)
The bosom of his Father, and his God.

Klan Members Ready To Adjourn

Klonvocation At Washington Ends With Tribute To Deceased.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Their "Klonvocation of Sorrow" over, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, assembled here, will adjourn their third biennial "Klonvocation," today after they act this afternoon on a dozen or more resolutions expressing their intended program towards "creating a public mind in America."

Assembling in Washington auditorium to lament the loss by deaths of hundreds of fellow klansmen during the past year, more than 2,000 members of the robed order last night took part in the most impressive ritual of all their ceremonies—the "Klonvocation of Sorrow."

Members of the Invisible Empire sat in a hall, dimly lighted, held silent by the sight of a large fiery cross, which burned red against the darkness. Behind the cross, performing in shadows, specially picked members of the realm of Virginia formed a square about a white casket, in which lay the robed effigy of a klansman. The blue cloaks, flung over the shoulders of the participants, topped the circle of white formed by their skirts. Swords, hanging at their sides caught the red glint of the cross.

World War Ghost Stalks In Trial

Merton Again Takes Witness Stand In Trial Of Former Attorney-General.

BY DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The ghost of the world war stalked in federal court today at the conspiracy trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Col. Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian.

Richard Merton, head of a German metal trust, took the witness stand again and testified that the reason the Merton-owned Metallgesellschaft of Frankfort-on-Main went to the financial aid of the Society Suisse before the United States was in the war was because of an "invisible power" that was operating in neutral nations.

United States Attorney Emory Buckner had been directing a ceaseless fire of questions at Merton in an effort to prove that $7,000,000 retrieved by Merton from the alien property custodian was obtained by a fraudulent claim.

It was the Society Suisse which collected the war-impounded $7,000,000 as a neutral.

Timely Views on World Topics

FALSE IDEALS OF FASHIONABLE RICH BREED TRAGEDY

By MRS. PHILIP LYDIG,
Wealthy Social Leader Of New York, In The October Red Book Magazine.

There are, of course, in fashionable life, some happy marriages of young people who fall in love naturally, in spite of their wealth, and live together as contentedly as any married couples any where. But there are few of them. They are usually the sons and daughters of very wise parents who have known how to guard and counsel them, in their childhood, against the dangers and temptations that so very often ruin the children of the rich.

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG

I used to be told that such a point of view about marriage was romantic and mushy, and people continually pointed out to me that among royalty and aristocracy abroad marriages for love were practically unknown. I could only reply that I saw few of those marriages successful and that those which even partly succeeded were made bearable by social conventions unknown in America. But, in recent years, from an acquaintance with famous psychologists and psychiatrists and doctors of the mind, here and in France and Germany, I have been hearing an explanation of the mental processes involved in love and marriage that throws a light on the tragedies I have seen on all sides in fashionable life, for years and years; and these scientific theories support me in the conviction which I have derived from my own experience—the conviction that, for Americans at least, today, marriage without love is a suicide compact. It is death—spiritual and moral and often physical death—for both husband and wife.

In any fashionable marriage that is made without love there are bound to be resistance and revolts and hatreds that become murderous in their tendency even when they do not actually achieve murder in fact.

With the open liaisons of the continent forbidden to America by social custom the fashionable marriage, without love, leads to relations that have no constancy and to divorce after divorce. At any fashionable dinner table in New York or Newport there is likely to be an assemblage of guests whose sentimental history would make a shocking histoire scandaleuse. They seem to me to be invariably haunted and unhappy. I do not know what they think they are getting out of life, but it is often too evident that they are getting nothing worth while.

Youth Twelve, Faces Jury On Murder Charge

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—As the second day of the trial of Alexander Andy, 12, for the murder of John King, 45, got under way today, indications were that the boy would be called to the stand in his own defense.

Andy, the youngest prisoner ever tried for murder in Westmoreland county, and his mother, saw the prosecution win the first contest of the trial when Judge Charles E. Whitten refused to halt the trial on grounds of insufficient evidence, as contended by the defense.

Mrs. Andy was one of the first witnesses called. She testified that she was giving a party for young folks at her home the night King was shot, March 14.

"I saw someone prowling around the house," she declared, "and told my son. He found a man near the garage and later saw the prowler alongside the house."

The mother then explained how Alexander returned to the house, procured a revolver and fired in the direction he had seen the man. He put the revolver away, without knowing he had hit anyone, she said.

Later Alexander was arrested by state police who found King's body near the Andy residence.

Other witnesses were the physicians who examined the body, Robert Kirkpatrick, state trooper who arrested the boy, and Coroner David Walkinshaw.

Use just one doctor. If you use many, no two will agree, and you'll lose the faith that is half the cure.

Al Smith probably thinks Hindenburg line easy as compared to the Mason and Dixon line.

Good times are those in which people issue the bonds they cuss themselves about in hard times.

European Writers Prepare Plays For American Producers

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The productions of American theatre managers during the coming season will be 25 per cent European, according to information in theatrical circles here.

Lee Shubert, A. H. Woods, George Tyler, Morris Gest and Archie Selwyn are among those who have looked over the British field during the summer and picked out the plays which they want for Broadway during the autumn and winter.

British plays said to be booked for American theatres during the next months include: "The Ghost Train," Arnold Ridley; "Wet Paint," the Earl of Lathom; "All Our Yesterdays," C. K. Munro; "Cavalier of the Streets," Michael Arlen; "The League of Nations," Frederick Lonsdale; "Diversions of an Empress," Louis N. Parker; "Scotch Mist," Sir Patrick Hastings; "Berkeley Square," John L. Balderston and J. C. Squire; "Anne Pedersdotter," John Mansfield; "This Woman Business," Benn Levy; "Why Not?" Sinclair Scott and Caswell Garth; "The Constant Nymph," Basis Dean and Margaret Kennedy; "No. 17," Jefferson Farjeon; "What Fun Frenchmen Have," Michael Arlen "Impertance of Being Earnest," Oscar Wilde; "Grierson's Way," H. V. Esmond; "The Silver Fox," John Galsworthy.

See Good Prospects For Hunting Season

(From News Bureau State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 15.—Prospects are good for a successful hunting season this fall according to reports received by the State Game commission. The present summer has been exceptionally good in providing for food for game and birds. The commission expects that about 525,000 will be licensed to take to the woods within the next few weeks.

Some changes have been made in the lengths of the seasons for several classes of game. There will be no conflict in the big and little game season's this year according to J. C. Trumen, secretary of the commission. This change is expected to reduce the number of illegally killed deer each year and also act as a conservation measure.

The entire state has been closed this year for wild turkeys and Hungarian quail. No separate counties have been closed to other classes of game and wild life. Officials of the commission do not feel that this acts as a conservation move because of the migration of hunters to open counties.

The season for ruffed grouse will extend from November 1 to 13. Previously this had been a month. The season's bag limit has been reduced from fifteen to ten birds. Male ringneck pheasants are in season while the former are not reported in the same time as grouse although so large quantities pheasants are said to be plentiful. The past season for pheasants had also been a month.

Rabbits and hares also have been reported plentiful with the season extending only through the month of November. In the past the season for shooting rabbits had extended to December 15. Squirrels are numerous and their season is from November 1 to 13.

Big game is exceptionally good. Mr. Truman says. Bear and deer have been helped by seasonal conditions having available an abundant food supply this summer. Deer can be killed from December 1 to 15 and bear November 10 to December 15.

NEW CHANCE TO REDUCE

Y. W. C. A. Physical Department To Conduct Reducing Class This Fall.

Come on, Ladies., here's your chance to lose those extra pounds.

The Y. W. C. A. reducing classes will be opening soon, the first of October, so the opportunity to reduce safely and wisely is here.

If only ten pounds overweight, join the class and lose that extra weight. You say, "Not for only ten pounds!" Well, if you are ten pounds overweight it is safe to conclude that some day soon that ten will be twenty.

Thus will "Father Time" multiply it and before you realize it, you will have lost that youthful elasticity in the knee joint and the spring in your step; all because you did not check that first ten pounds. That is more truth than poetry.

Regarding the losses made last year:

Last year, 585 lb. lost.

Last year, 413 in. or 11 1-2 yd. lost in measurement.

Past two years, 1087 lb. lost.

Past two years, 772 in. or 21 1-2 yd. lost in measurement.

The above losses do not merely signify a decrease in weight and size but they indicate that greater efficiency has been developed, that endurance has been multiplied, and that muscles were hardened, all of which spell HEALTH for the individual.

Call the Y. W. C. A. for information, 748.

Election Board Left In Quandary

Candidate Changes Name Since Primary—Can She Be Elected?

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 15.—Miss Winifred McDermott is the Democratic candidate for clerk of the state supreme court of Minneapolis. Today she is no longer Miss McDermott. She has married Roy Henry Perrigo since filing for office.

Now Mrs. Perrigo's status as a candidate for office is under debate. The question raised by her marriage is brand new, as far as is known here. Can votes for Winifred McDermott be counted for Mrs. Perrigo? If not, how can her name be changed on the ballot? These questions will be the subject of a conference between the attorney general and his assistants in the next few days.

When a woman who is a registered voter marries, she is required to register all over again. It is impossible for Mrs. Perrigo to register over again, however, as the time for filing for a party office expired last May. She has not followed the Lucy Stone League plan of retaining her maiden name.

It is possible that the situation will be cleared by an affidavit stating that Mrs. Roy Henry Perrigo is identical with the former Miss Winifred McDermott. The question, however, is a new one and a puzzler, according to the attorney general.

Pimples

What can I do?

"OH, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happies girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations — helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin — drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.

S.S.S.

All drug stores sell S. S. S. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

Concrete street pavement gives the same enduring service as the concrete road

Bellefontaine, Ohio Has Oldest Concrete Street in America

Thirty-four years old, and still on the job.

That's the story of America's first concrete street.

Bellefontaine, Ohio, built it—'way back in 1892.

In those days America was without movies, without the radio, without skyscrapers—and without automobiles.

The most daring dreamer would not have predicted that some day we would have 20,000,000 motor vehicles, and that the motor industry would be turning out 4,000,000 new cars a year.

Thirty-four years ago portland cement concrete had not even been considered as a paving material, and there were no standards of design and construction to go by.

Yet Bellefontaine's first concrete street on Court House Square, like the many other concrete streets it has built since, continues to meet all traffic requirements.

Just as it withstood the slow-moving, steel-tired horse-drawn traffic of other days so is it withstanding the swift pounding traffic of automobiles, busses and motor trucks.

Modern highway builders from near and far go to inspect this veteran pavement; but they no longer marvel at its sturdy service. For they know that in hundreds of cities and towns from one end of the country to the other, concrete streets have proved that they possess the same enduring strength they have shown in Bellefontaine, Ohio.

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy

TO INSTALL NEW PASTOR

October 4 Is Set As Date For Installation Of Dr. C. B. Wingerd.

PRESBYTERY NAMES PASTORS TO ASSIST

Arrangements To Be Made Soon For Installation At Hermon And Princeton.

Formal installation exercises for Dr. C. B. Wingerd who begins his pastorate at the Central Presbyterian church of this city on next Sunday will be conducted Monday evening October 4 at 7:30 in the Central church.

Plans for installing Rev. Wingerd were completed at the meeting of Presbytery here Tuesday. At a meeting of the St. Clairsville Presbytery of the Presbyterian church at Bridgeport, O., about a week ago Rev. Wingerd was transferred from the Presbyterian church at Martins Ferry, O., his former pastorate to the local church.

The pastors participating in the installing exercises are Rev. D. C. Schnebly of the Mahoning Presbyterian church, Rev. Walter E. McClure of the First Presbyterian church ,Rev. J. Greer Bingham, pastor of the Wampum Presbyterian church Rev. William Parsons, D. D. of Pittsburgh and Rev. F. S. Brenneman of this city.

At the afternoon session of Presbytery Dr. William Holt of Philadelphia gave a detailed account of the proposed pension plan for ministers of the denomination. Rev. L. E. Becraft of Pittsburgh, Pa., gave a brief talk on the erection of a Presbyterian hospital in connection with the University of Pittsburgh.

Arrangements were made for the installing of a new pastor at the Princeton and Herman Presbyterian churches in the near future.

Six Aeroplanes Sighted Over Village—Other News Of Community

(Special To The News)

JACKSON CENTER Sept. 15.—The Ladies Missionary society of the Presbyterian church held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben Taylor at 2 p. m. Thursday. A large number were in attendance and a special program was rendered. Mrs. Gibson who has been a teacher in the public schools of New Castle for many years was one of the principal speakers. She spoke of the temptations in the pathway of the young people of today. Special music was furnished by Howard Taylor and Mrs. Ernest Orr. A luncheon was served with ice cream cake and coffee.

LIVE WIRE ROAST.

A corn roast was given by the Live Wire class of the Presbyterian church by their teacher Mrs. John Wilson at her home on last Friday evening. Over 30 were present. The members brought their mothers and small brothers and sisters.

NEW BOY.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Moon on last Saturday.

CHURCH EVENTS.

The Young People's council of District No. 3 will have charge of the services in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening September 19 at 8 p. m. The program is as follows: The song service will be led by Luther Beach. Devotions led by Olive Westlake. Greetings, John McDowell; "Why?" Mary Griffin; "Our Soul Spiritual," Albert Nicholson; "Our Social Life Wholesome," Helen Patterson; "Our Body Sanctified" Leonard Hodgson and "Our Mind Consecrated," by Meade Armstrong.

The first session of the Community Religious Training school was held at Millbrook on last Monday evening with over 50 present and much interest being taken. There is still time to enroll. Miss Mary Griffin is the dean of the school.

AEROPLANES.

Much excitement was produced and many heads were turned skyward on Sunday afternoon when six aeroplanes passed over here together. There are at least two mail planes pass over here daily but it was an unusual sight to see six at once.

Scope's $100 Fine May Win New Trial

DAYTON, Tenn., Sept. 15.—After all the tumult and the shouting at Dayton a year ago, the famous Scopes evolution case is expected to be reversed by the Tennessee Supreme Court by reason of a little matter involving $50.

An ancient provision of the State Constitution limiting to $50 the amount of a fine that may be imposed by a trial Judge has been uncovered. This may entitle John Thomas Scopes, the high school teacher convicted of teaching evolution, to a new trial.

The anti-evolution satute fixes the fine for convicted persons at from $100 to $500. The Scopes jury when returning its verdict of guilty left the amount of the fine to trial judge, and Judge John T. Raulston imposed the minimum fixed by the act of the Legislature. Now it is contended that only the jury could impose a fine larger than $50.

Attorney General Tom Stewart, who prosecuted Scopes in the Dayton Court, admitted the possibility of reversal by the Supreme Court by reason of the "$50 error."

In the old days a good provider wasn't expected to provide finery enough to vamp other men.

London Fears Famine In Lord Mayor Timber

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Because centuries-old tradition the city of London may find itself unable to elect a Lord Mayor in four or five years' time.

Before any man can occupy the exalted office made famous by Dick Whittington and a host of other illustrious functionaries he must have served as an alderman and as a sheriff in the ancient city. Recently however aldermen have not been successful in elections for sheriffs and there remain after Sir Rowland Blades the coming lord mayor only four junior aldermen eligible to the office of chief magistrate.

One reason why aldermen fail in this ballot for sheriff is because by tradition they cannot canvass for votes.

HOW MANY WOMEN GET UP SINGING

Two Women Find Health Essential to Happiness

MRS. BELLE THOMPSON
ROUTE 2, ROSSVILLE, GEORGIA

Springtime streamed in through the open windows. The green fields of Georgia were basking in the sunshine. Somewhere a bird was trilling. It was a day to be happy.

But the pale woman at the table sighed and pushed away her plate. Nothing tasted right. She couldn't eat much. She couldn't sleep well, either. She was so weak, it was hard to do her work. When the baby cried, she wanted to cry, too.

She had not been well for four years. Her husband watched her with a man's helpless expression. But his mother knew a remedy.

"My mother-in-law," says Mrs. Belle Thompson, Route 2, Rossville, Ga., "told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I took six bottles of the Vegetable Compound. I could sleep and would get up in the morning singing and feeling fine. I am the mother of three children, and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me."

Another Happy Woman

Decatur, Illinois.—"I took your medicine for weakness. I would sometimes have to hold myself up with my hands. I was this way for five years, off and on. I read in the newspapers where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped a lot of women, and I thought I would take it. I am now getting better so fast that every month I can feel a difference. My work now is cooking. If you like, you may use these facts as a testimonial. I am willing to help you boost your medicine."—Mrs. Irene Reed, 635 Greenwood Ave., Decatur, Ill.

This dependable medicine has been in use for over fifty years.

Tons Of Campaign Literature Sent Under Congressional Frank

Postal Employes At Washington Handle Tons Of "Franked Mail"

Campaign Year Shows Big Increase In Volume Leaving Capital

(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 15. —A tour through the capitol and the senate and house office buildings discloses that tons of campaign "literature"—nobody will estimate how many tons—have been and are being sent from Washington under congressional frank in this hectic campaign year of 1926 to every hamlet in the United States.

Cries of "abuse of the franking privilege" are arising here and there, but there is no rest for the tired employes of the Washington postoffice. Each day that office is handling thousands of "canned speeches", agricultural year books and other government documents which may aid some senator or representative to land another vote back in his state. These documents range in subject from "How to Raise Babies" to "How to Raise Beets".

Sent Out 97 Sacks of Mail.

From the office of Postmaster General Harry S. New there came today a little story which illustrates both the use and mis-use of the congressional frank. There was no official statement or comment about it, but recently the postmaster general learned that a southern member of congress had franked out 97 sacks of mail from Washington and each sack was filled with non-frankable matter.

The postmaster general, himself a politician and former member of the United States senate, preferred no charges. He decided to give this southern congressman, who is a Democrat while New is a Republican, a chance to correct his mistake and make amends to the postal service.

The postmaster general wrote this candidate for renomination that he had despatched nearly 100 sacks of mail under his frank and that this particular material, which included even small articles for household use as well as un-frankable mail, should have gone postage paid. Mr. New said the government wanted its postage. If this were forwarded the incident would be closed; otherwise there would have to be certain publicity and proceedings which the member of congress might not relish. The department received a check for his postage due, but withholds the name of the offending candidate.

Tons of Literature.

If one candidate sends out 97 sacks of mail that is unfrankable, in addition to his mail which legally may be franked, how many tons of campaign material will go out of Washington before the congressional primaries and the November elections are over? The postoffice department itself has no idea but knows that its mails today are clogged with tens of thousands of campaign documents.

There are 435 members of the house to be elected in November and some 34 senators. Probably 90 per cent have opposition either in the primaries or the general election. For instance, Senator William M. Butler of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee and close confidant of President Coolidge, is without opposition in the primary contest, but in November will be opposed by former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, one time called "the best vote getter in Massachusetts".

Great quantities of campaign material doubtless will be dumped into mail bags for Massachusetts before the Butler-Walsh contest closes.

Charges Are Made.

In the nearby state of Maryland three candidates for the senate recently have made charges and counter-charges that each fellow's opponent has abused the franking privilege by flooding the state with unfrankable political appeals. The candidates are Senator Weller, Republican; Representative John Phillip Hill, aspirant for the Republican nomination against Weller, and Representative Millard E. Tydings, unopposed Democratic candidate for the senatorial nomination. Tydings has formally notified Postmaster General New that he will enter a contest if he is beaten by either Weller or Hill because, he alleged, each has illegitimately used the franking privilege. The charges have been denied.

Postake-free, or franked, mail is sent out from several distributing centers at the national capital. Year in and year out members of congress and the executive departments have the right to send out official documents and correspondence without the payment of postage. There is always a steady flow of such material through the Washington postoffice, but in campaign years the steady flow turns into a turbulent stream of mail matter which bears not a postage stamp but the facsimile signature of a member of congress and a candidate for office.

Leaves Folding Room.

Franked mail goes out from the folding room of the senate and the folding room of the house, which are used by all members of congress as a clearance house for the sending of government documents back into their districts. Congressional documents are assembled in these folding rooms and large forces there will mail them out on the orders of any member of congress.

The Republican congressional campaign committee and the Democratic congressional campaign committee have headquarters at the capitol building and the chairman of each committee has the privilege of mailing out speeches and extracts from the Congressional Record to every hamlet within the United States. Any matter inserted in the Congressional Record is entitled to go under frank, the caption on the envelope being "Part of Congressional Record—Free."

In addition to the campaign committees each member of congress may have a mailing outfit of his own and keep his office force busy, in a campaign year, despatching letters to constituents, "canned speeches", documents from the executive departments and any other government document that might make a hit with the voter.

The official bulletins of the department of agriculture are widely used by candidates. The department issues scores of bulletins and papers covering everything from household hints to fly swatting and diversified farming.

No serious complaint against the system has been made by anybody. It is a part of the political game, tempered by the argument that the taxpayer is entitled to his government bulletins, but in a campaign year it means literally tons and tons of official mail from Washington, and, ordinarily, each member of congress sends out such matter with the hope that each envelope will produce a vote for himself when it reaches its destination.

MOTHER ASKS AID OF POLICE TO FIND TWO MISSING GIRLS

MARTINS FERRY, O., Sept. 15. —Mrs. Mary Doty of Marion, Pa., has asked police here to help find her two daughters, Daisy, 17 years old, and Leona, 15, who disappeared from home last week. Mrs. Doty says she believes the girls came to Martins Ferry with two men. The men say they picked the girls up in Marion last week and brought them as far as Washington, Pa., but did not take them out of Pennsylvania.

"To A Dear And Lost One"

A year ago today
Was laid to rest,
One that is very dear to me.
Far away she has gone
And never to come back.
Far away to the world beyond.

The days are short
And the years are long,
But down in my heart
Love is forever lasting strong.
Never will I miss anyone
As I miss my sister today.

Never will she be forgotten,
For she is always in our hearts,
I live with the hope that some day
I will see her again,
Way down in the world beyond,
Today is offered up a prayer
For my sister Mary Sandullo.

Daugherty Shows Outward Strain

By DAVID P. SENTNER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Harry M. Daugherty, former U. E. attorney general today was showing outward signs of the strain he is undergoing at his trial for alleged conspiracy in office. Thomas W. Miller former alien property custodian is a fellow defendant.

Daugherty was suffering from a severe cold today with dark circles lining his eyes. Friends said he was on the verge of a breakdown. During the afternoon session of the trial yesterday the former attorney general sat with his coat collar turned up about his neck.

Richard Merton, German financier, who has testified he paid $441,000 to the late John T. King, Connecticut politician, for putting through the claim of the Societe Suisse to the seized property of the American Metals company was due to take his place on the witness stand today for the fifth consecutive session. The government charges that Daugherty and Miller received part of the $441,000 given to King.

Merton presumably a government witness has registered mainly for the defense, having denied that the "fee" was intended for any government officials. The German bankers will face a continuation today of U. S. Attorney Emery Buckner's vigorous cross-examination.

Buckner will resume his inquiry into Merton's knowledge of the "oral transfer" a few days before America's entrance into the war by which the German-owned stock of the American Metals company was given to the Swiss society.

Forty Years Among Lepers Is Proud Record Of Catholic Priest

PLANS TO CARRY ON WITH WORK

By JOHN F. STONE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, Sept. 15.—Forty years' service among the leper folk of Molokai, and at the ripe age of 84 looking forward to perhaps a decade more of the good work—such is the proud record of Brother Joseph Dutton, Roman Catholic priest and sage of the little settlement of Kalawao.

During all this time, Brother Dutton has never once set foot outside of the district of Kalaupapa, which lies at the base of the steep windward cliffs of Molokai, separating the leper settlement from the rest of the island. Only a few times, indeed, has he left even the little hamlet of Kalawao and the Baldwin Home where he and a half dozen assistants minister to the wants of some 50 young men and boys.

Born as Ira Dutton, in Stowe, Vt., but reared in Janesville, Wis., he became a captain in the Union army during the Civil war and was on the staff of General Grainger. Following this, he served for a number of years as a civil appointee in the war department.

Finally, in 1883, feeling as he expressed it, that he should do penance for what he had begun to feel was "too much gaiety in youth," he began a long retreat with the "Silent Brotherhood" (Trappist Monks) at Gethsamane, Ky., "to determine his stability in the new endeavor."

Hearing of the settlement for lepers at Molokai, there came to him the strong desire to spend there the rest of his years. He went to Notre Dame, Ind., to learn more about Molokai; came by emigrant train to San Francisco and thence by the barentine Eureka to Honolulu.

On the occasion of his 79th birthday, Brother Joseph wrote:

"I have had great pleasure for all these years in abiding amongst suitable duties and amiable comrades, and am now a happy youngster of 79. If the Good Lord permits me to reach the close of 80 years, how symmetrical—40 years going into the pit, and 40 years climbing out. May God's Will be done."

Experiments begun in front of the new Royal Hawaiian hotel at Waikiki in restoring large quantities of sand to that famous beach have been so successful that the work will be taken up by the Engineers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce of this city.

In former years, a wide sand beach stretched along Waikiki from Diamond Head almost to the business section of the waterfront, a distance of about five miles. Then certain property owners along the beach conceived the idea of building vertical retaining walls on the seaward side of their lots. The effect of these walls was to start the undermining of adjacent property, with the result that these owners would in turn build walls to protect themselves and finally much of the natural sand deposit was washed out to sea.

The experiments in front of the new hotel were made with temporary wooden groins set at an angle frm the beach line to determine if the sand which had been washed away could be recovered. The results have amply demonstrated that it can be, for in front of the Moana hotel, the Outrigger club and the Royal Hawaiian hotel, a wide sandy beach has again been built up and the coral which formerly made swimming uncomfortable a little way off shore has been entirely covered with sand.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to request the next legislature for an appropriation to continue the work along the beach.

Although more than three months have passed since the giant flow of lava swept down Mauna Loa mountain, burying the little fishing village of Hoopulea, the water where the flow entered the sea is still warm. In some of the small protected arms of the sea the water is so hot that it is unbearable to the touch. Commenting on these facts, scientists at the volcano of Kilauea say that the continued heat in the great mass is probably the result of chemical action rather than slow cooling. They point out that some cracks in the Mauna Iki lava flow that poured onto the Kau desert, island of Hawaii, in 1920 are still hot enough to ignite sticks of wood and that slow cooling could hardly account for heat retention for this length of time.

Tons Of Canned Eggs Arrive From China

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—China eggs—not the fragile China variety used to coax the setting hen, but 700 tons of the genuine product of the hen—arrived yesterday on the Cunarder Aquitania.

On the ship's manifest they were listed as "desiccated eggs," which does not mean that they were struck by a storm at sea, but simply that the diligent Chinese did what the hens could not do—separated the whites from the yolks and put them in different tins. The eggs are consigned to a baking company.

Crosby Mansion, Will Be Restored

By HARRY BLOOMBARGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The Crosby Mansion, in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, famous since the days of 1698, soon to regain its old splendor, according to its present owner, Edward Burke.

The ancient house stands on a hill in Ridley township, surrounded by seven acres of ground.

Inside the mansion stands the ancient fire-place surmounted by hand-carved wooden mantle piece. On the ceiling are oak beams.

"I am not going to make any radical change in it," Burke commented, "but am merely going to restore the house to its original condition."

Inside the fire-place is the original spit with a crane, used for cooking during the fifteenth and eighteenth centuries.

The house was built by John Crosby III, known as Judge Crosby, first lieutenant in the American Revolution. While on a visit home, he was taken prisoner by the British, while washing his hands at a pump in the rear of the house. This pump was recently closed in. Lieutenant Crosby was held for six months on the prison ship Falmouth in New York Bay in 1776.

Don't ever bet you can beat a Chandler up a hill

19 finer new models, loaded to the muzzle with smooth, soundless power!

YOU realize the vivid difference between Chandler performance and ordinary performance when you take a Chandler over the road . . .

When you meet some skyscraper hills, the taller the better, and skim swiftly up them "in high"—right past other cars growling along "in second" . . .

When you feel the car's instantaneous surge of smooth, soundless power every time you tickle the accelerator!

Steering is marvelously easy. Safe stops in any weather are assured by Chandler's perfect-action 4-wheel brakes. And due to inherent engine design, plus an oil purifier and an air cleaner, draining the oil in the crankcase is now necessary only a few times a year.

What's more—all you have to do to lubricate the entire chassis is press your heel on the little plunger of Chandler's "One Shot" system of centralized lubrication.

There are nineteen brilliant models to choose from—all lower than ever in price—and every one a distinct credit to a company that occupies one of the strongest positions in the industry—a company with no bonded indebtedness, no mortgages or liens, no bank loans, no outstanding notes—a company with assets 20 to 1 over liabilities.

Own a car of quality, luxury, big value, and real championship performance!

Smith Winner In Carolina Primary

World Court Advocate Holds Slight Margin In South Carolina Voting

(International News Service)

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 15.—Senator Ellison D. Smith, world court advocate, apparently has defeated Edgar A. Brown for renomination in yesterday's run-off primary by a narrow margin.

Incomplete returns today gave Smith 78,906, Brown 73,604.

John G. Richards won a decisive victory over Ira G. Blackwood for governor.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Troop Is Guest Of Committeemen At Lakewood Tuesday Evening

Highland troop 18 held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening at Lakewood beach with a large attendance of scouts present and Scoutmaster R. F. Davis in charge. After the meeting the troop committeemen, Mr. Wallace, C. W. Grafton and Mr. Cartwright, treated the boys to a corn, weiner and marshmallow roast, which was greatly appreciated. The boys enpoyed boat riding and several vocal selections were rendered by the troop quartet.

Next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, September 21.

"Shiners" Buy Rye Before It's Sown

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—A bushel of rye costs three times as much in Westmoreland county at present as it did a few years ago and it is almost impossible to purchase it. The moonshiner is credited for the advance.

Rye is selling for $1.50 to $3 a bushel according to farmers while a few years ago it was 55 cents a bushel. The county produced 22,401 bushels of rye in 1925 with a valuation of $25,985.16 or about $1.16 a bushel.

Moonshiners it is said buy the grain and use it in the manufacture of "likker." In many instances the crop is bought before it is planted and in almost every other case is sold before harvest.

England might try prohibition. That would provide enough extra jobs to take care of the unemployed.

Some things will last a great while if pickled, but this isn't true of mortals.

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestents

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestents, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

THE NEWS BY MAIL FOR ONE YEAR $5.00

IN FIFTY YEARS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—In 50 years—

"Weight and coloring will be made to order.

"The trend of the mind will be determined by the things we eat.

"Every man will be known according to his wave length.

"World premieres of operas, plays and movies will be reproduced instantaneously in every home both by sound and vision.

"Ships will be without crew or captain and railroad accidents will be a thing of the past."

A prophecy of human progress, inconceivable in its scope, was today made by Lawrence Cockaday, radio engineer, attending the third radio world's fair.

"The radio of tomorrow will change the world," he said. "Today, we know but little—in fact, what we call knowledge is but a suggestion of the possibilities.

"It won't be long now before all theatrical productions will be perfectly reproduced—both sound and vision—in every home. Motion pictures even now are being transmitted by radio. They are as yet imperfect but should be perfected within the next year. Every home will have not only ear sets but sight sets.

"We'll be able to see the coloring of the star's frocks, as well as the expression of her eyes. We'll hear her voice, as well as see the setting.

"In the near future we ought to have radio-controlled traffic signals. I look forward to a green and red light on every dashboard, controlled by a central system."

"Amplifying devices of the radio will, I believe, be used in the diagnosis of conditions heretofore baffling to physicians.

"Radio will transmit power from a central heating plant for every household in the land.

"Every man will carry in his pocket his own sending and receiving set. There will be no trespassing on one another's wave length because by that time broadcasting will be on the low wave length which is more selective and more efficient.

"Communication generally will be much improved. In the next 50 years ships will operate without crews and captains, and trains will be so perfectly controlled by automatic means that the factor of human error will not even enter. There wont't be any engineer at the throttle who will fail to heed warning signals.

"Airplanes carrying freight will be entirely radio-controlled.

"Fifty years from now the poor man will live better than the rich man of today because manual labor will be a thing of the past. Every man will be in a commanding, directing capacity.

"There will be no dearth of crops, for the principles of radio will be utilized in forcing the growth of vegetation. Where we have one crop now, we'll have half a dozen in the future.

"The engineer will sit at the helm of the world. The nation with the greatest engineer will be the nation in power.

"War will be an elimination of the less scientific country. For future wars will be waged at a distance of a thousand miles with death rays and with killing apparatus entirely controled by radio. Even now the ray of decay-decomposing all matter which hits to the distance of 18 inches—is in the process of perfection.

"If weapons of that type are created we may look forward to either constant peace or the destruction of the world.

"Ultimately I look forward not only to the discovery of some means for inter-planetary communication but also to the solution of a greater problem—the problem of life."

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Strathie Mackay, who can sing three notes at the same time, has been engaged to sing at a London symphony concert. This Lancashireman with the unusual throat was discovered by Sir William Milligan, eminent throat specialist, in 1917, when he could only sing two notes at the same time. Now he sings three notes simultaneously and according to Sir William, he "sounds like a glee club".

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The "no more parades" movement has reached the Elysees palace. President Doumergue in the interests of national economy has closed his stables and the shiny cuirassiers and plumes of the cavalrymen no longer are seen in the presidential escort. The president instead of riding in a carriage in state, now dashes about in a motor car.

TOKIO, Sept. 15.—The United States has its Helen Wills and Gertrude Ederle and France has its Suzanne, but Japan is hailing its Kinue Hitemi, who has now created four world records for women athletes in the running broad jump, the running high jump, the running hop, step and jump and the 200 metre dash. Kinue holds practically all of the Japanese records and writes sports for the Osaka Mainichi, a leading newspaper.

Chamber Issues Warning On Check Passer To Merchants

The following warning was issued from the office of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, this morning:

The Milton Chamber of Commerce advises local merchants to be on guard against a man signing his name as Gus Mourain, who is described as being 5 feet 9 inches tall, of light complexion and foreign extraction, who while in Milton drew checks on the Russel National Bank of Lewistown, Pa., at which bank it is reported that Mourain never had an account.

Mourain claimed to represent John W. Compton, Publicity Agent of Finley, O.,and issued receipts for subscriptions to trade publications as follows:—"The Shoe Retailer" and "Tires". The receipt issued carried the printed name of Mr. Compton. Compton is desirous of having Mourain apprehended. Mourain is capable evidently as he was able to cash one of the checks.

If anything has been heard of this man in this community, please notify the secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce or the Police Department.

GARDEN CLUB TO GIVE THIRD FALL FLOWER EXHIBIT

Will Take Place Thursday And Friday Evenings In Carnegie Auditorium

Final arrangements have been completed for the Third Fall Flower Show of the Lawrence County Garden Club to be given Thursday and Friday, September 16-17 in the Carnegie Auditorium on South Jefferson street.

The affair promises to be one of the best fall Flower Exhibits ever staged by the Garden Club as everybody is eligible to enter flowers regardless of whether they are a member of the club or not.

The New Castle Lions Club has voted to present a special prize in the form of a beautiful silver basket flower container to the person winning the most points for artistic decoration in bowls and baskets. The prize offered is worth winning and no doubt many people will make an effort to obtain the handsome gift.

Special Feature

A special feature of the Flower Show this year will be the display of an Economy Luncheon Table which is open to members of the Club only. The setting of the table is limited to ten dollars including dishes and linen. Those having a table of this kind are required to present an itimized account of every thing on the table.

The Girl Scouts are entitled to have a Wild Flower Exhibit. To the Scout securing the greatest number of specimens, a book, entitled, "Wild Flowers Every One Should Know" will be given.

The committees in charge include the following:—President of Garden Club, Mrs. S. D. Pearson; Publicity, Mrs. W. C. Meehem, Mrs. David Ritchie, Mrs. B. K. Thacker, Mrs. D. R. Harris, Miss Elizabeth Reis; Classification, Mrs. W. A. Pond, Mrs. E. W. Greiner, Miss Adeline Marshall; Staging, Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, Mrs. Allen Urmson, Mrs. Norman A. Martin, Mrs. C. S. Abdominal "Flu" Subsiding Here

"Abdominal influenze is subsiding here", said City Health Physician W. L. Steen today.

At one time 70 cases existed in the city.

Other health office attaches denied rumors that there is an epidemic of typhoid fever in the Seventh Ward.

"There has been only one case',, said the attache.

DISMISS CHARGE AGAINST SOLDIER IN LOCAL CASE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Charges of a serious nature against Louis Whitaker, artillery private, stationed at Fort Myer, Va., by 16-year-old Lillian Davis, said to be from New Castle, Pa., were dismissed yesterday when the case was called for preliminary hearing.

The case was nolle prossed after the girl failed to put in her appearance to press the charge. Testimony was offered that the girl and her older sister had left Arlington county, Va., where the latter had resided, with the announced intention of not returning.

Two weeks ago the girl stumbled into the home of her sister, Mrs. Nellie Davis, and told in detail how, she said, she had been attacked, naming Whitaker as her assailant.

Garbage Heaviest In City's History

"More garbage is being collected now than at any time in the history of the department", said Superintendent Howard Phillips of the collection of garbage department today.

He explained that the condition is caused by the fruit canning season and corn crop.

Four trucks are employed in the collection.

"We work early and late and are doing our best to keep cans clean", said Phillips.

RESIGNED!

Neighbors—

Every so often when some one hears the people complaining about how those in authority are not serving them satisfactorily, and hearing them say that something should be done, that some one steps up and says "Let us do it." You hail such a person with a loud hurrah, put a cross opposite his name on the ballot, and then sit down and HURRAH for him. You forget that no General ever won a battle with his followers sitting down, and that describes the school situation here. I have done my best to arouse you to your own interest, and the interest of your children and grandchildren, and have quit because of my inability to so arouse you. You are so busy trying to make a living, trying to make ends meet that you have no time to make money. If you would take a little time to study why you cannot get ahead you would find what every successful business man knows, that he must keep his fixed charges down, and that is one of the reasons you cannot get ahead. Your fixed expenses are too high, and one of your fixed expenses is taxes. Yet, while you will pack the Court House to listen to a murder case that does not remotely concern you, there was less than a dozen of you there to hear the Ouster proceedings, which vitally concerned every one of you.

As this will be my last letter to you for some time, perhaps forever, I want to tell you a little about that Ouster proceeding, so you will know what you are up against. First of all I want to say there neither was nor is anything personal in the proceedings. The Petitioners acted against the Respondents as School Directors only. As far as we know, Love, Young, Campbell, Douthett and Nothdurft as neighbors and citizens are all right, but we believed that they, as School Directors failed in their duty, that is all, and you have a right to know why we so believed.

There were five items in the Petition. The first was unimportant, and the fourth and fifth were really one, so that left really only three charges of neglect. It would take too much space to write them all up, so I am just going to give you item number two. The Court displays the same logic in its answer to item three, four and five as it does to this number two, so that the Petition, Answer and Court's Opinion on item two is the meat of the proceedings.

Item two of the Petition reads:—That the majority of the board, Young, Love, Campbell, Douthett and Nothdurft did at a meeting of the board, held on 7th day of December, 1925 award and enter into a contract with L. A. Haug and others for the erection and remodelling of rooms under the Stadium, contrary to the provisions of Section 615 of the Act of May 15th, 1911, commonly called the School Code.

The Respondents' answer is:—The statements contained in the 2nd paragraph of the Petition, respondents aver that they are immaterial and irrevalent, and insufficient to warrant the relief prayed for. The respondents deny that at a meeting of the School Board held on the 7th day of December, 1925, or at any other time, they, or any of them, awarded or entered into a contract with the individuals and firms mentioned in said second paragraph of the Petition, for the work mentioned, contrary to the provisions of Section 615 of the Act mentioned.

The Court says:—The Petitioners allege that the Respondents at a meeting of the Board on December 7th, 1925, awarded and entered into contracts with L. A. Haug and others for the erection and remodelling of rooms under the Stadium, contrary to the provisions of Section 615 of the Act of May, 1911, P. L. 309. The Petitioners offered evidence to show that the Haug and Barnes and Clark contracts had been awarded and entered into previous to the submission of Plans and Specifications to the State Board of Education. By resolution of the Board, the bids for those two contracts were accepted on December 7th, 1925. The Haug contract bearing date of December 10th, and the Barnes and Clark contract dated December 28th, 1925. Plans and Specifications were submitted to State Board of Education on December 16th, 1925, and were approved with certain recommendations on or about December 23rd, 1925. The minutes of the Board show the approval of Haug's bond on January 12th, 1926, and the approval of Barnes & Clarks' bond on February 9th, 1926. From the testimony of James K. Love, President of the Board, it appears that the contracts with Haug, and Barnes & Clark were not executed by Love on behalf of the Board, until after the approval of the bonds. Under these facts we cannot find that there was any refusal or any neglect on the part of Respondents to perform any duty imposed upon them by the provisions of the School Code.

The provision of Section 615 of the School Code referred to is as follows:—No public school building shall be contracted for, constructed or reconstructed, in any school district of the 2nd, 3rd or 4th class, until their plans and specifications have been sumbitted to the State Board of Education, and any recommendations concerning the same by the State Board of Education have been laid before the Board of School Directors.

The contention of the Petitioners was that this act imposed a duty on the Board to have the State Board of Education FIRST pass on the Plans and Specifications, so that any recommendations that the State Board might have made, could have been passed on by the board and incorporated in the Plans and Specifications BEFORE bids were taken. This is the accepted interpretation of this Section throughout Pennsylvania. In support of our contention that this had not been done, we presented the minutes of the Board of December 7th, 1925, which contain a resolution recommending that these, the contracts, be awarded to the parties mentioned.

We also presented in evidence the contract of L. A. Haug with the Board, dated December 10th, 1925. All these contracts are written on what is known as standard form of agreement and begin as follows:—

This agreement made this 10th day of December in the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-five, by and between L. A. Haug, hereinafter called the Contractor and the School District of the City of New Castle hereinafter called the Owner, ...

And at the bottom just above the signatures it reads:—In witness whereof they have executed this agreement the day and year first above written.

(Signed) L. A. HAUG.
School District of the City of New Castle, Penna.
(Signed) JAMES K. LOVE, President.

Attest:
HUGH M. MARQUIS,
Secretary

Summing up we offered in evidence the returned Plans and Specifications bearing the seal of the State of Pennsylvania, and dated approved December 21st, 1925.

We presented the minutes of the Board showing the contract awarded to L. A. Haug on December 7th, 1925, nine days before the plans were submitted to the State Board of Education, and two weeks before they were approved. We presented the contract under which the work has actually been done and paid for, between L. A. Haug and the School District of the City of New Castle, duly executed and signed by the President of the Board, James K. Love, and dated December 10th, 1925, six days before the plans were submitted to the State Board, and eleven days before they were approved. Against this there is the unsupported, repudiating testimony of J. K. Love that he did not execute the contract on the date which the contract bears. In cases of this kind, there is no appeal.

Now neighbors try and remember you voted last fall 32,000 against 19,000 for a change in the administration of your school affairs and did not get it. Find out why! You have read in the papers about the new school going up at East New Castle. Be sure and see it. I have the plans and it is going to be a nice building of 20 rooms, Gymnasium and Auditorium, at a total cost of $136,000. Three like it would house as many children as your progressive School Board has spent $1,400,000 to house in the last five years, and they do not think that they have wasted any of your money. The Withers Company business is principally Plumbing and Heating schools. We contract for about two schools per month. This lets me see many plans and specifications, and my knowledge of school buildings should have been useful to you, but in my nine months on the School Board no suggestion of mine has been welcomed by the majority of the board. I have been out of harmony with the majority from the beginning. I have raised six children and believe I know children's needs, and I also have had a very intimate knowledge of the value of a dollar.

The Citizen's League made a try to save the people of New Castle from going two million dollars into unnecessary debt. The League received plenty of Hurrahs, but Hurrahs don't buy children's shoes or printer's ink. The League is neither down or out, and will meet as usual every Monday evening at 111 North Shenango street, and those of you who do not come very often, as well as those who have never been there will always find the door open.

FOOT EXPERT SUCCESSFULLY TREATED OVER 300 NEW CASTLE PEOPLE ONE WEEK

Startling results were obtained by nationally known Specialist. Bunions, Callouses and Sore and Inflamed Joints particularly, yield to treatment.

During his recent visit to New Castle, Paul Viteto, famous foot specialist, actually treated over three hundred people of this city. These represented many who had suffered for years from foot troubles. The splendid results obtained were laid by Mr. Viteto to the use of the recently perfected preparation of Dr. Bower's, known as Dr. Bower's Bunion Paint.

Mr. Viteto says of this preparation, Dr. Bower's Bunion Paint without question marks a great discovery. Painful bunions, foot callouses of all descriptions and sore and inflamed joints yield quickly to its healing powers. People no longer have any excuse for suffering from these afflictions when for a small amount they can get Dr. Bower's Bunion Paint. I urge everyone in New Castle who suffers from foot troubles to go to Love and Megown or any other reliable druggist and get a bottle today.

New York To Paris Flight Attempt Called Off Due To Weather.

STORMS CAUSE CHANGE IN PLANS

(International News Service)
WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The New-York-to-Paris flight will not start until dawn Thursday, owing to unfavorable weather reports, Capt. Rene Fonck, the flight leader, announced early today.

Everything had been in readiness for a hop-off this morning, but because of storms off the New Foundland coast the French ace decided to delay a day.

The latest reports showed that there was rain for 300 miles east of the Grand Banks, and poor visibility for another 800 miles. This rendered the flight out of the question. The big Sikorsky plane, in which Finck will attempt to win the long-standing offer of $25,000 for the first New-York-to-Paris flight was wheeled back into its shed and Captain Fonck and his companions went home.

Before leaving the aviation field here Capt. Fonck indicated that there might be a short test flight today.

State Delegates May Travel On Special Train

Delegates from Lawrence county who will attend the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association convention at Reading October 13, 14 and 15 have been extended a hearty invitation from the Allegheny County Sabbath School association to use the special train that they are providing which will leave Pittsburgh Tuesday evening October 12 at 10 o'clock.

By taking this train delegates will arive in Reading in time for the first session Wednesday morning and no time will be lost. Delegates from Indiana, Cambria, Westmoreland and some sections of Fayette will join enroute.

There will be one day coach for those who do not care to use the sleeping car. Delegates wishing to take this special train from Pittsburgh can notify Mrs. William J. Marshall, county secretary and further information will be furnished.

EXPLOSION TRAPS EIGHT IN TUNNEL

Dry Agents Get Increase In Pay

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 15.—Each dry agent under John D. Pennington, regional prohibition administrator here, will receive approximately $300 more in his pay envelope the coming year than he did this year, according to an announcement by Pennington here today.

The increase came as the result of recommendations made by Pennington in a conference with Lincoln C. Andrews at Washington recently.

Files Injunction On Annexation To City Of Pittsburgh

Seek To Prevent Advertising Of Proposed Amendment On Annexation

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Edward A. Sweeney, Pittsburgh, today filed an injunction suit in the Dauphin county court asking that Clyde L. King, secretary of the commonwealth be enjoined from advertising the proposed amendment to the state constitution providing for the annexation of certain boroughs adjacent to the city of Pittsburgh.

Deputy Attorney General William A. Schnader, accepted service in the case for the state. The court allowed fifteen days for the filing of the state's answer.

Sweeney in his request for the injunction against king, alleges that the joint resolution providing for the advertising of the proposed amendment was passed at a special session of the legislature and is therefore null and void. He also alleges the king under those circumstances may not spend the funds of the state in advertising an amendment to the constitution which may be later declared illegal.

Baptists Open Annual Session In Warren, Pa.

(International News Service)
WARREN, Pa., Sept. 15.—The B. Y. P. U. convention having ended with the election of officers last night the regular session of the Oil Creek Baptist conference got under way today in the new First Baptist temple.

New B. Y. P. U. officers are Rev. Harold Stoddard, Warren, youngest minister in the conference, president; Melvin Thomas, Corry, vice president; Rose Stevenson, Titusville, secretary, and Evelyn Hirsch, Erie, treasurer.

Rev. Maurice D. Stevenson, Union City, opened today's session with prayer service and Rev. Stoddard delivered the address of welcome.

Moderator S. J. Arthur of Erie, spoke briefly to the delegates after which the annual sermon, "The Cure of Souls" was delivered by Rev. M. M. Courson of Wesleyville.

New pastors were to be introduced this afternoon.

Von Elm Wins In Amateur Tourney

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service
BALTUSROL GOLF CLUB, SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—George Von Elm, Los Angeles, scored first blood in the national amateur golf championship this morning by defeating Ellworth Augustus of Cleveland, in a great first round match that was carried to an extra hole before the coast entry could prevail. George won on the 19th hole.

On the extra hole, Von Elm almost hooked his drive out of bounds but got well up to the green with his second and chipped on with his third for a par 5. Augustus was straight with his first two shots but manhandled his third twenty yards over the green and finally got a losing 6.

College Student Army Invades New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 15.—This little college town, the home of Westminster College, seems to have awakened overnight from the lethargy which has seemed to have enwrapped it during the past three months. Wednesday morning the streets were alive with incoming students. Old Main, that sedate old building which has witnessed the coming and going of hundreds of sudents, was the center of the activity, for registration began at 9 a. m.

According to Dr. W. Charles Wallace, president of the college, the enrollment will be the largest in the history of the school. It is certain that 525 students will be registered while late arriving students will increase the total to approximately 550, it is said.

Never before has Westminster welcomed so many Freshmen. The class roll will total 200, with 110 of these being men, 90 women. Lack of facilities caused many women students to be refused admittance. Two new homes have been added to the list of women dormitories.

Seven new members have been added to the faculty for the year.

James W. Coleman, a graduate of the University of Arkansas is to have charge of physical education and will be director of athletics. He comes to Westminster from Akron University where he held a similar position.

Hunter D. Farrish A. M. a graduate of Harvard, will instruct in history, Lois W. Doolittle, A. M. will be an assistant professor of modern languages. She was formerly a member of the faculty at Coe College.

In the absence of Mrs. Sarah Conrad, professor of Spanish who is spending a year in South America, Junita Robinson, A. M. will teach Spanish.

Royal A. Gettman, A. B., a graduate of Swarthmore College, will instruct in English and public speaking. Rev. John Caughey of McKeesport, will instruct in Bible. He spent the past year at the University of Edinborough in Scotland.

John Lawther, who received his A. M. degree in Educational Psychology at Columbia during the past summer, will be a full time instructor in the department of Education. He is also assistant football coach and will act as head coach of basketball.

NEED REPAIRS AT MARTIN GANTZ PUBLIC SCHOOL

Wilkins Company Reports To Board That Building Is Safe, But Urges Replacement

In a report to the New Castle School Board, the W. G. Wilkins Company stated Tuesday evening that the Martin Gantz School building is in safe condition, but that minor repairs are necessary.

Rhythmic exercises are condemned because of vibration, and the company recommends that the building be abandoned as soon as it is convenient. While the building is not in keeping with present day ideas of schools, it is still safe, according to the Wilkins Company.

The board recommended the purchase of hair drying equipment for the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School at a cost not to exceed $300.

The Y. W. C. A. was granted the use of the Benjamin Franklin swimming pool, for classes to run for thirty weeks. Each pupil must present a certificate from a registered, medical practitioner, stating that she is in condition to take swimming lessons.

There was an absence of the usual grist of detail matters Tuesday evening, the board taking up most of the time until after midnight in the consideration of the bids for the Arthur McGill addition, and the purchase of the ground for the new junior high school.

ELECT NINE NEW TEACHERS HERE

Five Resignations Are Presented At Board Meeting On Tuesday

Five resignations of teachers were accepted Tuesday evening, by the New Castle School Board and nine new teachers elected. The five were Pauline Rhodes, Hazel Weike, Harold J. Vance, Leone Broadhead, and John C. Leonard. Harold J. Vance, formerly a teacher in the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School is now teaching in Egypt.

The nine new teachers elected are:— For elementary schools, Dorothy Fisher, Jennie Laurell, Beulah Covert, Ruth Zerner, Maud Montgomery, Mary C. Marquis. For Junior High Schools, Raymond March, Agnes Driver and Lawrence Patterson.

Miss Driver is a daughter of Dr. Lee L. Driver of the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg, Pa., and was one of the speakers on the County Institute program held in the Senior High School the week before the opening of school. Miss Driver was the valedictorian of the graduating class of 1925 in Swarthmore College.

California Has Bit Of "Sahara" Scenery To Save Movie Directors From Africa

(International News Service)

GUADALUPE, Cal., Sept. 15.—A bit of the Sahara desert has been discovered in California. At Guadalupe, motion picture "location" scouts have discovered a stretch of desert country, which, it was declared, bears a closer resemblance to the topography of the great African desert than any other area on the North American continent.

Milton Sills is now using the bleak scenery for the filming of "shots" in "Men of Dawn." The sandy hillocks are overrun with Arabs, Chasseurs d'Afrique, French Legionnaires, save girls and cameramen.

A contingent from the DeMille Studio, working on "The King of Kings," will be the next company on "location" at Guadalupe.

Painters Ask School Board To Aid Them In Securing Wages

Three painters, J. W. Higgins, J. W. Gennarro and C. B. Harrington, employed by W. W. Burnside, presented a sworn affidavit to the members of the New Castle school board Tuesday evening asking that the money due Burnside for work done on the senior high school and the Pollock school be held up until they could get wages they claimed are due.

Higgins claims $111.24, Gennarro $115.74 and Harrington $36.83. They also asked that the bondsmen of Burnside be notified of their request.

School Board Solicitor William J. Moffatt was asked for an opinion in the case and said that under the act of assembly the board was not permitted to hold up Burnside's money, as it was not lawful to garnishe public funds.

Mr. Moffatt stated additionally that the request of the petitioners to notify the bondsmen should be carried out as they had a right to sue in the name of the school board for their use. Such action, while not making the board liable in any manner, would put the school district in the position of being "used plaintiffs".

Special Young People's Meeting At Bible Mission

Esther L. Schmidt, secretary of the Bible House mission, 10 East North street, will conduct a special young people's meeting this evening. The subject will be "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother". Scripture lesson, Exodus 20:12, Matthew 15:4-20. Miss Schmidt will sing "The Old Rugged Cross" and conduct prayer. Song and testimony meeting.

Mrs. Olive Loar, home missionary worker, will conduct the ladies' and mothers' meeting Thursday evening. She will be assisted by Mrs. Alice Schmidt, the matron of the mission. This will be a regular mothers' meeting.

Geneva Opens School Year With Good Prospects

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 15.—Geneva college began her 79th year's work this morning with the largest attendance in her history, her enrollment being approximately 500 which with her extension and summer school enrollments makes a total of 1,750 students. Two new departments were inaugurated the Gailey Foundation of Christian Education and a chair on Commerce and Finance, both of which were recently endowed—the former by J. R. Copeland of Parnassus, Pa., in honor of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Gailey of the same place and the latter by Mrs. Mary D. Myler of Beaver Falls, Pa., in honor of her late husband William Albert Myler one of the original founders of the Standard Sanitary company.

Prof. Rudolph Peterson, Ph. D. of the University of Iowa and Theodore McMillion, Ph. D. of the University of West Virginia, both of whom begin their work this year, were introduced to the student body as were also J. Boyd Tweed and Dr. John Coleman both of Beaver Falls each of whom takes up new work with the college.

Blindness Strikes Woman In Church

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 15.—Mrs. J. Irwin Zerbe, known in local musical circles as Mrs. Florence Wiley Zerbe, and the promoter of many theatrical productions during the past six or seven years, has been stricken temporarily blind.

Mrs. Zerbe was taken ill while directing the choir of St. John's Episcopal Church and no change has developed in her condition.

Uniform System Of Record Cards For City Schools

In a report to the New Castle School Board Tuesday evening, Dr. C. C. Green stated that a uniform system of record cards had been installed in the system here. His report in the matter follows:

We have discovered an unnecessary and wholly inadvisable variation among the several schools of the city in the forms used for administrative purposes. As rapidly as possible we are standardizing these forms. The advantages of such standardization are obvious.

A cumulative record card for individual pupils of the elementary schools has been installed. A copy of this card is submitted herewith.

All progressive school systems keep an efficiency record of their teachers. Accurate information concerning a teacher's service is always preferable to opinions based upon casual observation and unofficial reports. At the beginning of the current school year we introduced a Teacher's Rating Score Card, a copy of which we submit herewith.

The urgent need of a central stock room for the storage and distribution of educational supplies and equipment is apparent. Regardless of how much care is exercised with the purchase of property it must be accounted for after it is purchased. It should be readily available for use at all times and surplus stock should not be stored in basements, corridors, and other public places.

I present this recommendation not only as a matter of sound business practice but because of its relation to the teaching of thrift and other good citizenship factors.

Australian Pilot Reaches Rangoon

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Lieut. Alan Corham, who is flying from Australia to London, arrived at Rangoon today, according to a Rangoon dispatch. Corham was believed lost because no word had been received from him since he landed at Victoria Point, Burma, five days ago. It had been feared that he was lost in the jungle near Penang.

Electric Percolator Cause Of Fire At Swick Home Tuesday

Fire Burns Through Buffet And Into Drawers When Discovered

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—When a clerk in Swick's store at Frisco went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swick on an errand about noon Tuesday he discovered that the electric percolator had been left turned on and the melting metal had burned through the heavy buffet in the dining room and articles in the drawers were blazing. With presence of mind the young man pulled the drawers out and threw them into the yard, returning with water to quench the fire which had made no further headway.

The mother of little Ruth Swick had told her to fix the coffee percolator and bring it over to the store. Probably the little girl was thinking of school and other interesting things and just did not listen to the last of mother's warning "to bring the percolator to the store." The result was, she put the plug into the percolator and left it on the buffet where it dried out and was a mass of flames when discovered.

In the meantime her mother was busy at the store and probably thought that her daughter had neglected to bring the urn over to the store but in the rush of the morning didn't give the matter much thought untill the loss and danger of which she was reminded, brought back her earlier request for coffee.

Food Authority Lectures In School

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—Paul Sampson, famous food authority who has made his address "The Joy of Eating" before the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Ellwood City, addressed the local schools concerning the same topic on Tuesday. Mr. Sampson whose home is at Los Angeles, Calif., has been making a study of foods and their usages for many years.

Yesterday he lectured at the Senior High school in the morning and the Juniors building in the afternoon. The lectures given were of real importance of foods, in the keeping of perfect health.

At 3:30 Mr. Sampson lectured at the Trinity Lutheran church, telling the housewives how to prepare foods for the consumption of their families in order to make it wholesome as well as palatable.

Pittsburgh Man's Condition Better

Truck Is Overturned And Bursts Into Flames As It Reaches Bottom Of Hill

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 15.—William Maschmeier of Pittsburgh, who is in the Ellwood City hospital with a badly fractured skull and numerous cuts and bruises as a result of an automobile acident which occurred early Tuesday morning, is reported to be improved today.

Maschmeier, who was with the driver of the Distributors Service Company truck, going from New Castle to Ellwood, which did not make one of the sharp turns on the road, was thrown from the machine as it dashed over the hill.

The films which were being distributed to some of the movie houses were ignited when the machine caught fire, and the whole truck was soon a mass of flames.

The Pittsburgh man's name could not be learned for certain until friends came from Pittsburgh to identify him. He carried a driver's license in his pocket, but it was badly worn and the writing was nearly illegible.

Religious Committee Meets To Formulate Plans For Future

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 15.—All churches of Ellwood City were represented at the dinner meeting of the Religious Education committee in the M. E. church and a finance committee was named in order that this work can be carried on in the public schools, as it was last year.

Sunday, September 19, will be known as "Week Day Religious Education Day" and the ministers of the various churches have promised to either preach a sermon on this subject or at least make a special announcement in regard to a personal canvass to begin immediately.

The committee of finance named at the meeting included Harry Donaldson, J. I. Porter, John Hough, C. E. Zeigler and P. N. Harmon.

First Aid Kit Will Be Fitted Out By P. T. Organization

Ewing Park School To Be Dedicated Early In December, It Is Announced

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Sept. 15.—About fifty interested parents and teachers atended the first meeting in the new Ewing Park school building Monday afternoon, at which time it was decided for the organization to fit out a first aid kit to be kept in the school ready for cuts and bruises which are the results of playtime at the school grounds.

This kit will be furnished with everything, from scissors to gauze bandages, and will be used by the teachers of the three rooms where 175 pupils are enrolled today.

Mrs. W. G. Thorpe, president, appointed Mrs. W. C. Chancellor and Mrs. W. E. Bayers to select new wicker furniture for the teachers' rest room at the new school building. This room will be furnished by the Parent-Teachers' organization complete.

The nutrition class is to be carried on as it was last year, and plans were started for the dedication of the new brick building, which will take place the first of December. Officers will be elected at the November meeting.

Lincoln Building Gymnasium Initiated With First Assembly

Small Opening Program Precedes Address By Food Specialist In Gym

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—With 800 pupils of the Junior high school assembling in the gymnasium of the Lincoln school building Tuesday this room was initiated into its first meeting which took the form of a lecture given by the health authority Paul Sampson.

The tiers of seats in the form of bleachers on the south side of the big room were not filled and citizens of Ellwood who have been doubtful of the seating capacity of these bleachers will be sufficient for the basketball fans this winter.

A program was carried out at this first assembly with Dwight Conner the principal of the school in charge. Miss Bottorff, teacher of music, led the singing of "America" and the speaker was introduced by W. Ray Smith, superintendent of the schools.

This room is not completed. The floor is ready for surfacing and the walls will not be plastered this season owing to the deficiency of sums in the school board treasury. The large floor 50x90 was shown the speaker and he was given the privelege of doing his stuff.

M. C. B. Club Has Corn Roast Monday

ELLWOOD CITY Pa. Sept. 15.—Mrs. George Moyer's home on Fountain avenue was the meeting place of the M. C. B. club Monday evening. Members of the club and several extra guests enjoyed a corn roast in the back yard and later came into the house where cards were in play. Mrs. Joseph Swogger won the first prize.

Members of the committe in charge of the corn roast were Miss Sallee Hazen, Miss Edith Brown and Miss Claire Mickley.

Other guests included in the party were Mrs. J. G. Ferguson, Miss Josephine Hartzell, Miss Marie Benford, Miss Jessie Mort, Miss Gibson and Miss Sponsler.

KANSAS FLOOD DAMAGE GROWS

Small Cyclones Are Reported In Vicinity Of Hutchinson—Waters Recede

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Pestilence and hunger threatened the Kansas flood district today and in Burlington, where most of the flood damage occurred, a second heavy rain was falling.

Small cyclones visited Hutchinson and vicinity last night, causing thousands of dollars damage. Waters had receded in most of the 100-mile long flood area.

Red Cross and other organization workers were taking care of the sick families and hundreds of homeless farmers.

Two Burlington railroad trains were marooned in northwest Missouri this morning and heavy washouts had occurred near St. Joseph, Mo.

Next to the thrill of the first long trousers comes that of being introduced at a luncheon club.

Reading Wins In Massachusetts Primary Voting

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Sept. 15.—Victory of Arthur K. Reading, county district attorney, in winning a three-cornered race for the Republican nomination for attorney general, and the crushing defeat of District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk county for both the Democratic and Republican nominations for that office, stood today as the outstanding results of the Massachusetts primaries.

Congressional fights showed Congressman Allen T. Treadway far ahead of District Attorney Charles H. Wright in the first district, Republican, and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers decisively defeating Captain John Bordman in the fifth district, Republican.

Two Democratic congressmen, John J. Douglas and James A. Gallivan, were renominated.

POWER—Only seven American cars have higher rated horsepower than the Studebaker President or the Big Six Custom Brougham. The Studebaker Standard Six Custom Sedan is officially rated the most powerful car of its size and weight in the world.

SPEED—Proved by notable victories over time and space, such as that of the Studebaker Big Six Sheriff which recently crossed the continent in 86 hours and 20 minutes—beating the time of crack Limiteds by more than 6 hours.

QUIETNESS—Insured by a motor of the quiet L-head type—today specified by 70% of American automobile manufacturers because of its freedom from valve noises and greater operating efficiency.

SMOOTHNESS—Studebaker spends $600,000 annually building balance into crankshafts. This insures smooth, vibrationless performance.

LOW UPKEEP—Operating cost records of fleets of 10 to 140 Studebaker cars in the service of large corporations prove lower cost per mile. The Studebaker factory sells only $10 worth of repair parts per car in use per year.

LONG LIFE—817 Studebaker owners have driven their cars 100,000 miles and upwards—and they are still going strong.

Mr. Rat shook his whiskers and, pouf! Away flew his rage.

Only a moment before and Mr. Rat had been sure that Pat was making fun of him. Now Mr. Rat was quite as certain that Pat was telling the truth.

"Think I'm wise, do you, Dog? Well, you're right; I am. It takes a very clever creature indeed to outwit a Rat. But you're not so stupid yourself or you'd not have discovered it so quickly."

"We are going to be good friends, I can see that!" barked Pat. Quick-witted little Irishman that he was, Pat had a bright idea. He wanted more than ever he had wanted anything in his life to get out of that box. Perhaps if he said enough nice things to the Rat the vain fellow would help him. "I not only think you're wise, Mr. Rat, but I think you're very handsome. What white teeth you have?"

Mr. Rat smiled, and Pat shivered. The white teeth were so very, very long.

"Now you've noticed them I don't mind telling you I am mighty proud of these teeth of mine!" squealed Mr. Rat. "I owe them a great deal. Never have indigestion, for one thing. They grind my food too finely for that. With them have I gnawed my way out of more than one tight place. And I have yet to meet the enemy face to face who will not run away. Even a Two-Legs dare not drive me into a corner."

Pat put one bright eye close to the opening and stared at Mr. Rat's white teeth—stared while he shivered again.

"How sharp they look! I'll bet you can do with they anything you wish. Oh, Mr. Rat, how I wish I had teeth like yours!" Pat sighed and Mr. Rat grew vainer and vainer.

"What yould you do with them, Pat?" asked he.

"I'd gnaw a hole in this box so I could see out the better!" declared Pat the Dog.

"Well, since you have the wish and I have the teeth and you're a friend of mine I don't mind helping you a little!" squealed Mr. Rat. Standing on his tiptoes, Mr. Rat began to nibble on the edges of the hole in the box.

Man Asks Divorce Because His Bride Has False Teeth

TORONTO, Sept. 15.—Because his wife has false teeth Jacob Kahrnoff a Montreal swain, seeks the annullment of his marriage to Ruth Leipsovitch. Court proceedings are being instituted under statutes of France which were passed in the days of Louis XIII.

At the conquest of Canada in 1763 a chief provision of the treaty was that in Quebec the civil law of France should prevail. And the civil law of France except as it has been amended by local statutes still prevails.

One of the enactments of Louis XIII, was as follows: "Whosoever attracts in bonds of marriage any male subject of His Majesty by means of rouge or powder, perfumes false teeth, false hair, steel corsets, hooped petticoats, high heels, or false hips will be prosecuted for sorcery and the marriage will be declared null and void if the accused is convicted."

It is claimed this enactment has never been repealed.

Again the civil code of Quebec provides that "when there is an error as to the person" the marriage may be attacked if proceedings are instiuted within six months.

Jacob Kharnoff alleges his bride "misrepresented herself as to an essential part of her person.' 'He says that he is of an extremely sensitive disposition, inclined to be psychic and that his material business depends upon his attunement with delightful surroundings. He says that from a child he always had a penchant for beautiful teeth.

Kharnoff says he became acquainted with Miss Leipsovitch, a young Jewish girl whose antecedents, like his, were Russian. He alleges he was attracted to her by the beauty of her teeth—teeth of matched perfection in two even rows of dazzling whiteness that lighted up her whole face. The courtship was a short one. They were engaged in January 1926 and in April they were married.

But a few weeks ago he discovered both her upper and lower sets of teeth are false. He alleges he was prostrated by the shock. He has been unable to eat properly since and his mind has been so disturbed that he cannot attend to his daily duties with his accustomed zeal.

Dozens of Jewish marriages were annulled in Montreal courts some years ago because it was discovered the officiating rabbis were not British subjects and therefore incapable of maintaining registers of civil status. The difficulties and confusion that this caused were so widespread that the legislative assembly had to pass a special enactment.

NEW CASTLE TAKES SECOND GAME OF SERIES

Ellwood City Lacks Punch

Kirker And Kimes Engage In Hurling Duel With Honors Even Tuesday.

ERRORS AID IN LOCAL VICTORY

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Manager "Bill" Steen and his New Castle O. & P. league team gained the advantage game on Ellwood City last evening on the Ewing Park grounds, in the "Little World's Series" for the championship of Lawrence County, by snatching a 4 to 2 victory while the Ellwood team was fast asleep.

The New Castle team now holds a big lead for the county title, the Saturday game played in this city resulted in a 3 to 2 victory for the locals, and the game last evening added another notch to the crown of glory. The locals won the game at Ellwood City by taking advantage of poor base-running on the part of Connie Wardman's boys. Ellwood City had many opportunities to score runs, but lacked the veneer and finish of the New Castle aggregation in getting across with "smart baseball."

Ellwood City outhit Kimes the local twirler having eight safe wallops against seven for New Castle. Walter E. Kirker adorned the slab for Ellwood City and pitched his head-off litterly speaking but four errors coupled with the fact that the County League players didn't know what to do after reaching the runways cost him defeat, in addition Kirker crashed out a double and aided in the scoring of one of the Ellwood City tallies, it was not Kirker's fault that he lost the game last night and you may lay to that.

Locals Score First

The New Castle club drew first blood in the opening round by countering a stiff right to the jaw, Grabfelder was safe when F. Sanders tried to toss one over into Butler county in throwing to first base, but Pete Robertson coaching at first base forgot to tell Grabfelder to run to second on the overthrow and Grabfelder was tossed out before he could gain second base, Buzzard was safe when Brown kicked his grounder around in the dirt, and scored when "Sankey" McCullough tripled to deep right field.

Scoring activity was lacking for a considerable period and it was not until Ellwood City went to bat in their half of the fifth inning that the fans got a thrill, Hudson first man to bat struck out, Dallenbach worked Kimes for a free ticket, Kirker doubled to right and Dallenbach drew up at third, M. Sanders hit one toward third and Kirker ran directly in front of the ball, and it struck him in the leg and caromed away from Reeder, Dallenbach scored from third but was called back and Kirker was called out, F. Sanders scored Dallenbach for "really" this time by singling into right field.

Ellwood City's lead was destined to be short lived, New Castle's wrecking crew started things going in the sixth inning that produced three runs and gave them the victory in the bag, Weimer first to bat fanned, Grabfelder shot a single into center field, Buzzard doubled and Grabfelder scored, McCullough knocked one through the pitcher's box and Buzzard scored, Hoffman singled and McCullough tallied after reaching second base on the play for Buzzard at the plate, Steen hit into a double play Volpe to Brown. There was no more scoring in that ball game.

Paris (Kid) Cangie Is Flashing 'Kayo'

By JACK KASTNER

It is generally agreed that the statement made by writers in almost every city in which Paris (Kid) Cangie of New Castle has performed during the past year that he is the greatest hitter at his weight in the ring today, is just about the truth. Cangie added the 39th knockout of his career at the Erie arena when he sent Frankié Garcia, the Cuban lightweight, to the floor for the count in the first round of what was scheduled as a 10-round main event. It was short and snappy, a rush of fists at the retreating Cuban and the landing of a right back of the left ear, that sent Garcia down for the count.

Joe Lotta, the Rochester manager, picked Garcia as the boy to avenge the defeat which his favorite, Joe Trippe, suffered at the hands of the same Cangie recently. Joe made a bad guess. One cannot condemn Garcia as being a poor boy, for he had no chance to show what he might have. From the first tap of the bell until they carried Garcia to his corner, which was exactly two minutes later, Garcia did nothing but try to avoid the rain of blows that came from any and every direction and landed often.

A short left hook to the body forced the Cuban into a half crouch at the first blow struck. Frankie had a world of respect after that. A right to the body almost nauseated Garcia.

Then followed as wicked an attack as has ever been made on an individual in a local ring. Cangie was all over his opponent, hitting with triphammer blows to face and jaw, body and over the heart and giving him no quarter.

Garcia slid to the floor several times to escape the cannon-like lefts and rights that whipped first from one side and then the other. He was ordered to his feet twice but he was soon back to his knee.

Cangie crowded his man to the ropes before he got in position to let loose the blows which sent Garcia down for the count. It was a wild right back of the ear and Garcia went down like a felled tree.

He was out for 10 minutes after the blow. He was carried to his corner and his seconds worked over him long before they revived him enough to return him to his dressing room. Garcia never had a chance. He was licked before he started—Erie Dispatch-Herald.

Church Teams Battle Tonight

Central Presbyterians And First M. E. Battle For Supremacy Tonight.

GAME CALLED AT SIX O'CLOCK

The first game of the series to determine the champions of the New Castle Church league will be played at Centennial field tonight at 6 o'clock, bringing together the Central Presbyterians and First Methodists the two teams being deadlocked for the top rung in the circuit.

The Presbyterians and Methodists are playing a snappy brand of baseball and have far out-distanced the other teams that go to make up the church circuit. The Presbyterians at the start of the season looked like sure winners when they took eight straight games without a defeat, but a slump, natural to all teams came along and they fell by the roadside.

The Methodists by a super-human effort reached the first position in the league after several weeks of intensive play only to have the Presbyterians overtake them and climb up on the same wagon.

The Presbyterians will likely bank on Melder or Bush to pitch them to victory tonight while the Methodists have Baker or Leonard in shape for mound duty.

The game tonight is being played as a postponed game from an earlier date in the season. The second game of the series will be played at Centennial field at 6 o'clock on Friday night, Kirker announced.

Ralph Day Leaves For Kiski Today

Former Star Quarterback Of Local Grid Team To Try For Kiski Eleven

Ralph "Scooter" Day, perhaps one of the greatest quarterbacks to ever don the uniform as a New Castle high school gridder, left early today for Kiski preparatory school to enroll for the coming term and also to become a candidate for Coach Marks' powerful eleven.

Day is rated as one of the best quarterbacks in this section of the state and for the past four years was a tower of strength to the New Castle high teams. Day's absence here this year will be missed while Kiski gains a real football player.

Incidentally Day will become a member of the same team that Tom McMurdo of Ellwood City will more than likely play on. Both Day and McMurdo were valuable men to their teams and it will be recalled that McMurdo outgeneraled Day in the Ellwood City and New Castle game that gave the Ellwoodians the W. P. I. A. L. trophy cup last season.

Dempsey Enters Secret Training

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—Jack Dempsey will pick up the burden of training here again today behind locked and guarded doors.

Fresh from a day of rest, untroubled by injunctions and threatening legal storms, the champion expects to get down to serious labor in today's work outs. Gone will be the easy fiddling with sparring partners and if there be any among the Dempsey collection of catchers who can not take it, they will not be among those present very long.

Newspapermen will be permitted to peep today and tomorrow but after that the workouts are going to be as secret as a corps of about 20 watchmen can make them.

Tonight the champion will referee one of the bouts on a card of fights arranged for a milk fund benefit by a local newspaper.

Bobby Sets Terrific Pace And Scores 73 For Total Of 143.

SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—The magic clubs of Bobby Jones paced America's foremost amateurs successfully through the qualification test for the national amateur championship to a dramatic finish on the sand-cupped links of Baltusrol here yesterday. Three thousand spectators trailed the famous Atlantan through another brilliant match over the rolling foothills of the Orange Mountains this afternoon as he raced ahead of the pack to post a 73 for a medal-winning total of 143. But it was not until three hours later, with dusk settling down on the links battleground, that they had the privilege of looking upon the day's most stirring struggle with Francis Ouimet of Boston, hero of bygone days, and young Watts Gunn, Bobby's Atlanta foe in the final last year, fighting for places in the match-playing field.

Manager Max? By Feg Murray

Max Carey he of the "misplaced zeal" is going to be a darn good major league manager in the near future, unless all signs and symbols fail absolutely. First of all he has the background, the ability and the personality; and secondly, he has gone to a team that could stand a new manager. Wilbert Robinson is all right in his way—and he weighs quite a bit too—but he is president of the Brooklyn club as well as manager and one man cannot be president and manager any better than one club can be bossed by two managers, as Pittsburgh is.

The whole "Pirate Mutiny" was very interesting at least to the casual outside observer. To the ABC's (Adams, Bigbee and Carey) or to Clarke, McKechnie and Sam Dreyfuss, the whole affair must have been somewhat of a nightmare. But good old Max must have felt better after 20,000 Pirate fans put their O. K. on him as he played his first game in Pittsburgh as a member of the Brooklyn team and helped defeat the proud Corsairs in their own backyard.

Put yourself in Carey's place. How would you feel if after being wrapped up heart and soul for 16 years in trying to make Pittsburgh win and after you had been the hero of a world series in which thanks to your efforts, your club came out a winner, you find yourself the following season deprived of your captaincy, suspended without pay and sold at the waiver price to a sixth place club? And all for being the ring leader in a so-called "insurrection" in which you acted as you did only because you had the good of your team at heart!

Well, I'm sure if Barney Dreyfuss had been at home, he'd never have let such a potential great manager go on the market cheap. The Pirates loss is Brooklyn's gain, no doubt about that.

Feg Murray Says.

If Tunney should get sick and be unable to fight and if Fred Fulton, the w. k. diver, should take his place on the program, would that also make Freddie a sub-marine?

Series Battle Here Thursday

New Castle And Ellwood City To Play Third Game Of Series Here.

GAME CALLED FOR SIX O'CLOCK

New Castle and Ellwood City will do battle here Thursday night at 6 o'clock at Centennial field in the third game of the "little world's series" of Lawrence county. The New Castle team with two victories under their belts will try to make it three straight from the county league champs. Connie Wardman believes that Ellwood City will take the third game from New Castle.

Manager Steen will likely send Hospidore back to the mound here Thursday night, with Coen as second choice. Connie Wardman will more than likely bank on Jamison again. Jamison went fine here in the opening game for about four innings then blew higher than a kite in a hurricane and New Castle started a slaughter.

Interest in the series is at fever heat here and indications point to an overflow crowd at Centennial field when the bell rings.

Having discovered that no football club wearing green has ever won the championship a club in Plymouth, England has decided to abandon its colors green and black as being unlucky.

Bobby Jones Big Favorite

Expect Title Holder To Easily Dispose Of Opponent Today.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

BALTUSROL COUNTRY CLUB, SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 15.—Just as the hands of the clock achieve something of a right angle at 9:30 this very good morning, the first round of match play in the national amateur golf championship will get under way with official promptitude and the writer, without useless preamble, wishes to go on record to the effect that Jones will win. That constitutes official statement No. 1.

Official statement No. 2 is that Jones will lose and if you think I have a frayed cuff in my family closet you can think twice and save yourself some money. Two further facts about this first round are offered herewith for what they might be worth, which is an ample sufficiency.

Jones can't win.

Jones can't lose.

The philosophers say that everything depends on how one views a situation. When this one is considered in the light that Robert T. Jones, open golf champion of America and Great Britain yesterday's medalist and the defending amateur title holder through two seasons, has been drawn to meet Richard Jones, champion of nowhere in particular outside of Westchester county, the sage and learned character of the writer's observations is obvious. I am so absolutely correct that I'm even right when I'm wrong.

However that doesn't alter the fact that they pulled a soft one out of the hat for the great Bobby in the first of his two 18 hole rounds today. Dick Jones reached the semi-finals last year but he simply hasn't the stuff to romp in that society even if he hadn't drawn the greatest of all golfers as his opponent. This fact only serves to hasten the end. Richard Jones no longer will be with us this afternoon.

Pennant Races In Both Leagues

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. — Cincinnati holds undisputed possession of first place this morning in the National League free-for-all, having defeated Brooklyn yesterday while the Cardinals were idle. The Reds now lead St. Louis by half a game while the Pirates, who also won yesterday, trail the Cardinals by two games.

Chicago's faint pennant hopes went glimmering when McCarthy's club lost to the Phillies.

The Yankees and Indians who were idle yesterday, open a crucial six game series in Cleveland today. Speaker's tribe must sweep the series to gain the league lead.

Play By Play Record As New Castle Takes Second Series Game

By "BUGS" WALTHER

First Inning

New Castle — Weimer flied to Brown. Grabfelder was safe on F. Sanders overthrow of first base, but was out at second when Volpe snatched the ball and threw to second ahead of the runner. Buzzard was safe when Brown fumbled his grounder, and stole second. McCullough tripled to right field and Buzzard scored. Hoffman flied out to Byak. One Run, One Hit. Two Errors.

Ellwood City—M. Sanders singled to center, F. Sanders walked, Brown flied to McCullough, Cunningham forced F. Sanders at second, Volpe flied out to Hoffman. No Runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Second Inning

New Castle—Steen flied to M. Sanders, Reeder went out on a slow roller to Kirker. Gahles fanned. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City—Byak singled to left and went to second as Hudson went out from Kimes to Steen, Dallenbach fanned. Kirker was thrown out by Hoffman. No runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Third Inning

New Castle—Kimes fanned, Weimer beat out an infield hit, Grabfelder forced Weimer at second, Buzzard forced Grabfelder at second. No Runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Ellwood City—M. Sanders went out on a grounder to Kimes, F. Sanders flied out to McCullough, Brown went out to Steen unassisted. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Fourth Inning

New Castle—McCullough flied out to Brown. Hoffman fanned. Steen went out from F. Sanders to Hudson. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City—Cunningham beat out a hot liner that Kimes couldn't handle, but Steen pulled the hidden ball trick and Cunningham was tagged out. Volpe was tossed out by Grabfelder. Byak was thrown out by Reeder. No Runs, One Hit, No Errors.

Fifth Inning

New Castle—Reeder flied to F. Sanders. Gahles flied to Brown. Kimes was thrown out by Kirker. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City—Hudson fanned, Dallenbach had walked, and Kirker doubled to right field with Dallenbach taking second, both runners advanced a base as Sanders beat out a hit toward third. Dallenbach scored on the play and Kirker was ruled out due to having been hit by the ball while running to third. Dallenbach was called back to third and M. Sanders stole second, both runners scoring when F. Sanders poked a single into right field. Brown was out on a grounder that Steen gathered in. Two Runs, Three Hits, No Errors.

Sixth Inning

New Castle—Weimer fanned. Grabfelder poked a base hit into center field, and scored when Buzzard doubled to left field. McCullough shot a liner through the pitchers box and Buzzard scored, McCullough took second on the play for Buzzard at home, and scored when Hoffman dropped a single into center. Steen flied out to Volpe, who doubled Hoffman at first. Three Runs, Three Hits, One Error. Hudson was charged with an error for dropping a foul fly.

Ellwood City—Cunningham flied out to McCullough, Volpe flied out to Weimer, Byak fanned. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Seventh Inning

New Castle—Reeder walked, Gahles flied out to Kirker, who doubled Reeder at first. Kimes was out on a grounder Kirker to Hudson. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Ellwood City — Hudson hit through short for a safe hit, Dallenbach singled to right, and Hudson went to third. Kirker flied to McCullough. M. Sanders hit to Kimes, who tossed out Hudson at third. F. Sanders fanned. No Runs, Two Hits, No Errors.

Eighth Inning

New Castle—Weimer went out Volpe to Hudson, Grabfelder was safe at first when Hudson dropped a throw from F. Sanders. Buzzard beat out a bunt and Grabfelder tried to score from third on a delayed steal, but was thrown out by Volpe at the plate. McCullough flied to Byak. No Runs, One Hit, One Error.

Ellwood City—Brown went out Grabfelder to Steen, Cunningham was thrown out by Grabfelder, and Volpe flied to Weimer, ending the game. No Runs, No Hits, No Errors.

Illinois Bans Phil Rosenberg

Commission Names Taylor Champion; Rosenberg Fails To Post Forfeit.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Illinois' State Athletic Commission threw the boxing fans of Chicago and the Middle West into a panic Tuesday following its regular weekly meeting by announcing that the world's bantamweight championship match scheduled for Thursday night at Cubs' Park between Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, the titleholder and Bud Taylor, his foremost challenger, had been declared off.

It was further announced that Rosenberg and his manager, Harry Segal, had been suspended for life in Illinois and that Taylor would be looked upon in the future by the board as the bantamweight champion of the world.

It is estimated that $50,000 worth of tickets for the canceled match have already been sold. Money will be refunded, it was announced.

Failure of the champion and his pilot to post the required forfeits for the proposed match was the principal reason given by Chairman Oswald W. Huncke, chairman of the commission, for the suspension of the titleholder and his manager.

TILDEN DEFEATS NEIL SULLIVAN IN NET MATCHES

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Exhibiting the most erratic brand of tennis he has shown since becoming national champion, six years ago, William T. Tilden II limped to his second victory in the title tournament at the West Side club yesterday.

Big Bill, still favoring his strained knee, had as much difficulty overcoming one of his young proteges, Neil Sullivan of Bethlehem, Pa., as he did Monday in disposing of John Van Ryn, Princeton youth. The titleholder, finding few of his strokes in consistent working order, dropped his first set and was given a lively tussle before he gained control sufficiently to pull out the match at 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Hoodoo On Trail Of Indian Infield

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The Cleveland Indians seem haunted by an evil spirit which smacks down infielders as rapidly as the club acquires them.

This hoodoo started with the acquisition of Luis Guisto, a young Italian from the Pacific Coast League, a short time before the war. Guisto, young, strong, a good fielder and a whale of a hitter, had made a name for himself on the sunset coast. The Indians, lacking a satisfactory first sacker ever since the departure of George Stovall, hoped that in Guisto they had found a man who could fill the bill for years.

Guisto reported one spring and seemed destined to live up to all expectations. His only shortcoming was too much weight. He set to work willingly at the New Orleans training camp to take that off. He ran miles around the field, satisfied himself with a bit of aromatic spirits of ammonia on a little sponge instead of drinking water, and almost starved himself to death. He got his chance at first and was delivering.

Then came the war. Guisto went across and was one of the unfortunates caught in the early gas attacks which found the men unprepared. The climate around the Great Lakes region of Cleveland affected him when he finally rejoined the team. He was forced to return to the atmosphere of the Pacific Coast.

Ray Chapman, one of the greatest shortstops that ever played in the game, suffered a broken leg one spring which put him out of the game much of that season and later met an untimely death when hit with a pitched ball in the heat of the 1920 pennant race in which the club triumphed, despite his death.

Other lesser injuries handicapped the infield at various times. Then, last summer, the Indians bought third baseman Johnny Hodapp from Indianapolis. He reported last fall and showed plenty of promise. He was expected to start the season at the fast corner this year, Lutzke's inconsistent work giving the newer man the call.

Hodapp, sliding into second, broke his ankle and was lost for the season.

Manager Speaker of the Indians purchased Lou Fonseca from the Newark club of the International League for the reported price of $50,000. Fonseca was to report to the Cleveland club September 15. Four days after the deal was closed he dislocated his left shoulder. He will be out for the remainder of the season and the possibilities are that he may never be able to play at the speed he displayed this season.

Manager Speaker of the Indians had every reason to believe Fonseca would prove a star at second for Cleveland next season if placed there, while Freddie Spurgeon has played good ball most of the present season, the Indian bosses have not felt secure at the keystone sack. Now they are up in the air again.

Incidentally, Commissioner Landis may have to decide whether or not the Newark club can collect on Fonseca. He was still playing with Newark. The date of his reporting to Cleveland had not arrived.

Tri-State College Teams Invited Here For Mars High Game

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Faculty Manager of Athletics Ralph H. Gardner made the announcement today that the following tri-state college grid teams and coaches have been invited to witness the opening game of the season here Saturday afternoon: Westminster, Grove City, Geneva and Thiel. The teams and officials will be guests of the local high school and will be given seats of honor, it is understood.

Tuesday afternoon Faculty Manager Gardner had a force of workmen at Ben Franklin field busily engaged in erecting the wooden bleacher seats. The work of placing the bleachers the entire distance around the spacious field will be completed sometime Thursday, was the indication, and everything is in readiness for the opening game here.

Can Seat 8,500.

The wooden bleacher seats, it was said, will hold in the neighborhood of 3,000 fans, while it is stated that about 5,600 fans can be accommodated in the grand new concrete stadium, making a seating capacity of about 8,500 fans for the entire field. It is doubtful if there is another high school field in this section of the state that can take care of more fans than Ben Franklin field.

Bleacher seats are being erected along the northern end of the field and also along the western side of the field, with the southern end of the yard being left open, but it is said that small benches will be erected to take care of an overflow crowd.

The goal posts have been erected at one end of the field with the other posts being made ready to erect some time Thursday. The field this year is far better than last season. The muddy spots have been eliminated by grass, and in fact the entire playing field this year is a solid mass of green turf, thanks to the school board for appropriating a fixed sum for the sowing of seed and taking care of the growth of terra firma.

Gridders Indulge In Stiff Workout Tuesday

By "BUGS" WALTHER

That the New Castle High football team will be in condition for the opening game against Mars High Saturday afternoon, is a foregone conclusion. Never in the history of football at the local institution has a squad been worked harder.

Coach Phil. H. Bridenbaugh after two weeks of drill on the fundamentals of the game, hauled out the tackling dummy on Tuesday afternoon and the boys had a merry session of smacking the stuffed figure for over an hour. "Old Mary Ann", or "Helitrope" or whatever you choose to call it, suffered no little punishment as the result of some forty candidates each taking about four flying tackles.

Good Tackles Are Asset

Tackling as everyone knows is one of the most important phases of football. A good tackle is a big asset to any team, and if every man on the squad can tackle the defensive play of the team is one of the outstanding features, and that is just exactly what Coach Bridenbaugh is driving at, when he hauls the dummy out for rehearsal.

The boys prior to the tackling practice yesterday were sent through another of those famous signal drills, with three squads and a few hangovers participating. Signal practice lasted about an hour with the remainder of the time being spent in rushing the stuffed dummy.

While the coach was not very communicative on the subject it is more than a possibility that the boys will be put through another hard scrimmage session before the season opens Saturday.

The first string team is almost a certainty today, with one or two positions yet in doubt, but as a whole the mentor is rather well satisfied with the result to date and that means that New Castle High will have a cracker-jack combination when they take the field against Mars.

Gene Tunney Resumes Work

Tunney Hopes To Work Champion Upon His Heels With Uppercuts.

JIMMY DELANEY JOINS HIS STAFF

(International News Service)

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept 15.—Refreshed physically and mentally by a rest yesterday, Gene Tunney got back to the training grind today in preparation for his championship bout with Jack Dempsey.

"I am at the peak of condition and with just a week to go, I must be careful," the challenger said. "When I am absolutely certain that I am where I want to be I will cut down the work sufficiently to hold my form."

Tunney was to have his first workout today with Jimmy Delaney, the St. Paul fighter.

"Delaney is a mighty clever fighter and I believe he will benefit me greatly," Tunney said.

Gene believes Dempsey's style of fighting is "made to order" for him.

Dempsey's style of fighting is such that he is wide open to hooking uppercut from either hand, and his stance is such that he can be sent back on his heels and kept there," he asserted. "Now I have a good, strong left hand hooking uppercut, and if I can rock Dempsey up on his heels, he will be in a position where I can put the business on him in a hurry."

Hack Wilson Hurt By Pitched Ball

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Hack Wilson, star center-fielder for the Chicago Cubs, was hit on the head by a fast ball in the sixth inning of yesterday's game with the Phillies and was carried unconscious from the field.

Wilson was removed to a hospital for an X-Ray examination, following a preliminary investigation by Dr. Walter Strong, club psysician for the Phillies. The physician stated the outfielder had suffered a slight concussion of the left mastoid.

Last Night's Fights

AT NEW YORK—Bud Gorman defeated Franz Diener, German heavyweight, 10 rounds; Maxie Rosenbloom, New York middleweight, beat Jimmy Francis, Jersey City, 10 round; Babe McGorgary, western middleweight, won from Lee Willetts, Oyster Bay, N. Y., 10 rounds.

Joe Sewell shortstop of the Cleveland team has been hitting the ball hard this season. He is now in his seventh year with the Indians.

Football's Already Topic Of Day On Pacific Coast

By Central Press

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—For the first time since the advent of the University of Southern California into the ranks of Pacific Coast Conference circles in 1921, the Trojans are being ranked at the top in pre-season speculations as to the winner of the annual gridiron championship. Up and down the coast the word is being passed that "Southern California is the team to beat".

It is true that in view of candidates for the 1926 squads, the Southern Californians have an edge on other coast aggregations. No other university can point to twenty-one returning lettermen to form the nucleus of its outfit. The Trojans alone have a group of thirteen monogram men who have played together since freshmen. On top of this are twelve men who worked under Coach Jones last season without making letters and twenty-four numeral men from the 1925 freshman team which went undefeated through a program including a battle with the Stanford yearlings and meetings with two college teams.

Faces Real Tests Early

But not another team is forced to face its two greatest rivals on consecutive Saturdays in October—only a month after the season opens. If Southern California does succeed in winning from California at Berkeley on October 23 and Stanford here the afternoon of October 30, fans believe that the title situation will be just about settled that early in the season in spite of the fact that the Oregon Aggies, Idaho and Montana are still on the program. Then the Trojans must defeat Notre Dame to complete an all-victorious season, and this is no easy task.

With the possible exception of Stanford, who lost Nevers and Mitchell, there isn't a team on the Trojan schedule which even on paper is weaker than last season, U. S. C. football men state; and there rests no doubt in their minds but what Stanford, despite losses, will put a greater team on the field this season than last. Washington State, Oregon Aggies, Idaho and Montana have almost man to man, practically the same teams as in 1925. California starts with nineteen veterans, including twelve letter men; Stanford returns twenty-four from last year's squad, of whom thirteen are wearers of the Cardinal "S".

"Among Those Present"

Here is the list of material upon which these claims of "Southern California is the team to beat" are based:

Ends: Morris Badgro, Al Behrendt and Jim Moser, 1925 letter men; Gene Dorsey, letter man of 1924, who was out last season; Hugh Edwards, Fred Manlove and Ted Coffman from 1925 squad; and Larry Diehl, Howard Fallor and Maynard Taylor of last season's frosh outfit.

Tackles: Kenneth Cox, Bill Friend, Al Scheving, Clarke De Groote and Don Cruickshank, letter men last year; Jack Westcott, Sam Yocum and Henry Oudermueien, of 1925 squad; and Jesse Hibbs, Gene Beatie, Marion Morrison and Bill Bradbury, former freshmen.

Guards: Brice Taylor and Ted Gorrell, letter men, and Lloyd Hershberger, of 1925 squad; and Oliver White, Alvin Schaub, Hilton McCabe and Clayton Philips, from Freshman team.

Centers: Captain Jeff Cravath and Lyle Baldridge, letter men, and George Smith; and John Fox, frosh star last season.

Backs: Morton Kaer, Morley Drury, Manual Laraneta, Bob Lee, Charles Boren, Howard Elliott and Field Thompson, 1925 letter men; Bert Heiser, 1924 letter man; Don Williams of 1924 frosh squad; Vic Orsatti, Charles Galindo, Vic Phillips and Henry Worsley, from 1925 team; and Lloyd and Max Thomas, Hersh Bonham, Bill Ford, Lowry McCaslin, John Porter, Dick Ryan, George Templeton, Jack Wells and Donald Elliott, from freshman ranks.

Mid-West Football Teams To Invade Eastern States For Important Games

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept., 15.—Despite recent campaigns to do away with intersectional athletics, providing for long trips by athletic teams, the midwest's football schedule for this season reveals a large number of games between sectional rivals.

Notre Dame, the eleven noted for its traveling, will play the Army in New York and in addition will figure in intersectional clashes with Southern California, Penn State, Georgia Tech and Carnegie Tech.

Illinois, minus the great Grange, will attempt to repeat its sensational victory of last season over the University of Pennsylvania eleven. The eastern eleven will journey to Urbana, Ill., for a return game October 30.

University of Michigan will invade the effete east for a game with Annapolis October 30 and will play Oklahoma A. & M. in another intersectional tilt at Ann Arbor on October 2.

Ohio State will play Columbia in a return contest in New York October 16, while Purdue will clash with the Navy at Annapolis October 2.

Florida will play Chicago on Stagg field here October 2 and two weeks later Stagg's men will journey to Philadelphia to battle Pennsylvania.

Nebraska, the always strong mid-western eleven, will combat the powerful University of Washington eleven in Seattle November 25. Last year the two teams played a tie-game at Lincoln, Neb., earlier in the season New York university plays Nebraska at Lincoln.

Attracting more attention among middlewestern fans than any of the above inter-country games will be the Army-Navy contest in Chicago November 27.

ELLWOOD CITY LACKS PUNCH

ancient trick on Cunningham, the "hidden ball stunt," this occurred in the fourth inning after Cunningham had reached first base on a hard hit liner that Kimes couldn't handle. Cunningham was caught fast asleep and with both feet on the ground, and it also made Jamison look bad, this chap doing the choaching at first base. Connie Wardman in fact had a severe headache before the game was over and he had a perfect right too.

Efforts Wasted

Ellwood City lost a fine opportunity to tally in the seventh inning when they found Kimes for two hits but again they "got lost" when they reached the bases and their efforts were wasted.

Kirker and Kimes both pitched a steady game and the victory gained by the New Castle team was not justly earned in the real sense of the word, due to the fact that several of the New Castle tallies could have been cut off with any kind of support behind the left-handed heaving of the popular New Castle artist.

Buzzard and McCullough were the leading sluggers for the New Castle crew, the former with a double and a single and McCullough with a triple and single, while Kirker and M. Sanders were the best stickers for the Ellwood City aggregation.

The third game of the series will be played in New Castle on Thursday evening at six o'clock at Centennial field, and Ellwood City will fight to the last ditch to save the series and championship from floating into the county seat. This much came from Connie Wardman following the defeat last night.

Notre Dame Faces Hard Grid Schedule

International News Service Staff Correspondent

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Sept. 15.—Two red-headed captains and a wealth of experienced material would be tantamount to another national championship in most schools but out here where men are football players and women are nil, Coach Knute Rockne is passing the hours in stupified forethought, weighing the possibilities of "impending defeat."

Rockne faces another formidable schedule with a small team handicapped by the conspicuous scarcity of threat men. And threat men are to Notre Dame's football success what bats are to big leaguers—necessary, imperative, indispensible.

Notre Dame stumbled thru last year's campaign with only an iota of the phenomenal success which rewarded the exploits of the famous Four Horsemen in 1924. In comparison with the material at hand, last year's accomplishments were remarkable despite the unenthusiastic appraisals of Rockne himself.

But the ponies of 1925 would have been much more successful had they had a threat man similar to Elmer Layden of the Four Horsemen, or Paul Castner. Men of this type do away with the downright digging, which alone made last year's team better than fair, in spite of a tie and two defeats.

When Rockne assembles his proteges on September 15, the date set of the initial practice, he will marshall his rejuvenated coaching staff for an inexhaustive and concentrated search for embryo threat men and inaugurate an extensive program of personal instruction for them. If these plans bear plausible results, Rockne sees hope for another unusual football team. Otherwise, tag your own baggage.

The wealth of experienced material Rockne will assemble for the first workout includes the 1925 squad minus four men—Capt. Clem Crowe, end; Dick Hanousek, guard and fullback; Joe McMullen, tackle; and Rex Enright, all-western fullback. Augmented by a number of reserves and freshmen from last year's squads, this outlay looks well nigh unbeatable, providing, of course, Rockne can find a threat man.

The outstanding candidate for this important role, according to the campusites, is Neimec, a member of last year's freshman squad, who is said to possess all the qualifications of a three way halfback, for he can kick, pass and run with the slipperyness of a Crowley or Miller.

The two captains, "Red" Hearndon and "Rew" Edwards, boys of fiery hair and winged heels, are the two leading candidates for backfield berths along with Christy Flannigan of Corpus Christy, Texas. Hearndon, who hails from Green Bay, Wis., and Flannigan are halfbacks; Edwards, whose folks pay taxes in West Virginia, is a quarterback from Kiski Prep., Harry Stuhledreher's old school, who came to Notre Dame just as Stuhledreher was riding out with the other horsemen.

Barring accidents and other misfortunes, Rockne's line should be capable of the task marked out for it. A number of great linemen are enrolled at Notre Dame, a few of which have already proved themselves. The shifting of Joe Maxwell, of Philadelphia, from center to end and the development of John "Ike" Voedisch, lanky, rugged scion from South Bend, who is playing his second year of varsity football at end, will attract much attention.

Rockne, as is his custom, whether it be good or bad, has arranged a formidable schedule which necessitates thousands of miles of travel and the playing of ten games between Oct. 2 and Dev. 4, when the season will be concluded in Los Angeles against the University of Southern California.

The team will play on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts and will pick among other schools, Minnesota, the Army, Georgia Tech, Penn State, Drake, Indiana, and U. of S. C.

Tagging All Bases

(International News Service)

Carl Mays pitched the Reds into first place by holding Brooklyn to five hits, winning 5 to 1. Mays pitched out of turn at his own request and easily won his 19th game of the season.

With Ray Kremer yielding only four hits, the first of which came in the seventh inning, the Pirates came to life and thrashed the Giants 5 to 0. The Corsairs put the game on ice in the first inning when they made four runs after two men were out and knocked McQuillan out of the box.

Hack Wilson, star outfielder of the Cubs, was hit behind the ear by a pitched ball and carried unconscious from the field as Chicago lost to the Phillies 5 to 4.

In the military jumping competitions in the recent Dublin horse show Switzerland was first, Ireland second and England third.

Title Bout Is Called Off By Illinois Board

Rosenberg - Taylor Bantamweight Championship Bout For Thursday Canceled.

By GENE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago fight fans were reeling today from the knockout blow administered by the Illinois Athletic commission when that body late yesterday announced that the Charley Rosenberg-Bud Taylor bantamweight title match had been declared off.

The fight was scheduled for Cubs Park tomorrow night. More than $50,000 worth of tickets had been sold.

Chairman O. W. Huncke of the boxing commission, who made the startling announcement said, the commission had called off the fight because champion Rosenberg and Harry Segal, his manager, had failed to post the forfeit, required by Illinois law.

Rosenberg and Segal were both suspended for life in Illinois, the commission further ruled, and declared that Bud Taylor would be looked upon in the future as the bantamweight champion of the world.

Chairman Huncke hinted that efforts of Rosenberg supporters including a group of New York and Chicago gamblers, to influence through political channels the appointment of a referee, had much to do with the commission's decision to call off the fight.

Identify Man As Bandit Car Driver

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15.—Identified by witnesses as the driver of the bandit car, Dominick Simone today faced trial for the murder of R. L. Gump, paymaster, who was killed during the $45,000 Pittsburgh Terminal Coal corporation payroll robbery at Mollenaur on December 24, 1925. The county grand jury returned a murder indictment against Simone.

Fifteen others were indicted for murder in the 15 true bills returned by the grand jury in addition to the Simone case.

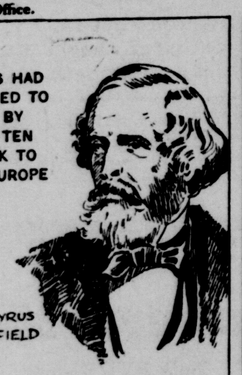
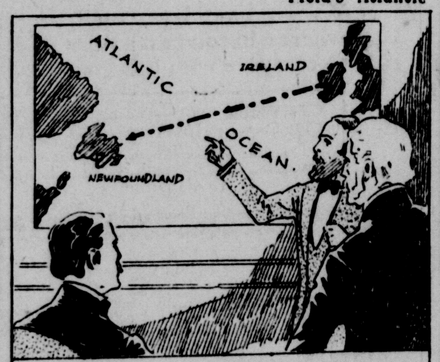
Field's Atlantic Cable Project.



IN 1854, AMERICANS HAD BECOME SO ACCUSTOMED TO RAPID COMMUNICATION BY TELEGRAPH THAT THE TEN DAYS OR MORE IT TOOK TO RECEIVE NEWS FROM EUROPE SEEMED A LONG TIME.

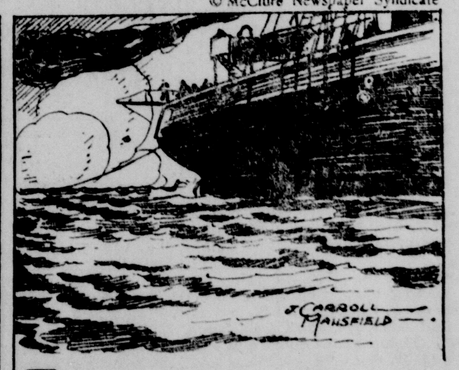
CYRUS FIELD

CYRUS W. FIELD, AN AMERICAN, BELIEVED THE LAYING OF A SUBMARINE TELEGRAPH CABLE ACROSS THE ATLANTIC COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED AND AROUSED THE INTEREST OF OTHERS IN THE PROJECT.



IN 1854 THE NEW YORK, NEWFOUNDLAND AND LONDON TELEGRAPH COMPANY WAS FORMED AND PREPARATIONS FOR LAYING THE LINE WERE BEGUN. THE CABLE WAS TO SPAN THE ATLANTIC FROM IRELAND TO NEWFOUNDLAND.

ON AUGUST 7, 1857, A SPECIALLY EQUIPPED STEAMER STARTED FROM IRELAND UNREELING THE CABLE. WHEN THE CABLE-SHIP WAS SEVERAL HUNDRED MILES AT SEA, THE LINE PARTED AND THE ATTEMPT WAS POSTPONED.



A SECOND ATTEMPT (1858) SUCCEEDED AND FOR 18 DAYS LONDON AND NEW YORK WERE IN COMMUNICATION BY WIRE. BUT AGAIN THE CABLE BROKE AND NO FURTHER EFFORT WAS MADE TO RESTORE THE LINE UNTIL 1865.

FORMER NEW CASTLE GRIDDER IS VISITING

"Bill" Cunningham, tackle of the California Normal football eleven last season, and formerly a member of Coach Phil Bridenbaugh's championship New Castle grid teams, is in Greenville at present visiting his brothers, Corl and De Wayne Cunningham. "Bill" played on the Greenville High school team four years ago, and later, when New Castle was made his home, he played tackle for two years while New Castle earned sectional championships.

This summer he spent at Chautauqua Lake. It is understood he has no definite plans for this fall and may enter Thiel—Greenville Record.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Industrial stocks promptly resumed their forward price movement in the early trading today. In addition to the continuation of short covering, buying was stimulated by the favorable report of railroad freight loadings. In the week of September 4 revenue freight loadings aggregated 1,151,346 cars, the largest in the history of American railroading.

Transactions for the treasury involving nearly a billion and a quarter dollars tied up a considerable volume of bank funds and call loan renewals remained at 5 per cent. Industrial rather than railroad stocks were the chief beneficiaries of the bullish report on freight traffic, the inference being a huge increase in domestic business of all kinds.

Though the leadership in the industrial group was assumed by General Motors and United States Steel, the stocks of the moving picture enterprises attracted considerable attention by their strength and activity. Fox film sold above 79, while Pathe, Famous Players and Warner Brothers were actively turned over at or near the highest prices of the year to date.

General Motors pushed up close to 150 in extremely heavy trading, this price being equivalent to 225 for the stock before selling ex-dividend 50 per cent stock. United States Steel gained more than a point to sell at 149⅝. American Smelting sold in volume above 150. Copper and oil stocks continued firm but railroad and equipment stocks were inactive and slightly irregular. Commodity markets were steady in the early trading.

Macedonians Issue Manifesto In London

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—A new and defiant manifesto has been issued here by the Macedonian Revolutionary Organization, whose activities have been responsible for much of the recent trouble in the Balkans.

The exact location of the society's headquarters in London is unknown, the communications of the revolutionaries bearing no return address.

The latest manifesto, signed by General Protogueroff, who succeeded Todor Alexandroff as head of the organization, declared that the revolutionary body will "persist in its struggle until it attains the autonomy of Macedonia, which has been the goal of the organization since its foundation."

"As regards the means by which this struggle will be conducted," Protogueroff declared, "it depends on the attitude of the present conquerors of Macedonia, whether they should be legal or illegal."

Bulgarian officials here have declined to discuss the manifesto, as the Macedonian problem in Bulgarian is such a serious one that it might flame up at any moment in civil war. The Macedonians have sought recently to again lay the Balkans minority problem before the League of Nations, but they have been dissuaded by the French and Italian governments, who are opposed to having the minority question raised anew at Geneva.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAYS NEWS

COUNT FELIX VON LUCKNER

The German "Sea Devil" is headed for the United States. This announcement would have caused some apprehension during the late war, but his present mission is to be a peaceful and harmless one. He is coming as a lecturer.

Count Felix Von Luckner

"Sea Devil" is the sobriquet that Count Felix von Luckner, commander of the German raider Seeadler (Sea Eagle) earned during the third year of the war, when he played the devil with commercial shipping in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Late in 1916 a German submarine captured the 2-800-ton American ship Pass of Balmaha, the property of a British lumber firm. The vessel was fitted out as a raider, with Captain von Luckner in command. The Seeadler flew the Norwegian flag. She had Norwegian papers and photographs of the royal Norwegian family adorned her cabins. Her crew of 68, from Captain von Luckner down, spoke Norwegian. And on her decks and in her hold she carried lumber.

Thus disguised, with two 105-millimetre guns and 16 machine guns and provisions and water to last her crew for four months, she sallied forth at the end of December, 1916, on a cruise of destruction. Within ten weeks she had sunk 13 French and British ships. The 14th, a French bark captured off the coast of South America, arrived in Rio de Janeiro with 300 prisoners, the crews of the other 13 vessels, aboard.

Thereafter von Luckner had little success. He sank two more allied ships, but on August 2 his vessel was wrecked in a hurricane on the coast of a South Sea island. A month later he was captured and interned at Wellington, N. Z. Until his release at the end of the war British authorities and officers treated him at all times with the respect and friendly feelings due a gallant enemy.

Captain Luckner will visit the U. S., and later circle the globe, in a ship of his own—a sailing vessel of the same type as the Seeadler. The funds for the purchase of the ship were raised by a nation-wide appeal, particularly to the young men and women of Germany.

KIWANIANS ADOPT NEW CONSTITUTION OF INTERNATIONAL

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Pa., Sept. 15.—The Kiwanis Club of Pennsylvania in session here yesterday afternoon unanimously adopted the new constitution and by-laws of the international organization, leaving open for amendment the question as to whether each club shall be represented in convention by three delegates instead of one, as at present.

The committee on resolutions is now drafting a measure which voices the objections of clubs with small membership to the three delegate proposition. Tomorrow the annual election of officers will be held and the convention place for next year selected.

"The Slick Guy"

Nearly every one of us has seen the checkered-suit person with the velvet tongue. How smoothly he once told of the merits of this product or that—and raked in perfectly good coin for purchases that were often worthless.

The "slick guy" is seldom seen today. When the wise person goes to buy, he knows what is good in value and fair in price.

Simply by glancing over the advertisements in your paper, you can see where to go for the best buys. You can compare values and check up prices without even stirring from your easy chair. You know in advance just what you are going to get and how much it will cost. And you can have the satisfaction that comes from knowing your money is wisely and safely spent.

Nowadays, no one need be at the mercy of the "slick guy." There are still a few people who fail to read the advertisements—and "take a chance." Don't be one of them.

Advertised products are safe buys.

Makes Progress On State Street

Several Other Improvements Are Under Way, Miller Reports.

F. F. Miller, city engineer, today stated that the State street paving project is progressing rapidly and that excavation is under way. The local water company is laying 800 feet of pipe and the P-O Electric company is lowering their crossing at State and Sampson streets.

Miller stated that the city would resurface the portion between the rails and when the Sharon-New Castle railway is abandoned and the rails removed the section would be properly paved.

Street department employes are resurfacing Terrace avenue and contractors are excavating and setting curb, incidental to paving Fairfield avenue.

Junior High street is being graded and the Harmony Railway company has been ordered to lower their track to grade at Allen and Taylor streets.

Dates Fixed For Civil Court Terms

Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning fixed the dates on which common pleas court will be held during 1927. A venire is to issue to summon eighty jurors to attend each session. Court is to convene on Monday of each week as follows: January 17th, February 14th, February 21st, April 4th, April 11th, April 25th, May 2nd, October 10th, October 17th, October 31st and November 14th.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Ladies Auxiliary
There will be a regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday evening, 7:30 p. m. in the Legion Home. All members are urged to attend this meeting as many events have been planned for the fall season and the assistance of every member is needed to make them a success.

Ladies' Aid Society
Ladies' Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran church will have an all day quilting at the church Thursday. The first dinner of the fall will be served at noon.

A. U. R. Girls
The first fall meeting of the A. U. R. Girls of the Central Presbyterian church was held Tuesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Roy E. Graham, of Northview avenue, with Mrs. Jay L. Reed and Miss Helen Kyle as joint hostesses.
Miss Sara Rice acted as leader, conducting an interesting program. The Foreign Topic "Outlook for the Year" was discussed by Miss Mary Ramsey, and the National Topic "The Younger Generation" by Miss Theodore Pollock.
After the regular business meeting a social time was enjoyed. Miss Alice Nelson favored the girls with several beautiful piano numbers. The hostesses were assisted in serving dainty refreshments by Miss Ethel Moore and Miss Nelson, who were both special guests.
The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday evening October 12th, at the home of Mrs. Henry Bratschie, of Elm street.

First Baptist.
Section 4 of the First Baptist Missionary society will have a tureen luncheon Friday at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. C. Fralick, Norwood avenue.

L. L. O. L.
Martha Washington No. 20, L. L. O. L. will have a business meeting in their hall Thursday evening.

The higher you get, the more you are menaced by lightning—but this isn't true of white lightning.

Prosecutor To Pay Two-Thirds Cost

Mike Zuzza, charged with aggravated assault and battery, was found not guilty by a jury at court Tuesday afternoon. Two-thirds of the costs were placed on Zuzza and one-third on John Fabina, the prosecutor. Fabina claimed that Zuzza had assaulted him at a dance hall on Moravia street.

C. E. Society To Have Corn Roast

Kirwin Hilbert, president of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church, has asked that the following young people meet with him on Thursday evening at 7:30 at the church. Those included are Mr. and Mrs. Reed McCullough, Mrs. J. M. Woods, Lois White, Martha Matthews, Alvin Hemphill and Mrs. Howard Wilson.
At this meeting plans will be made for a corn roast on September 24.

With New Castle Afro-Americans

P. L. D. Reading Circle
Members of the P. L. D. Reading Circle were entertained Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ella Cole of Green street. The president, Mrs. Blanche Dillard was in charge of the devotionals assisted by Mrs. Mabel Taylor. Eighteen members responded to roll call.
A pleasing program was carried out with Mrs. Mabel Gardner as leader, "Domestic Science" was the subject for discussion. Papers were read on the subject by Mrs. Rebecca Baker, Mrs. Julia Wilkes and Mrs. Mary Almon.
Mrs. Gardner read a list of sixty different pies. Mrs. Julia Wilkes won the prize of an egg beater for writing the highest number of pies and Mrs. Julia Fitzhugh won an aluminum pan by writing the least number of pies. Mrs. Gertrude Anderson and Beulah Donnell were special guests.
Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her grand daughter, Beulah Donnell.

Opens Branch In New Castle

Believing in the possibilities of the electrical appliance sale to homes in this vicinity the Service Appliance Company, a very large retail home appliance company has opened a branch in this city at 337 East Washington street. This company in the past three years has opened branches in about 100 cities.
E. G. Haines is the manager of the local store and he comes here with a wealth of knowledge about electrical appliances. He will be in direct charge of the selling force from the local branch.

Senator Broussard Appears Winner

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—Renomination of Senator Edwin E. Broussard, Democrat, appeared probable on the basis of returns from all sections of the state today.
With the city count complete and 831 out of 1,084 precincts in the parish reported, Senator Broussard was leading his opponent, J. Y. Sanders, by a majority of 4,307 votes.
J. Zach Spearing has been renominated for Congress from the second district by a commanding majority over three opponents, virtually complete returns showed this morning.

Everybody wonders whether Coolidge will run again—except, perhaps, the few men who decide such things.
